Moriarity Gets Life for 'Abortion Slaying'

PUT FINAL TOUCH ON BIGGEST TAX BILL IN HISTORY

Hits Broadcasting and Billboards.

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—The steepest tax bill in the nation's history, a $3,529,200,000 measure increasing income, corporation and excise levies, and taxing commercial radio broadcasts and billboards for the first time, was approved finally tonight by the house ways and means committee.

The bill will go to the house for consideration and undoubted passage next week under strict parliamentary procedure barring any amendments except such as the committee may approve. Unlimited changes may be made, however, when the measure reaches the senate.

New surtaxes were voted on individual incomes ranging from 5 per cent on the first dollar of taxable income up to 75 per cent on incomes over $5,000,000. The treasury estimated that these will yield $1,152,000,000. The filing of separate returns by husbands and wives to escape the surtaxes was prohibited.

Treasury Estimates Yields.

The treasury estimated that $1,322,900,000 will be produced by the higher excess profits taxes and surtaxes on corporations, $902,400,000 by manufacturers' and other excise taxes, and $151,900,000 from estate and gift tax increases.

The proposed tax on radio broadcasting is to be levied on net time sales in excess of $100,000 annually. The rates are to be graduated from 5 per cent on sales between $100,000 and $500,000 to 10 per cent from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and 15 per cent above $1,000,000.

Persons in the business of renting billboard space to others will be required to pay an occupational tax of $5 annually on each billboard of 300 square feet or less; $8 on those between 300 and 600 square feet and $11 on all over 600 square feet.

Candy and Gum Untaxed.

The committee eliminated a proposed 10 per cent manufacturers' excise tax on cutlery, estimated to produce $5,000,000, and proposed levies on candy and chewing gum which would have raised $18,200,000. It also dropped a proposed 10 per cent tax on metal signs which earlier had been included with one on electric signs.

A new yacht tax is proposed under which yachts between 28 and 50 feet long will pay $10 annually; 50 to 150 feet, $40; 100 to 150 feet, $100; 150 to 200 feet, $150, and those over 200 feet, $200. It is estimated these levies will produce $200,000 annually.

Estate tax rates previously agreed upon were increased further to produce an additional $38,000,000. The rates start at 3 per cent on estates up to $5,000 and increase progressively to 70 per cent on estates over $10,000,000.

Other Levies Increased.

Higher excises were approved on tires, tubes, admissions, cabarets, club dues, autos, trucks, buses, and parts, radios, phonographs and records and musical instruments, mechanical refrigerators, matches and telephone and telegraph charges.

It was announced that an effort was made in the committee to exempt some musical instruments from the tax increases, but was defeated.

ASSURANCES

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany—President Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

"As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

JURY CONVICTS POLICEMAN OF SHOOTING GIRL

A jury of five men and seven women in the Criminal court of Judge John Sbarbaro last night found Policeman Daniel Moriarity, suspended member of State's Attorney Courtney's staff, guilty of the murder of Ada Jane [Jennie] Martin, and fixed his punishment at life imprisonment. The verdict was reached at 10:05 p. m., after five hours and 55 minutes of deliberation.

Daniel Moriarity.

Moriarity's daughters, Marie, 16 years old, and Margaret, 14, and his adopted daughter, Joan Griffen, 22, were seated in the courtroom when the verdict was read, altho the defendant earlier had urged them to go home. All three screamed and collapsed, sobbing. They were led from the half deserted room, which had been packed with spectators a few hours earlier, by Moriarity's brother, Joseph, and the latter's wife.

Moriarity covered his face with his hands. His chest heaved.

Victim's Mother Upset.

Mrs. Ada Martin, alleged head of an abortion ring and mother of the slain girl, ran from the courtroom, crying, "It's terrible! It's terrible!" She did not explain her meaning.

The state had asked the death penalty for Moriarity, but Richard B. Austin and Alex Napoli, assistant state's attorneys, described the verdict as satisfactory. Albert Lipman, assistant to Defense Attorney James M. Burke, called it a "moral victory" and entered a motion for a new trial, which was continued until Tuesday. Burke was not in court.

Miss Martin, who was 24, was shot to death April 29 in her home at 4367 Lake Park avenue. Moriarity confessed that he went to the Martin home to silence Ada Jane's mother, who is accused by the state of being the head of a million dollar abortion ring, and that he shot the daughter by mistake. The confession said Mrs. Martin had threatened to expose graft payments which Moriarity admitted taking from Mrs. Martin and passing on to two assistant state's attorneys, since discharged by State's Attorney Courtney. They are Emmett Moynihan and Morris G. Meyers.

Plea for Acquittal.

Attorney Burke pleaded for acquittal in final arguments yesterday afternoon, contending that Moriarity was insane when he killed Miss Martin, citing his attempts to commit suicide after the slaying.

Prosecutor Austin, on the other hand, pictured the policeman as a cold blooded murderer.

Albert Wilson, 51, of 440 North Lavergne avenue, foreman of the jury, said that 15 ballots were taken before a verdict was reached. It was reported that two of the women jurors originally favored an insanity finding. Others thought Moriarity was not guilty, while at least two thought he should go to the electric chair.

After discussing the insanity plea the jurors agreed that Moriarity had been sane, Wilson said. Life imprisonment was a compromise decision favored over a sentence of 35 to 40 years. With good behavior, Moriarity will be eligible for parole in about 20 years. He is 40 years old.

WEDS—BUT GETS NO BRIDEGROOM, ONLY A RECEIPT

BRUSSELS, Belgium, July 23 (AP).—Maria Louise Cantingnaiaux became a bride recently in the little village of Trivieres by taking some signed documents in place of a groom. Her husband, Lieut. Camille la Force, sat thru the ceremony 400 miles away in a Bavarian prison camp. A friend of his, Paul Dubuy, the village schoolmaster, turned over the documents as soon as they arrived from the camp, making the wedding legal.

THE WAR MONGERS WHO ARE TRYING TO GET THE REST OF THE NATION INTO EUROPEAN AND ASIATIC WARS

ACCUSE CAPITAL WIDOW OF THEFT

When Gem Sales Fail She Pawns Them.

New York, July 23 [Special].—Mrs. Margaret Boyle, a Washington widow 48 years old, was in Felony court here today because of what her attorney called the dreadful mistake of believing she was a business woman.

Jack Blauweiss, a jeweler, charged Mrs. Boyle, daughter of the late C. C. McChord, former chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, with the theft of diamonds, sapphires, and other jewelry valued at $54,000. Mrs. Boyle was held in $2,500 bail for hearing next Tuesday.

List of Her Clients.

According to Blauweiss, Mrs. Boyle gave him an impressive list of capital friends and acquaintances as prospective buyers. She included James Roosevelt, son of the President; Bernard Baruch, financier; Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the commerce secretary, and Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, widow of the Illinois senator.

The jeweler said he gave gems valued at $33,000 to her on a memorandum and that she paid for them in due time and obtained more from time to time until she had obtained $90,000 worth by July 8.

When a diamond necklace, diamond brooch, sapphire ring, and sapphire pin turned up in three New York pawnshops Blauweiss started prosecution. More of the jewelry has been pawned in Alexandria, Va., a capital suburb.

Fails to Make Sales.

Assistant District Attorney Harold X. McGowan said Mrs. Boyle remitted most of the money she obtained from pawn shops to Blauweiss when she failed to make sales to any of her Washington contacts. Preston M. Neilson, her lawyer, explained to Magistrate Peter Abeles that she pawned the jewels because she was embarrassed by failure to make promised sales.

Knudsen Assails Henderson's 50 Pct. Cut in Auto Output

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Washington, D. C., July 23.—Price Fixer Leon Henderson, long time New Dealer of radical leanings, ran into stiff and vociferous opposition on two occasions today. Before the senate committee investigating the arms program Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.] told Henderson to his face that he was "a dangerous figure, a threat," and asked whether his price fixing methods were not actually "a polite system of blackmail."

William S. Knudsen.

The other setback for the price fixer, who is operating under an executive order from the President, pending consideration next week of legislation to give him specific authority, came from William S. Knudsen, director general of the Office of Production Management.

Knudsen told a press conference that "he supposed Henderson had some good ideas," but that the price fixer's proposed 50 per cent cut in automobile production was not final and still awaits the result of consultation with industry representatives here.

First Public Clash.

The Knudsen-Henderson disagreement was the first public friction between two of the important agencies created to facilitate the arms program.

"The cut will be discussed and negotiated," Knudsen said. "When you cut off 50 per cent, tho, you have a lot of people walking the streets. I think we'll have to go about it in a sort of compromise way, with industry taking off some automobiles and going ahead with defense work."

Henderson, who is head of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, clashed with Connally after Henderson had started a discussion of his price fixing theories before the senate arms committee. Connally broke in to say:

"You're not going to fix prices on refrigerators. You just think you are, but you're not."

"I'll lay you a little bet on that," Henderson replied.

"You mean," countered Connally, "that you are going to do it whether congress gives you authority or not?"

Claims He Has Authority.

"I've got the authority now," said Henderson. He added that he was exercising the same powers wielded by Bernard Baruch during the world war—powers which he said were never questioned in two senate investigations.

"Well," said Connally, "I want to see it. You may have the authority, but if so you have more power than any other man in the United States, including the President. You have the power to destroy our economy or maintain it."

Connally then asked about shoes, and when Henderson conceded he had not fixed shoe prices, Connally suggested that New England shoe manufacturers would not permit it.

Henderson's Not "Scared."

"You imply," said Henderson, "that I don't do it because I'm scared."

"Oh, you're not scared," said Connally. "You just don't feel like doing it."

Connally next inquired whether Henderson intended to fix wages, asserting he did not favor price fixing for farm products unless wages also were fixed.

Henderson replied that he does not consider that he has power to fix wages, interest rates, public utility rates, or transportation rates.

"Isn't your system of price fixing just a polite system of blackmail?" Connally inquired.

"No, sir," replied Henderson. "It is a much deeper thing than that."

France Put to Work

VICHY, France, July 23 (AP).—A 48 hour week for many French industries was established by government decree today. Previously the work week for most industries was 40 hours.

GERMANS ADMIT BIG BATTLES FOR GATE TO MOSCOW

Battles raged at close quarters for the Smolensk gateway to Moscow, the Germans admitted yesterday. The Nazis had said they took Smolensk on July 16; the Russians declare they still hold it. The Russians said their positions remained unchanged in all sectors, tho they admitted the fighting in the south now is within 85 miles of Kiev, the Ukrainian capital.

The Russians announced mass air attacks on German mechanized units and airdromes. The Germans said many casualties were inflicted upon the Russians.

German bombers raided Moscow for the third straight night. The Reds said they had shot down 10 per cent of the German raiders on Monday and Tuesday nights.

The Tribune's correspondent in Finland reported Finns and Germans have advanced 80 miles in Russia from central eastern Finland.

15,000 Enlist in France for War on Russia

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, July 23.—Fifteen thousand French volunteers have joined a legion to fight bolshevism alongside the Germans and soon will be sent to the Russian front, it was learned today. The volunteer legion will constitute a full French division and, according to a statute published today, it will serve under Adolf Hitler as commander in chief of the "allied armies fighting against bolshevism."

Participation of this French division does not represent official French intervention in the war against Russia, altho France officially has severed relations with the soviet. The volunteer organization was authorized by the French government in response to an appeal from the French central committee organizing the struggle against bolshevism.

Ten thousand volunteers have joined the legion from occupied France and 5,000 from the unoccupied zone. They probably will be mobilized early next week and sent to the front early in August.

French Arms to Be Used.

The French legionnaires will wear regular French army uniforms, but with different designations of rank. Uniforms and arms will be supplied by the Germans from French supplies seized during last year's campaign in France. Privates will earn 52 cents a day, plus 44 cents a day as a combat premium. Lieutenants will receive $1.25 a day, plus the same combat premium. The volunteers range between 18 and 40 years of age.

Departure of the French legion for the front will mean that French soldiers will be fighting alongside German soldiers in a common cause less than two years after the outbreak of the war between France and Germany.

Nine European nations are participating in the war against bolshevism with volunteer legions fully organized as such, or are contributing volunteers to regular units. These nations are Spain, Portugal, France, Belgium, Holland, Croatia, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden. Nine nations also officially are at war with Russia, namely Germany, Italy, Hungary, Rumania, Slovakia, Finland, Latvia, Estonia, and Lithuania.

Parallel to Napoleonic War.

French authorities estimated the various volunteer legions would total about 100,000 men.

Participation of these nations in the German war against Russia parallels Napoleon's campaign against Russia 129 years ago. Napoleon's army was made up of Poles, Italians, Saxons, Prussians, Austrians, and others who then were under French domination.

A statute covering organization of the French legion specified that French officials always will be in command. The volunteers, who enlist for a definite period, must give proof that they are not Jews. All are former soldiers. Younger recruits who have not seen any military service are being accepted as drivers, secretaries, and cooks.

French civilian truck drivers are being employed by the Germans to drive trucks from northern France to the Russian front. They earn as much as $110 a month.

ARMY DEMANDS FREE HAND ON USE OF TROOPS

Extension of Service Held Insufficient.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 23.—The war department, representing the views of President Roosevelt, demanded anew today that congress give the President power to send United States armed forces anywhere in the world.

The new resolution which congress is asked to adopt would, in addition to giving the President AEF powers, declare the existence of a national emergency and would freeze draftees, National Guardsmen, and reservists into the army for the duration of the emergency.

The army high command rejected as too narrow the measures pending in the senate and house to provide for lengthening the terms of the citizen soldiers. These measures would limit their use to the western hemisphere, except when they consent to be sent elsewhere.

Word of the war department's rejection of this proposed legislation was received late this afternoon by Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], chairman of the senate military affairs committee.

Marshall Heard in Secret.

At about the same time, Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was testifying in secret before the house military affairs committee and was reported to be strongly urging passage of the war department's measure.

Altho the text of the new proposal was withheld, it was said on high authority to be identical in language with the original measure which Gen. Marshall submitted to congress two weeks ago in testifying before the senate committee. It would place congress on record as declaring:

"That the national interest and welfare of the United States are gravely imperiled by the international situation; that a national emergency exists, and that the President is hereby empowered to employ the armed land forces of the United States in excess of those of the regular army in the national defense subject only to existing limitations governing the employment of the regular army.

Viewed as War Footing.

Passage of such a resolution would, in effect, place the temporary soldiers on the same footing with the regular army and would keep them there as long as the President or congress deemed the emergency to exist. Thus, it was said, the way would be paved for an AEF for use in Europe or Asia or both.

According to legal experts, it also would place the United States virtually on a war footing.

Submission of the war department's measure climaxes a veritable parade of proposed legislation from the White House to Capitol hill thru which the administration is seeking to remove restrictions on the organization and use of the armed forces. Mr. Roosevelt gave his blessing to Gen. Marshall's proposal in the original form but quickly backed away from it on being informed by his congressional leaders that opponents of the move would overwhelm him.

Expect New Roosevelt Plea.

When he abandoned the AEF project the President announced that his chief concern was in keeping the citizen soldiers under arms. He declared that he had no further interest in increasing the number of draftees or in lifting hemispheric restrictions on their use.

Informed sources predicted, however, that Mr. Roosevelt would shortly be back reiterating his earlier demands. For one thing, they said, passage of an unlimited emergency resolution would constitute a vote of confidence in his foreign policy.

These sources now assert the proposal handed Senator Reynolds today bears them out. They note that the President is commander in chief of the army and they profess doubts that the army high command would offer so sweeping a request without at least the tacit consent of the White House.

The war department's rejection of the pending measures had been forecast earlier in the day when Gen. Marshall testified before the house committee in a public session which preceded the long secret hearing.

Advocating the freezing of the soldiers in the armed forces, he urged removal of congressional restrictions and suggested that congress trust to his good faith in matters of military policy.

Also during his testimony, the anger of the high command over protests addressed to members of congress by draftees and National Guardsmen objecting to extensions of their terms of service flared into the open.

Gen. Marshall charged the protests were engineered by outside sources in "sabotage of the worst kind." He warned that the army will take steps to prevent future infractions of regulations forbidding efforts of men in the service to influence legislation.

"We cannot long ignore these things," he asserted. "We cannot have a political club and call it an army. We're going to have to begin treating these men like soldiers pretty soon."

Repeats Previous Testimony.

Gen. Marshall largely repeated his previous testimony before a senate committee on the same legislation, renewing his warning that the army will disintegrate if draftees and Guardsmen are permitted to return home after completing the year's training which congress provided for last year.

The general complained that the controversy over the indefinite extension of terms of service for the soldiers has added to the high command's problems. The command, he said, has been like fish in a gold fish bowl, with its every action examined and criticized.

"It is hard to build an army under these circumstances," he said. "The boys are only human. They read the newspapers. But despite this continual agitation we came out of the winter with the best morale in history."

Reads Gen. Drum's Order.

At this point Marshall led into his charges of sabotage in connection with the protests over the term extension which have come from the army. He read a radiogram which had been dispatched by Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the 1st army, to his officers ordering rigid enforcement of army regulations prohibiting the signing of petitions by soldiers in efforts to oppose the pending legislation.

"I regard these moves as sabotage of the worst kind," Gen. Marshall said. "I don't want to be responsible for an army organized under these conditions. And I don't want to see the young men victimized by outside sources."

He brought the axis powers into the discussion when he warned that the reports of difficulty in organizing the United States army are being circulated in Latin American countries in a "campaign of distortions and false impressions."

Garrison Problems Cited.

Thru a prepared analysis of protests over the proposed extension of service, he also sought to show that foreign influences are opposed to the legislation. Out of 241 protests, he said, there were many post cards with the same language, including a block which came from a group in Brooklyn of German ancestry.

The relief of outlying garrisons was cited by Gen. Marshall as one of the reasons why the men should be kept in service longer than one year. The garrison at Trinidad is scheduled to be relieved Sept. 16 and the new units must leave this country by Aug. 18. Both the present garrison and the relief units contain draftees and National Guardsmen who are scheduled to be demobilized soon. The same problem applies to Alaska and Hawaii, he added. Beside the organization of the garrisons there is also the problem of obtaining ships for transportation if the men must be moved back and forth.

Recalls Earlier Demands.

As he had testified before senate military committee, Gen. Marshall told the house group that he requested a year ago that the draft legislation provide for 18 months, that he agreed to accept 15 months as an absolute minimum, and that he finally took 12 months in order to get the draft act passed.

Chairman Andrew J. May [D., Ky.] of the house committee, said the hearings probably will last three days, with a report ready for introduction on the house floor by early next week.

Then, speaking apparently without knowledge of the war department's rejection of the pending measure, he said the resolution finally reported probably will be stronger than the limited emergency resolution which was up today. He said the committee report probably will declare the existence of "a situation imperiling the safety of the nation." However, he added, before the committee acts, it will obtain opinions from the attorney general's office and the office of the judge advocate general of the army on the possible effects of such a measure.

Non-Interventionists and War Shouters Debate Moves That May Involve U. S.

Lifetime Subjection

Stamford, Conn., July 23 (AP).—Philip La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin, said in an address before an America First Committee rally tonight that Britain expects American troops to aid in holding the German people in subjection for a generation.

"Lord Halifax, in his New York speech before the Pilgrims society, and Sir Robert Vansittart tell us what they propose after the war shall have been won with an AEF," La Follette asserted. "America's rôle for a generation to come will be simply this: To place 80 million Germans in a gigantic concentration camp and stand guard over them until the whole of the present generation will have died.

"This, then, is how the ruling class of Great Britain envisions our rôle in carrying the 'four freedoms' to Europe at a cost of millions of American lives and the bankruptcy of the American people."

La Follette denounced what he described as steps toward American intervention and asserted that "the startling occupation of Iceland, which places our boys side by side with belligerent British troops in a proclaimed war zone, is typical of the subterfuge used by the interventionists in sneaking around solemn pledges again and again made to the nation."

Willkie Tells Confusion

Los Angeles, Cal., July 23 [Special].—Wendell L. Willkie said critics of the armament program were right in saying it was in danger and that Washington was in confusion and called on the people tonight to urge their congressmen to make the wheels go around faster.

Beginning a personal drive for national unity, Willkie said President Roosevelt had failed in the most elementary task of management calling in the ablest men in the country and giving them power to act. He added that he believed the United States soon would begin convoying ships to England.

"We don't want to have to escort our merchant ships thru the perilous waters of the North Atlantic, but the defense and strengthening of freedom is going to require that," he said. "And where the strengthening and defense of freedom requires that we act, let us act like Americans.

"We must get the kind of management we want, not thru petty criticism, but thru the application of the enormous pressure of American public opinion, insisting that a good job be done."

Taking issue with those who have criticized President Roosevelt for assuming additional powers, Willkie said it was the clear intention of the founders of this country that in emergencies the President should lead, meet and solve situations in which is involved the safety and strength of freedom.

Nye Asks 'Reason'

Detroit, Mich., July 23 [Special].—Addressing an America First committee rally in Detroit tonight, Senator Gerald F. Nye condemned the proposed retention of drafted men in the army, stating that a low state of morale exists in the armed forces. He attributed the deficiency to idleness, lack of training facilities and want of knowledge about the national emergency which has been declared.

"The degree of the emergency confronting the Americas today is not much more than the Americas themselves make it," he said. "If we will but let reason and truth, rather than fear and hate, be the basis of our thinking, we can avoid the destruction of every country that enters the war.

"A year ago we borrowed from the ways of dictators the thing called peace-time conscription. We proposed then to take young men for a period of training; definitely assured them that they would be held in the service for not more than one year.

"Now comes the President and the interventionists with the demand that the boys be kept beyond a year and that the President be enjoined, thru declaration by congress of a national emergency, to use the boys anywhere he may choose.

"If congress complies with these wishes, then congress will have broken faith with the boys and with their parents, and with itself."

2 NEW PARALYSIS CASES IN AREA OF CAMP FORREST

Tullahoma, Tenn., July 23 [Special].—Two new cases of infantile paralysis were reported today in Coffee county, in which Camp Forrest, huge army training center, is located. They raised to 23 the total number of cases in adjoining Franklin and Coffee counties.

Dr. A. E. Hardison, state epidemiologist, said two deaths have occurred and that two other victims are in a critical condition. He expressed concern over reports that the disease has spread across the northern Tennessee line and into Kentucky border counties.

According to Dr. Hardison, the disease has been spreading northward from Florida for several months. Early in July the spread had reached northern Alabama, where 68 cases were reported.

HOUSE APPROVES 244 MILLIONS FOR NAVY FACILITIES

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—Legislation authorizing additional naval shore facilities costing $244,268,500 was passed by the house today and sent to the senate.

Representative George J. Bates [R., Mass.], a naval committee member, told reporters that naval officials said more than a billion dollars would be needed later to complete the program of shore facilities adequate for a two ocean navy.

New stations authorized include a submarine base at Wake Island, a gulf coast area naval magazine, two naval air stations, one at Barbers point, Hawaii, the other at Whidby Island, Wash., and a new naval radio station at Cape May, N. J.

W-G-N PRESENTS GLIMPSES BEHIND LIFE IN U.S. ARMY

New Program Offered Each Wednesday.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Glimpses behind the scenes of the United States army were given in the first of a series of public service broadcasts on W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system yesterday. The new series, titled "Your Army," will be aired each Wednesday at 2 p. m.

In the initial broadcast yesterday, Capt. K. W. Mosher, commanding officer of the 6th corps area air corps detachment, acquainted listeners with various aspects of the training of army aviation cadets and their ground crews.

ROTC Will Be Covered.

Subsequent broadcasts will deal with the ROTC, the medical service, the clothing and feeding of soldiers, recreation, and many other elements that go into the composition of the army.

Capt. Mosher said the training of enlisted men to become pilots is expected to start soon. Administrative details for the procedure have not been disclosed, but the war department has approved the policy of permitting enlisted men to become pilots, he said.

The enlisted men selected for training as pilots must be high school graduates. They will be paid while learning, Capt. Mosher said, and after qualifying will receive appointments as flight sergeants, 3d class, with pay of $108 a month while on flight duty.

Capt. Mosher explained that the training of army pilots, 10 weeks for each of three phases, is going on at many fields. A new class of 4,500 men begins training every five weeks, he said.

52 Train at City Airport.

Capt. Mosher also outlined the work being carried on by the air corps detachment at the Chicago airport, where 52 enlisted men are in training. Seven new recruits are receiving basic training, 16 are attending technical schools, and the rest are assigned to mechanical and technical duties for which they are already trained.

This detachment, he said, serves as a reserve training unit for air corps reserve officers of inactive status, as a service unit for transient army planes, and for other activities as ordered by the commander of the corps area.

Next week W-G-N will present the "Your Army" broadcast from the ROTC encampment at Fort Sheridan.

FORMER TEACHER DIES AT 44.

Kingston, Ill., July 23 [Special].—Mrs. Guy Lanan, 44 years old, former schoolteacher, died at her home near here last night. She taught schools in Rock Island and DeKalb counties. Her husband and three children survive.

U.S. ARMY NEEDS MORE TRAINING IN FIELD, GEN. KRUEGER INSISTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

With the Cavalry in the New Mexican Desert, July 23.—The United States will have the army it needs if the training of the 1,500,000 troops now in service can be continued for at least six months and preferably another year, Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the 3d army, said today.

"Our men are a fine lot," he continued. "If we weld them into an effective military team, devoting all of our energies to that problem, they will be fit to meet any situation, come what may."

Declaring that he is not a statesman, but a professional soldier, Gen. Krueger would not comment upon the justice of keeping National Guardsmen and draftees in the army beyond the year of service for which they were inducted.

Seventeen thousand men of the 1st cavalry division and the 56th cavalary brigade, both units in Gen. Kruger's army of 300,000 men, are participating in the maneuvers 30 miles northeast of Fort Bliss, Tex.

TEXAS GOVERNOR VETOES DEATH IN SABOTAGE CASES

Austin, Tex., July 23 (AP).—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel today vetoed a bill making sabotage punishable by death, but said he intends to introduce a revised version in the United States senate.

O'Daniel, recently elected to succeed the late Senator Morris Sheppard, said his veto was based on conscientious objection to capital punishment, and because research had shown property damage from sabotage can be punished under 21 state and 11 federal statutes.

"As a safeguard," he said, "I intend to carry a copy of the bill with me to Washington and introduce it in the United States senate, changed only to the extent of providing a maximum penalty more severe than the death sentence—an irrevocable life sentence at hard labor."

BANKER HERGET OF PEKIN DIES.

Peoria, Ill., July 23 [Special].—William P. Herget, 72 years old, president of the Herget National bank, Pekin, died last night in Henrotin hospital, Chicago.

FARMERS ROUSED BY AAA LEADER'S PRO-NAZI CHARGE

Hit Back at 'Smear' Over Wheat Quota Fight.

Adrian, Mich., July 23 [Special].—A wave of resentment has spread over Michigan farm circles as a result of a charge made by an AAA regional director that protests against the New Deal's excess wheat penalty are inspired by pro-Nazi sentiments.

The accusation was made by Harry N. Schooler, a former South Dakota farmer and now director of the AAA north central region, in an address broadcast from a Detroit radio station Monday.

"It is significant to note," Schooler said, in criticizing opposition to AAA regulations "that wherever there is a concentration of farmers of German ancestry one finds this agitation to overthrow the work of the department of agriculture."

Farm Groups Indignant.

The ire of farmers who heard the broadcast was immediately aroused. The accusation was indignantly discussed at farm meetings. Protests were voiced by heads of farm organizations and by legislators. Farmers who had been lukewarm about the government marketing quota definitely turned against it.

"I don't know of a single man opposing the wheat penalty who isn't a loyal American farmer of the highest type," said State Senator Elmer Porter. "If a man by the name of Schooler made such remarks, they had better put him where they'll know where he is."

State Representative Fred Rodesiler, chairman of a meeting called by the Farmers Protective league to protest against the wheat penalty, said:

"We believe in America and not Hitler. What the farmers are doing is an American idea. We're fighting for the things that made this country great—free ideas and free thoughts."

Calls Charge Ridiculous.

Felix Witt, president of the Protective league, said that Schooler's charge was so ridiculous it "has an odor."

"I don't believe American farmers will take Schooler's charge lying down," observed Rollo Conlin, Protective league secretary. "We have some pretty good American citizens of German ancestry. It is characteristic to smear the opposition, but it is small business. There are bigger principles at stake. I don't believe congress itself knows the injustice being done."

CONGRESSIONAL PARTY INVITED TO VISIT ENGLAND

LONDON, July 23 (AP).—The Inter-Parliamentary union and the British council have invited a "representative party" of United States senators and representatives to visit Britain and study wartime conditions, it was learned tonight. The invitation, cabled thru the Inter-Parliamentary union in the United States, suggested the party might travel on bombers being delivered to Britain.

4 TO 1 ANTI-WAR VOTE CONTINUED IN LATE BALLOTS

Agrees with Final Poll Figure of 79.98 Pct.

More supporting evidence of the four-to-one desire of Illinois voters to remain out of the war was provided yesterday by the tabulation of 3,211 ballots returned after the closing of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S war poll on July 14.

These votes were not included among the 77,229 reported upon in the final compilations made in response to the question: "Shall the United States enter the war to help Britain defeat Hitler?"

79.98% Oppose War.

The results, however, coincide with the cumulative returns, as follows:

Yes [for war]: 605, or 18.84 per cent.

No [against war]: 2,568, or 79.98 per cent.

Spoiled ballots among the 3,211 totaled 38, or 1.18 per cent.

Chicago ballots among the last batch which will be reported upon contained a percentage of 81.22 against war. In the 30 country townships in Cook county, the noninterventionist sentiment was 82.40, while the nine downstate cities included in the poll turned in a 73.35 per cent opposition to joining Britain against Hitler.

Returns Total 31.24%.

The cumulative state-wide percentages on the grand total of 80,44C ballots were 18.84 for war, 79.98 against it, and 1.18 accounted for in spoiled ballots.

In receiving 80,440 ballots from the total of 257,484, the poll achieved a return of 31.24 per cent. Only one Chicago ward, the 24th, and one downstate city, Cairo, voted consistently for intervention.

WARNS REPUBLIC MAY BE LOST IF U. S. ENTERS WAR

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—Representative Lewis D. Thill [R-Wis.] declared tonight that Americans were united in opposition to entering another foreign war.

"Whether we can remain a republic depends almost entirely on whether we go to war or stay at peace," Thill said in a speech broadcast by the National Broadcasting company.

"Even many of the war group, who are today urging that we send our men, money, and materials to join forces with a foreign country, are honest enough to admit that the United States can not fight in this war and remain a republic," Thill said.

FRENCH YIELD BASES TO JAPS IN INDO-CHINA

Agreement Reported to Hanoi Consulates.

U. S. Navy Aid Seen

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 23.—After Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared Japanese charges of British designs upon Indo-China and Thailand [Siam] were false, and British sources declared a far eastern climax was expected within 24 hours, the Daily Express, owned by Lord Beaverbrook, minister of supply, tonight said:

"If Japan goes south she will meet the warships of the United States and British warships from Singapore."

BULLETIN.

SAIGON, French Indo-China, July 24 [Thursday] (AP).—Foreign consulates said today their representatives in Hanoi had been advised by the Indo-China government of a French-Japanese agreement granting the Japanese certain naval and military concessions in southern Indo-China.

These sources said the agreement had been reached by representatives of the Tokio and Vichy governments July 19, but details concerning its provisions could not be learned immediately.

While Saigon remained outwardly calm, Japanese authorities ordered the loading of Japanese boats halted and advised their nationals to stand by for evacuation if necessary.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, July 23.—An accord in principle between Japan and France concerning "temporary military measures" [bases] to be taken by Japan in French Indo-China is believed about to be reached in conversations now going on here, it was disclosed tonight.

The accord, French sources said, will assure the territorial integrity of Indo-China. Details will be worked out at Hanoi, capital of Indo-China, between the Japanese and French authorities on the spot after the agreement in principle is made. The French denied a report that Japan had issued an ultimatum to Vichy for the right to occupy Indo-China.

[An authorized statement circulated in Vichy by the Telemondial news agency admitted that Japan had demanded the right to take military measures in Indo-China, said another dispatch from Vichy. The measures were understood to include the granting of aviation and other bases in the southern area, where Japan now has none. A dispatch from Hanoi said it was believed France had virtually accepted Tokio's demands, which would establish the Japanese nearer Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies.]

French Accuse British.

Paris newspapers have been charging that the British were planning to seize Indo-China as they took Syria. They called for action to defend both Indo-China and French Somaliland. Many French fear a British and "Free French" offensive against French Somaliland will be launched shortly.

The French point out that in treaties signed last fall with Japan concerning Indo-China and last spring with Thailand, France recognized Japan's special responsibility for maintaining peace in that area.

They say the British have been concentrating troops in Burma and in Malaysia and that the Chinese have been concentrating troops in Yunnan following conferences among the Chinese, British, and "Free French." The British concentrations, the French say, are a menace to Indo-China.

30 Ships Move Jap Troops.

CHUNGKING, China, July 23 (AP).—Admiral Yang Shuen-chen, director of Chinese military intelligence, declared today that 30 Japanese transports, convoyed by three warships, were seen near Hongkong on July 18, steaming in the direction of Indo-China.

Yang said seven heavy Japanese warships, three aircraft carriers, and 55 destroyers were sighted south bound from Japanese waters yesterday.

He said information received from Vichy was to the effect that the Japanese had made demands on the French which included the right to land troops at Saigon, southern French Indo-China, and establish naval and air bases in that area, particularly around Cam Ranh bay.

Action in the Far East

(Story in adjoining column.)

The reports of Japanese demands on Vichy, France, yesterday for military concessions in Indo-China brought forecasts of new military action by the Japanese in the far east.

REPRISALS ARE AWAITED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 23.—American reprisals against Japan and France were expected tonight as a result of the reported Japanese demand on the Vichy government for bases in French Indo-China.

The far eastern situation continued to absorb the capital today as Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox predicted Japanese military action against British possessions and possibly against Russia, now preoccupied in Europe with Nazi invaders.

Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles conferred with Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador, for 30 minutes on the far eastern situation. Neither would give an official account of the conference.

From London came reports that Britain and the United States may join in an economic war on Japanese trade. Credence was given to the reports when it was learned that the administration is considering freezing Japanese assets in this country as an expression of this country's displeasure over Japan's search for new horizons of conquest.

Oil May Be Cut Off.

At the same time this country would shut off shipments of oil—the fuel of war—and other supplies to Japan. Altho the United States has expressed itself repeatedly as vigorously opposed to Japan's aggression in China, this country has not shut off American supplies, thus enabling Japan to continue its ambitions, in the hope that Japan might yet be dissuaded from becoming an active partner in the Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis.

Now that British soil is threatened, however, the administration is expected to abandon all efforts to placate Japan and begin cracking down on the little yellow men of Nippon.

Expect New Protests.

At the same time, it was expected that the United States again will castigate the Vichy government for cooperation of the far eastern wing of the axis powers. The administration already has brought relations with the defeated French government near the breaking point in protest against what this government insists is unnecessary collaboration with France's Nazi conquerors.

Secretary Knox told a press conference that he was certain that Japan is poised for new military operations, but was not sure whether Japan would strike northward to Siberia or southward to Indo-China and Singapore.

CHARGE TRAINING AT ANNAPOLIS IS INADEQUATE

Navy Command Finds Many Officers Incompetent.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 23.—The naval high command has been amazed to learn from the current rearmament program that officers of the United States navy as a class are not as capable as they should be in meeting the exacting demands of the drive to build a two ocean navy.

The blame lies, in the opinion of the more competent officers, with the failure of the naval academy at Annapolis to provide proper training. In their view the academy is not developing the efficiency and leadership demanded by modern warfare.

In recent months officers have been criticizing the training of the academy as too narrow, too technical and short sighted as compared with similar training being offered in other colleges and technical institutions.

Little attention has been paid to cultural studies at the academy, altho in the last few years these have been increased somewhat because of the insistance of far sighted officers that knowledge of philosophy, literature, political science and economics makes for the development of leaders.

Stick to Old Tactics.

The criticisms most often raised against the naval academy and the present officer training program are:

1. The academy is administered by older officers who are convinced that the program of training which was good enough for them 30 years ago is good enough today.
2. The courses are taught by graduates of the academy who are unfamiliar with the recent developments in education.
3. Instructors lack initiative.
4. The navy insists on training practical rather than academic minds, altho much of the practical knowledge it gives is obsolete by the time a midshipman is graduated.
5. Academy instructors are officers with no previous teaching experience.
6. The navy insists that academy graduates be prepared to enter immediately on careers as officers.

Mechanics Merely Outlined.

So intent is the naval academy bent on turning out finished officers that many courses consist of nothing more than descriptions of the various engines and mechanisms aboard men of war. These courses are given so that the young officer can step aboard the first ship to which he is assigned and be able to understand its operation.

However, theory is neglected in these courses so that the young officer would be hopelessly lost if he were set aboard a vessel which had machinery of the most recent design.

Many officers feel that it would be far better if the academy were to follow the general American pattern of education and give more time to theory and culture and leave coördination to either post graduate work or to the first two years on duty.

ART GALLERY ROBBED.

Charles Holland, proprietor of an art gallery at 737 North Michigan avenue, reported to police yesterday that six daggers, a hunting knife, and a flintlock pistol had been stolen from the gallery.

U. S. DELAYS RELEASE OF NAZI CONSULS AS SHIP REACHES LISBON

LISBON, Portugal, July 23 (AP).—A German consular party ousted from the United States was held aboard the United States naval transport West Point hours after its arrival here today, pending word that a similar American group expelled from Germany had safely crossed the Portuguese frontier.

The Nazis' Italian colleagues were kept aboard ship for six hours but were released when the American party expelled from Italy entered Portugal at Marvao. The Americans arrived here tonight and reported that the Italians had promised to let 45 Americans remaining in Greece come to Lisbon within three weeks.

There were indications the Germans had not long to wait, for the American embassy at Madrid announced the Americans had crossed into Spain this evening.

ITALIANS TOLD: RED-NAZI WAR TO 'LAST SOME TIME'

ROME, July 23.—Italians today were told by Virginio Gayda, Fascist editorial spokesman, that the Russian-German conflict will last for "some time" in view of the formidable Russian armaments and reserves.

In view of the hugeness of the various theaters of operation and of the enormous distances between the starting points and the front lines, the German offensive, he said, tho going at a fast pace, must be alternated by pauses necessary to bring up to the new zones of operations the men and equipment necessary for the next thrust.

The editorial was seen designed to explain to Italians why the German high command has not announced important victories since its communique of July 18, which claimed the capture of Smolensk.

COURT MARTIAL THREAT BLOCKS PROTEST MOVE

Rantoul, Ill., July 23 [Special].—A reported threat to court martial draftees publicly protesting their retention in military service beyond one year caused a group of National Guardsmen at Chanute field to withdraw a protest petition they had addressed to Senator Robert R. Reynolds, chairman of the senate military affairs committee.

After the petition had been signed and placed in a barracks mail box, some of the signers became fearful of the consequences upon hearing a radio broadcast reporting the court martial threat. They removed their letter from the mail box and decided to withhold it.

The petition, signed by 30 enlisted members of the 119th and 101st observation squadrons, New Jersey and Massachusetts National Guard, said that extension of the current service would be "a direct breach of faith which would result in a considerable lowering of general morale."

BATTLE AT CLOSE QUARTERS RAGES ABOUT SMOLENSK

Fighting Takes Heavy Toll of Men and Tanks.

BERLIN, July 23 (AP).— Belated dispatches tonight reported Russians and Germans were locked in a fierce struggle at close quarters for the Smolensk area, which the Germans last week claimed they had passed to lay open the central gateway to Moscow.

[The British news agency Reuters reported it was true German advance units had reached the environs of Smolensk some days ago but that they were driven away and Smolensk still is in Russian hands. Reuters added that the impression is growing among competent observers that the second big German offensive directed mainly against Smolensk — and Moscow — is exhausting itself after 10 days in the face of formidable soviet resistance and because of supply difficulties.]

The high command communique mentioned no specific points on the Russian front, but in general terms stated that "in the course of attempts to break the ring and help enclosed troops, the enemy everywhere had extraordinarily sanguinary losses."

Claim Pursuit of Reds.

"In the Ukraine, German, Rumanian, Hungarian and Slovak troops continued the pursuit untiringly. On others parts of the eastern front enveloping and annihilation of small and big soviet groups continue."

Press dispatches were more detailed. Accounts from the Smolensk area told of fighting at close range, of German and Russian tank battles and of German air raiders strafing Russian troops on the ground.

As evidence of their contention that chaos exists behind the Russian lines the Germans cited an instance in the region about Zhitomir, in the line of the eastward push toward Kiev, in which it was said prisoners were taken from 18 different Russian divisions.

DNB reported that northeast of Zhitomir encircled remnants of several Russian divisions were destroyed Monday and that 4,000 Russians were left dead on the field and thousands taken prisoner. In a tank battle near Kiev yesterday 92 Russian tanks were taken.

Heavy Fighting Near Polotsk.

On the Finnish front, where the high command said that "operations are continuing according to plan and ground is being gained," DNB said that Finnish and German troops had broken thru Russian lines east of Lake Ladoga Monday and Tuesday.

Especially heavy fighting was reported from the region of Polotsk, which lies about 140 miles west of Smolensk, and which, like Smolensk, was said by the Germans to have been captured several days ago.

The high command said of the second air raid on Moscow last night that "further serious destruction was caused" by heavy explosive and incendiary bombs. Strong aerial forces bombed military establishments in the Russian capital, observing that "fires from the attack the night before had not yet been localized."

Bombardment of important Moscow railway stations seriously disturbed Russian communications to the front and to the industrial hinterland, DNB said. It declared important armament works were hit. Greatest destruction was declared to have been in the Kremlin area and south of the Moscow river bend.

Other air force activities as reported by DNB included the bombing of Odessa, Russian Black sea port, where oil tanks were said to have been blasted and fires started in the western part of the city. A 6,000 ton ship was declared set aflame and another of 3,000 tons damaged.

Finnish Coastal Town Raided.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 23 (AP).—Kotka on the south coast of Finland was bombed today, an official announcement said, and five soviet airplanes were shot down.

Battle Rages About Smolensk

Reports from the German-Russian war front yesterday indicated that a big battle was raging in the vicinity of Smolensk, where Germans have been driving hard toward Moscow, and where Russians say they have been fighting the Germans to a standstill. Other action yesterday indicated in captions.

RUSSIAN PLANES SWARM ON NAZI MOTORIZED UNITS

Rout Armored Force on Southern Front.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, July 24 (Thursday) (AP).—The German air force attacking with 150 planes again swarmed against Moscow last night for the third straight night. Eight or ten planes broke thru the city's defenses to start minor fires and kill and wound "some persons," the Moscow radio announced early today. Several German planes were brought down. Most of the enemy planes dropped their bombs at random outside the city.

[This apparently was a raid subsequent to an air raid alarm which Moscow dispatches reported took place early Wednesday evening and which was said to have been without incident.]

MOSCOW, July 24 [Thursday] (AP).—Concentrated air attacks on German mechanized and motorized units and airdromes along the far-flung German-Russian battleground and the rout of a Nazi mechanized regiment on the Bessarabian [southern] front were reported early today by soviet Russia.

In routing the German regiment the Russians reported seizing 32 armored cars, 25 guns, eight minethrowers, 400 motor cars, and 300 motorcycles.

The Red army indicated that Russian positions once more remained unchanged, with stubborn battles in progress in the Polotsk-Nevel, Smolensk, Zhitomir, and Bessarabian sectors last night. These are the regions of the German major drives on Leningrad, Moscow, Kiev, and Odessa, respectively.

Garrison Holds On at Smolensk.

Zhitomir lies 50 miles closer to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev than Novograd Volynski, previously the center of the Russian defense of that major city, but still 85 miles short of Kiev.

The garrison defending Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, has been holding the city against strong assaults and was declared putting up a brilliant fight.

These soviet successes were announced after the Russians had claimed to have maintained in two successive night-long raids on Moscow the destruction rate of 10 per cent of the attacking German planes.

Of 150 German planes assaulting the capital thru Tuesday night and into the early morning, it was declared officially that 15 were brought down by Red fighter craft. This was given only as a preliminary figure.

Many Killed or Wounded.

Despite what was termed here the success of this defense which followed the announced destruction of 22 of 200 German planes in the war's first massed raid on Moscow the previous night, a government communique conceded that scores of persons were killed or wounded.

Again, however, it was claimed that Russian fighter planes and ground guns broke the major Nazi attack, preventing the main body of raiders from reaching the city proper.

Claim Nazi Ships Sunk.

LONDON, July 23 (AP).—The British news agency Reuters quoted the Moscow radio as announcing today that five German transports and a large oil tanker were sunk by a soviet bombing attack on a convoy at an unidentified point.

WHOLE EMPIRE PERILED, PETAIN WARNS CADETS

VICHY, France, July 23 (AP).—Chief of State Henri Philippe Petain today told students of Saint Cyr, the French West Point, that "we may still have to defend our colonies, since all our empire is menaced."

The marshal said "it is necessary not to abandon our military preparation and even is necessary to be ready for any eventuality."

"When the armistice was signed last year," he added, "one thought there would be no more war. Another started only a few weeks ago, however. We are obliged to protect our colonies and all our colonial empire, and we must be in a position to defend it."

FINNS TRAP REDS AT LAKE; PRESS 80 MILE ADVANCE

Chop a Trail Thru Forest to Reach Objective.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE FINNISH FORCES ADVANCING TOWARD KEMI, Russia, July 21 [By courier to Helsingfors, Finland] [Delayed].—The cross, the emblem of the Christian religion, is accompanying the advance of the combined Finnish-German army into eastern Karelia.

In this hilly country the crosses have been erected where they can be seen for miles. They mark little burial grounds of the Finnish and German soldiers killed in the battle now going on, and who lie buried side by side. Each grave has its small cross, bearing the name of the soldier and the date of his birth and death. A large 12 foot cross marks the cemetery and nearby flies the blue and white flag of Finland.

Advance More than 80 Miles.

Following a logging trail which runs thru thick timber, across swamps, and around lakes, the Finns already have progressed more than 80 miles and today are fighting the Russians near Ukhta, where a road starts and runs for 120 miles to Kemi, on the Leningrad-Murmansk railroad, and the White sea.

[This is the first detailed report of the fighting on the Finnish central eastern front. From northern Finland the Finns and Germans are fighting toward Murmansk, the Russian arctic port. In the southern sector German reports said German-Finnish forces had broken thru Russian lines east of Lake Ladoga, while the Russians admitted they had reached the Petrozavodsk area on the Leningrad-Murmansk railway 250 miles northeast of Leningrad.]

From the frontier it took 24 hours of steady travel by automobile, motor boat, and auto truck before I reached the Finnish front. A hard fight had been in progress and the Russians were attempting to cover their retreat. The Finnish commander told me his forces had surrounded and wiped out a soviet battalion.

Blocks Russians at Lake.

With the help of pontoon boats and launches he had sent several thousand Finnish troops across five miles of water and had cut off the Russians at the head of Upper Kuitti lake. Taken by surprise, the battalion put up a stiff resistance.

The Finns attacked the Russian positions around the head of the lake from the west and the landing Finns came in from the east. Having no boats, the Russians were hemmed in by the lake and by a big forest fire.

The Finns captured a number of prisoners. I saw one of them, a Ukrainian peasant from the Odessa district. He ate four mess tins full of the corned beef soup we had for lunch before he was taken to the rear to be questioned.

Face Same Red Division.

Maj. Gen. Hjalmar Siilasvuo received me at his headquarters and said his command was now fighting against the same soviet division, the 54th, which had failed in its attacks against Finland in the 1939-1940 winter war.

"I have visited the villages we have captured and talked with those inhabitants who have survived soviet rule. I found them all Finnish speaking people," the general reported. "The few Russian officials who exploited them on collectivized farms fled with the Red army. Since we launched our attack on July 1 we have advanced about 80 miles. Our progress has been delayed by the necessity of constructing a road as we proceed.

"The Red army has resisted stubbornly, but they were not expecting a large scale attack on this front and had constructed only a few large bunkers [forts] for their guns. The Russians also planted many hundreds of land mines which have caused us insignificant losses.

Air Activity Slight.

"Soviet air activity has been slight on this sector. During the 1939-'40 war we were attacked by 50 to 60 bombers each day. Now we seldom see more than half a dozen planes."

Maj. Gen. Siilasvuo is one of the outstanding leaders of the Finnish army. During the last war it was his command which wiped out an entire Russian division at Suomussalmi and exterminated another at Razte.

On my way to this front I passed both battlefields, which still are littered with the remains of more than 2,000 Russian carts and wagons which the Finns thought not worth the trouble of salvaging.

During the 1939-1940 war the Finns were on the defensive. Today Gen. Siilasvuo's army is on the offensive. The terrain over which they are driving is well known, for these same forests and villages saw much fighting during the successful Finnish war for independence in 1918 and the unsuccessful eastern Karelian uprising for independence during 1921-'22.

HEAD OF ENGLISH CHURCH PUTS O. K. ON RUSSIAN PACT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 23.—The archbishop of Canterbury, Cosmo Gordon Lang, today endorsed the British-soviet pact despite the fact that it has "brought not unnatural misgivings."

"It may seem strange to combine the alliance with Russia with the claim that we are contending for Christian civilization," he said, "but such misgivings are really misplaced, for the one, first, and essential aim of the whole widespread struggle is the overthrow of the tyranny of evil embodied in the rulers of Germany and all who are engaged in the cause must needs be our allies."

He warned that "a victory by the Nazi power would destroy any kind of tolerable form of human government," and said Russia is "contending for the principles of national freedom and independence for which the British commonwealth and the United States of America are standing." He also said Russia's defense "may lead to a new tolerance of religion by the soviet government and a new resurgence of the interests of religion always deep seated in the heart of the Russian people."

SUEZ CANAL ZONE AGAIN RAIDED BY AXIS PLANES

CAIRO, Egypt, July 23 (AP).—The Egyptian government announced today that "there was an air raid on the [Suez] canal zone early this morning and some bombs were dropped, causing damage to civilian property but no casualties."

British patrols emerged from the besieged fortress of Tobruk, Libya, and penetrated German-Italian lines on Monday night without encountering serious opposition, the British reported. Some casualties were suffered.

Axis Planes Attack British.

ROME, July 23 (AP).—German and Italian air attacks on the British in North Africa and British air raids on Bengazi, Libyan port, and Gondar, Ethiopia, were reported today by Italy.

ASSAIL BRITAIN'S FAILURE TO BARE WAR DISPATCHES

Peers Seek Facts of What Happened in France.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 23.—The government was sharply criticized in the house of lords today for failure to fulfill its promise to publish Viscount Gort's dispatches on the campaign in France and Belgium. Gort was chief of the imperial general staff at the time.

The British army was "handed a rough deal" by this departure from military tradition, it was charged.

Viscount Trenchard, marshal of the royal air force, declared "all officers and men feel strongly on the subject of how they got into the position they did" and want an explanation of why "the great British army was forced to abandon a country it had gone to defend."

Pleads for Fairness.

Trenchard pleaded that the Gort reports be made public "in fairness to the army as a whole. I cannot believe there is anything in these dispatches which could not be published. There may be reasons of which we have no knowledge, but it seems an extraordinary state of affairs that one day we are to have these dispatches and the next we are not."

Lord Nathan, wearing his uniform as a colonel, scouted the idea that the dispatches contain information vital to the enemy. If there were deficiencies in equipment, "the Germans know about that, because most of it got into their hands." The government could not hope to conceal the identity of the British forces engaged in France because "representatives of many British units are prisoners in German hands."

If there were political reasons, such as criticisms of the French and Belgian armies, he said "these events now are part of history."

Events of Nine Campaigns.

Nathan cited that British forces have participated in nine campaigns in different parts of the world, and said:

"The troops were sent out by the British public, drawn from the British public, and the British public is left in ignorance of what happened. If there are criticisms arising from the dispatches, let us hear them and let us know where we stand."

It is difficult, Nathan said, to sustain the morale of the army and for each man to take pride in his regiment's tradition "when there is complete silence about what they did."

Lord Croft, parliamentary undersecretary of the war office, repeated previous statements that publication of the dispatches would be inopportune, but declared the government had "every reason to be proud of the conduct and fighting qualities of the army in the defense and succor of our allies in the great rearguard action fought under great difficulties and the evacuation of Dunkirk."

CLAIM U. S. ARMY HEAD HINTS AT 3 NAZI UPRISINGS

Washington, D. C., July 23 [Special].—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, tonight was quoted by members of the house military affairs committee as having told the committee that three South American nations are faced with possible Nazi uprisings.

Brazil is the focal point of the potential trouble, committeemen said. Other centers of possible Nazi strength were mentioned as Bolivia and Colombia.

BRITISH RAIDERS SINK NAZI SHIP; DOWN 10 PLANES

LONDON, July 24 [Thursday] (AP).—British bombers hammered at German occupied northern France yesterday from early morning until late at night, seeking out Nazi shipping and attacking undisclosed objectives near Bethune. The British acknowledged loss of 15 aircraft while claiming destruction of 10 German fighters. The air ministry reported one German coastal ship sunk and another damaged.

German planes were reported over the Liverpool area and Northern Ireland early this morning. Other raiders were believed to have been over a town in northeast England.

Downed 43 Planes, Say Nazis.

BERLIN, July 24 [Thursday]—(AP). The RAF lost 43 planes during yesterday's combats along the channel coasts, the German news agency DNB reported early today. DNB said the British lost 30 planes during the day—seven of them bombers—and that during Wednesday night 13 fighters were downed.

MRS. FERN MELLINGER DIES.

Coldwater, Mich., July 23 [Special].—Mrs. Fern Mellinger, 56 years old, wife of a prominent farmer, died last night of injuries incurred in a traffic accident.

2,000 TONS OF U. S. GASOLINE REACHES DAKAR IN VICHY SHIP

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles disclosed today that under a special arrangement a French tanker had landed 2,000 tons of American gasoline at Dakar, French West Africa.

The gasoline is for civilian use, was landed with the full approval of the British, and its distribution will be supervised by an American control officer.

Welles emphasized that the arrangement was for one shipment only and that the agreement between the United States and France for resumption of trade did not include Dakar.

The tanker was the Sheherazade, which was seized by the British in May and held at Bermuda until the new agreement covering shipments to Morocco, Algiers, and Tunisia had been worked out.

J. W. HERRIOTT FUNERAL TODAY.

Mahomet, Ill., July 23 [Special].—Funeral services for James W. Herriott, 83 years old, pioneer resident and former mayor who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Zuma Gilbert.

BOLIVIA 'PROVES' NAZIS' MINISTER PLOTTED REVOLT

Reveals Letter from Its Attache in Berlin.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, July 23 (AP).—The government tonight made public a letter which, it said, proved Ernest Wendler, German minister to Bolivia until his recent expulsion, had conspired with the Bolivian military attaché in Berlin for a Nazi putsch in Bolivia.

The letter, dated at the "Bolivian legation in Berlin June 9, 1941," was signed by Maj. Elias Belmonte, the attaché who, the government charged, was slated to head the prospective revolt. It was addressed to Wendler.

Belmonte was minister of interior of Bolivia during the administration of the late President German Busch, but was deported for attempting a revolution. He went to Italy and later was named to the Berlin post.

Letter Assails America.

The letter assailed the United States and said:

"I am informed by friends at the Wilhelmstrasse that, thru information received from you, they learn there is approaching the moment of our coup to free my poor country from a weak government of purely capitalistic inclinations. I go further and express the belief that the coup should be set for the middle of July, for I consider the moment propitious."

[Quelling of a prototalitarian revolt by 40,000 Indians in Cochabamba province and the arrest of several Bolivian military officers, several civilians, and a German citizen were announced Tuesday by Bolivia.]

The letter charged the United States had attempted to gain political control of Bolivia by extending financial assistance.

Chile to Rush Nazi Aid Away.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 23 (AP).—Chile announced tonight that Ernst Wendler, expelled German minister to Bolivia, would be required to leave Chile at the earliest possible moment and would not be permitted outside Antofagasta while waiting to depart.

Raid Nazi Offices, Seize 15.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, July 23 (AP).—Fifteen persons and truckloads of documents were taken from the headquarters of the National Socialist [Nazi] party and five other German organizations today in a police raid led by Deputy Raul Damonte Taborda, chairman of a congressional committee investigating anti-Argentine activities.

CALDWELL 'TAKE' BELIEVED TO BE OVER $1,200,000

Prosecutor Gets Some New Figures on Union.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

Figures compiled by Assistant State's Attorney William B. Crawford yesterday indicated that the "take" in Chicago of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association [AFL] in four years was even larger than the $910,000 cited in a suit for accounting filed by rank and file members several weeks ago. Crawford's examination shows that the union income exceeded $1,200,000.

Crawford is conducting his investigation under the supervision of State's Attorney Courtney.

It was Crawford's opinion that Max Caldwell, ousted czar of the local, had collected from the members a total of more than $25,000 a month, on the average, but that only $12,000 of this was in the reports that Caldwell's stooges made regularly to the international's headquarters in Lafayette, Ind.

Traces Financial Rise.

"Four years ago," the prosecutor said, "Caldwell was broke; he couldn't even pay salaries of the employés in his night club. Recently he bought a $45,000 Miami Beach estate from the gangster Frank Nitti. Caldwell says his salary was $125 a week. The figures speak for themselves. The most startling fact is that so far only $62 of the union's funds have been located."

The assistant state's attorney's investigation shows that Caldwell listed 5,300 clerk as paying dues. He made no regular reports of permit fees exacted from part time store workers, who paid initiation fees also. His statements showed payments only by full time workers.

It was with the assistance of the executives of two large chain grocery firms that Crawford was able to explore the extent of contributions to the local funds by part timers. He said that he was sure these extras numbered 4,000 or 5,000.

Figures by Companies.

His figures indicated that National Tea company employés paid in 30 months a total of $38,115 in initiation fees and $113,984 in dues; a total of $152,099. The corresponding statistics for the A. and P. stores were: Initiation fees, $29,875 for full time workers and $5,965 for part timers, and dues, $160,800; total, $196,640.

Crawford said that the two companies employés listed with the international as members numbered 2,683 and their grand total payments $348,739. Applying the same ratios to the full admitted membership, the complete take would be barely under $700,000 in the 30 months, he said. Added to this would be ticket sales for four dances, $4,000 [estimated]; and fines, also estimated, of $20,000.

"Something like $13,000 a month apparently is unaccounted for," Crawford said. "In the international reports the disbursements listed were about $12,000 a month."

Own Aids Paid Little.

Figures indicate that Caldwell was, he added, not generous to his associates. His secretary, Michael Savachka was listed as paid $37.13 a week. It is believed that Savachka, who is missing, signed papers that were presented to him and may not have known their contents. Caldwell has asserted that he doesn't know where the union records are, but that Savachka went out of town and presumably has them.

Other nominal employés were listed as having salaries of between $30 and $40 a week. One of them is J. Wills. Crawford said that Wills is a son of Charles F. Wills, who was international representative in charge of the union for a considerable period. The elder Wills is the father-in-law of Caldwell and is a member of the review board of the state unemployment compensation department.

Crawford was informed by unionists that the dances were to raise funds for hospitalization.

He was told also that Caldwell and his union ran up a $4,000 bill with the American hospital and paid nothing on it, pleading that the union was "too poor." The practice of this union later was to recommend that its sick members be taken into County hospital, which cost the union nothing.

Peruvians Battle Ecuadoreans

30 Mile Front

LIMA, Peru, July 23 (AP).—Fighting broke out again on the disputed Peruvian-Ecuadorean border at dawn today and was still in progress this afternoon, an official Peruvian source said.

The same source said Ecuadorean forces attacked Peruvian posts at La Bomba, El Caucho, La Union, and Las Cochas, all defended by small numbers of civic guards, not soldiers. Despite numerical inferiority these Peruvian guards are repulsing the Ecuadorean attacks, it was said. A Peruvian government announcement said earlier that Ecuadorean troops on the north bank of the Zarumilla river attacked Peruvian outposts on the south bank along a 30 mile front and inflicted several casualties before the Peruvians repelled them.

Official Peruvian sources, calling it an "important atack," said the Ecuadoreans directed their fire against the Peruvian posts of Aguas Verdes, Pocitos, and Matapalo and were maintaining considerable military activity along the Husquillas-Pocitos area, besides "constant sniping" all along the line.

A source close to the foreign office said that fighting on the left bank of the Zarumilla river, the de facto boundary, showed Peruvians were not the aggressors.

Plane Downed

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, July 23 (AP).—Official Ecuadorean reports said today that Ecuadorean anti-aircraft guns shot down a Peruvian plane in flames between Carcabon and Balsalito as Peruvian troops started a general attack on a 12 mile front on Ecuador's southern border.

The Peruvians were repulsed and driven out of several of their own outposts, Ecuadorean pursuers capturing the post of Agus Verdes and Brancamore on the other side of the Zarumilla river, these reports said.

An Ecuadorean communique issued at Quito, the capital, said the Peruvian attack ceased at 10:45 a. m. and was resumed with greater intensity at noon, especially in the Huaquillas sector. Ecuadoreans said eight Peruvian planes bombed Puerto Bolivar three times.

A later communique said not only aviation but heavy artillery was used in the frontier fighting, which it said began with a Peruvian attack at 2:30 a. m. There were subsequent attacks thruout the day, it said.

In the Arenillas sector, it charged, a clearly marked Red Cross unit en route to the front was machine-gunned by a Peruvian plane.

It claimed the Peruvians suffered considerable casualties and that an Ecuadorean captain, Galo Molina, was killed at Quebrada Seca.

Unofficial reports said the Ecuadorean naval cutter Atahualpa was machine gunned by Peruvian planes at Puerto Bolivar and replied vigorously.

NANCY CUNARD, BARRED BY U. S., STAYS ON LINER

New York, July 23 [Special].—Miss Nancy Cunard, 45 years old, eccentric daughter of the famous English shipping family, today was confined to her cabin on the Spanish liner Marques de Comillas in Brooklyn after immigration men refused her permission to land when the ship docked yesterday.

Nancy Cunard.

The American consul in Havana had refused to give her a visa when the ship stopped there. She will be forced to remain aboard the vessel until it leaves Friday on its return journey to Spain, it was said.

Miss Cunard, daughter of the late Sir Bache E. Cunard and Lady Cunard, the former Maud Alice Burke of New York, caused a sensation here in 1932 when she registered at a Harlem hotel and spent her time gathering material on the Negro race.

Britain to Register More Women for Labor in War

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 23.—Registration of women for war work will be speeded up, Ralph Assheton, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of labor, told the house of commons today. Women born in the years 1910 to 1916 will be registered in the next five months, he added, the 1916 class on Aug. 2. The demand for man power, he said, is so heavy that other age groups probably will be called.

DOCTORS WARN AGAINST 'DIET BY TAXATION'

A warning against the increasing use of federal taxes as an economic instrument, as in a recent proposal to tax white bread as means of compelling the people to eat whole wheat bread, is contained in the forthcoming issue of The Journal of the American Medical association.

"If it were not that the power of taxation has been so frequently and so outrageously employed, one could hardly take the latest proposal seriously," the medical periodical states, under the title "Diet by Taxation." "Taxation is becoming the favorite tool of economic pressure groups who desire to liquidate other pressure groups.

"Perhaps some one will next propose the taxation of beef with a subsidy for the pork packers because pork is richer in vitamin B-1. The government could put a similar levy on grapefruit with a subsidy for orange juice because the latter contains a little more vitamin C."

British Seize 3 French Fishing Ships in Atlantic

VICHY, France, July 23 (AP).—The colonial ministry was informed today by the administration for North American possessions in St. Pierre and Miquelon Islands [near Newfoundland] that three French fishing ships, the Madiana, Camcalais, and Izarra, had been seized by the British off Newfoundland.

Ships to Be Returned.

PARIS, July 23 (AP).—German and French representatives of the occupied zone agreed today that French ships of less than 300 tons seized by the Germans will be returned to their owners. Most of the vessels involved were fishing boats.

LOST: SNEEZING DOG—WITH HAY FEVER SECRETS

Scientists Believe He May Be of Aid if Found.

If you bump into a little wire haired terrier with hay fever, it's Pat. He may have locked up within him the secret that will enable doctors to prevent hay fever in human beings, according to scientists at the University of Illinois medical college here. They hope you'll let them know if you see him.

You can recognize him easily. He sneezes and he sniffles. He's all white except for a brown ear and a brown patch about one eye.

He's Allergic, Doctor Says.

Pat belongs to E. M. Schoen of 2421 Sheridan road, Waukegan. The little terrier was so uncomfortable last summer that Schoen's daughter, Mrs. Melva Phillips, took him to a veterinarian. "He's allergic," the veterinarian said. Mrs. Phillips, who has hay fever herself, took Pat to her physician, who is on the university medical faculty.

The physician found that Pat had all the symptoms of human hay fever. If it could be determined that canine hay fever is the same, he said, the possibilities for relieving human hay fever sufferers were limitless. He gave Pat shots to help him thru the ragweed pollen season.

New York Scientists Aid.

Mrs. Phillips took Pat to the physician for observation every week after that. Scientists at the New York hospital were enlisted in the research. The medical men said they found every indication that Pat was suffering from the same hay fever that plagues human beings.

Three months ago they found a female dog with the same symptoms, a cocker spaniel named Wiggles. They decided to breed the two dogs, after the hay fever season, so that they might investigate the relation of heredity to hay fever.

The physicians recorded the blood changes of the dogs as they went thru the tree pollen season in April and May and the grass pollen season in June and July. They inoculated Pat against the ragweed pollen he would encounter in August and September.

Where, O, Where Can He Be?

And then, last Saturday, Pat was feeling so uncomfortable from his hay fever that Schoen let him wander about the house without his harness and license tag. Pat disappeared and hasn't been seen since.

He'll wag his tail happily if you call him by name. If you see a terrier that looks like Pat but aren't sure of its identity, look for a patch of hair missing from its tail. Pat bit the hair away when his hay fever got bad.

The doctors say you'll be helping science if you find Pat and call the medical college, Schoen, or Mrs. Phillips at Rogers Park 7010. You'll be helping Pat, too, they say, for he still needs some treatments to save him from that dreadful ragweed.

752,572 YOUTHS REGISTERED FOR DRAFT IN JULY

Washington, D. C., July 23 [Special].—Registration of 21 year old youths in the second draft July 1 totaled 752,572, according to an official count made public today by the selective service system. Earlier estimates fixed the number of registrants at 750,000.

Registration generally was in proportion to the population with New York heading the list with 72,903 draftees. Illinois was third with 43,501. Indiana listed 20,438; Wisconsin, 17,469; Michigan, 33,136, and Iowa, 13,924. Pennsylvania ran second with 61,366.

Porto Rico registered 9,190 and Hawaii 2,628. Returns from Alaska have not been received.

1941 ROOSEVELT BIRTHDAY FETE YIELDS $2,104,460

Washington, D. C., July 23 [Special].—The 1941 celebration of the President Roosevelt's birthday produced a net total of $2,104,460, a new record, Mr. Roosevelt was informed today by officials of the National Committee for the Celebration of the President's birthday.

The report was made to the President by Keith Morgan, chairman of the National committee; Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and Mr. Roosevelt's former law partner; D. Walker Wear, assistant chairman of the National committee, and James V. Forrestal and George E. Allen, vice presidents of the Foundation.

Of the total, $1,096,865 will go to the state and local chapters of the Foundation, for local relief of infantile paralysis sufferers, and $1,007,595 will be used directly by the Foundation to combat infantile paralysis epidemics and for research.

PHYSICIANS RAP PEORIA DENIAL OF DOGS TO SCIENCE

The action Tuesday of the Peoria city council and Mayor E. N. Woodruff in banning shipment of unwanted dogs to Chicago for use in medical research laboratories was condemned yesterday as a blow to progress by leaders of the profession. Mayor Woodruff, aged 79, broke a 10 to 10 tie vote of the council to decide the issue.

"Northwestern university medical school, now one of the foremost research centers in the country, may have to surrender its place in the march of progress if Peoria is permitted to set an example such as this for other cities," said Dr. James R. Miller, dean elect of the school.

Chicago Supplies Insufficient.

Chicago medical centers, like many elsewhere, cannot get a sufficient supply of dogs in the immediate vicinity and hence depend on other communities to provide some research animals. Peoria was one of several cities in Illinois contributing to the needs of Chicago schools.

It was learned that unclaimed dogs from pounds, including some from Peoria, are used in a special project which has been accepted by Northwestern at the request of the navy. Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, director of the department of physiology, said that this research is of a confidential nature.

"It is an alarming symptom that the Peoria city council is unwilling to assist medical progress," Dr. Ivy said.

Peoria Doctors Aroused.

In Peoria yesterday physicians were wrathful over the council action, but saw no way to reverse it until Mayor Woodruff comes up for reëlection in 1945.

"The mayor's crocodile tears for dogs are not entirely successful in screening his struggle to get control of the independent board of health," said Dr. Emil Z. Levitin, president of the Peoria Medical society.

"His action is mainly ridiculous," said Dr. E. E. Nystrom, president-elect of the society. "But if the independence of the health board is wrecked, there will be serious results. Woodruff fought the creation of the present board four years ago. Since then Peoria has risen from 48th to 6th place in the national health ranking for cities of its size."

Citizens of the industrial city of 105,000 talked about the way the anti-vivisection measure had been put over, upsetting predictions. Two aldermen, Alfred Schuh, a coal dealer, and James Manning, a shipping clerk, voted with the doctors on a test roll call two weeks ago and against them Tuesday night.

VOTE 84TH DELAY IN CITY PLEA FOR CUT IN BUS FARE

Aldermen Fear Harm to Transit Unity Plan.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

The city council transportation committee yesterday went on record in favor of delaying action for the 84th time on the city's seven year old petition for a cut in the 10 cent bus fare of the Chicago Motor Coach company. The petition was filed with the Illinois Commerce commission April 11, 1934, but has since been continued 83 times at the request of or by agreement with city attorneys.

Ald. J. R. Quinn.

Yesterday the committee instructed William H. Sexton, city traction counsel, to ask for another continuance when the case comes before the commission next Wednesday. Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the committee, said the postponement is being sought because the pending transit unification plan might be upset if the city pushed the petition.

Oppose Fare Increases.

At the same time, the committee voted to oppose increases in car fares being sought by the elevated lines and surface lines, at least until the companies say whether they will accept the city's transit unification ordinance. The "L" has asked the commission for a fare increase from 10 to 12 cents. The surface lines have been authorized by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe to apply for a boost in the 7 cent street car fare to 8 cents.

The committee's action to delay further a move to cut bus rates was criticized later in the day by Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th]. Douglas said the fear that action against the bus company would upset transit consolidation plans was "nonsense."

Cites Huge Bus Profits.

"The acquisition of the bus company is only optional under the traction ordinance—the merger is mandatory only on the surface and elevated lines," Douglas said. "Hence, there is no excuse for continuing to sit back and permit the bus company, which has no city franchise, to earn a return of 25 per cent a year on its investment and to pay yearly dividends of 200 per cent on its common stock.

"It may be desirable to include all companies, including the motor coach lines, in the new system, as is contended by the city administration. If so, the only way to get the coach company in at a fair price is to press the fare reduction case now. The company has asked 10 million dollars for physical properties that are worth less than 3¼ millions. As long as it is permitted to make excessive profits the owners will never sell at a fair price."

SEEK TO BANISH BOTTLENECKS IN SUNDAY DRIVING

Arterial highways into Chicago are being studied by traffic engineers for the Chicago Motor club with a view toward eliminating Sunday night traffic bottlenecks, George Barton, head of the club's department of safety, announced yesterday.

The engineers are listing those intersections where stop and go lights delay traffic on one highway altho intersecting roads are comparatively free of cars. When the survey is completed, the motor club will ask local authorities to change the ratio of the signals on Sunday nights so as to favor the more heavily traveled routes, Barton said.

The highways being studied are Skokie boulevard, Northwest highway, Rand road, Milwaukee avenue, La Grange road, and U. S. 20.

SOUNDS WARNING ON CONGRESS ST. SUBWAY SCHEME

Motor Club Official Tells of 'Pressure.'

J. J. Cavanagh, vice president of the Chicago Motor club, charged yesterday that an attempted "pressure" drive is under way to force the $40,000,000 Congress street widening plan on the people of Chicago by tying it up with the subway now under construction.

"The subway extension under Congress street and the proposed Congress street highway are two independent propositions and cannot by any stretch of logic be made dependent on each other," Cavanagh said. "Efforts have been made repeatedly, however, to make it appear that the subway cannot be built unless the highway goes thru."

U. S. Engineer's Stand.

Cavanagh's statement was made after Joshua D'Esposito, federal project engineer on the subway, told the city council transportation committee that he would not approve the building of the subway under Congress street until the street widening development is started. D'Esposito said that "one or two million dollars" could be saved by acquiring right of way for both projects simultaneously.

The subway extension will run under Congress street from Dearborn street to the Chicago river. The contemplated highway would go from State street to the city limits.

D'Esposito told the aldermen that they should try at once to obtain state approval for the Congress street highway development, which has been indorsed by the city council, but would require the use of state gas tax moneys. State approval of the highway would make possible a start on the subway section without delay, he said. A special meeting of the council's joint committee on superhighways was called for today by Ald. George D. Kells [28th] to discuss the matter.

Difference of Opinion.

The 23 million dollar federal grant for the subway may be endangered, according to D'Esposito, by the Congress street delay.

Cavanagh recalled that there is nothing in the federal subway grant requiring the Congress street highway as a condition of obtaining subway funds.

"Mr. D'Esposito and the other subway engineers should go ahead and build their subway and forget about the superhighway discussions," he said. "The highway is out of their province."

Gov. Green has been repeatedly beset by lobbyists begging him to approve the Congress street highway scheme which would result in the payment of millions of dollars for rights of way to real estate speculators.

"Newest 'V'"

Los Angeles, Cal., July 23 (AP).—Lady Halifax, wife of the British ambassador, smashed a glass wand of oxygen across the propellor hub of a new dive bomber today and declared: "I christen thee Vengeance—newest 'V' in Britain's campaign for victory."

The low wing monoplane, camouflaged in brown and light green, roared into a takeoff then, spiraled to 5,000 feet and went into a deafening dive to 1,000 feet as 5,000 aircraft workers cheered.

The ceremony took place at the Vultee aircraft plant in Downey, near here.

Find 2 Army Airmen Dead in Alabama Plane Wreck

Fort Benning, Ga., July 23 (AP).—Maj. Fred S. Stocks, executive officer of air corps troops here, and Capt. William S. Hargen, flight surgeon, were found dead today in wreckage of an army training plane in which they took off last Saturday for Kelly Field, Tex. Planes had swarmed over five states for four days. The wreckage was found today on a wooded knoll near Seale, Ala. Maj. Stocks' home was in Honolulu. Capt. Hargen's was in Pine Grove, Ky.

DR. H. B. KNOWLES ARRIVES TO HEAD TRAINING SCHOOL

Dr. H. B. Knowles, who for 23 years has been associated with Illinois institutions for the feeble minded and insane, arrived yesterday at the Illinois Training School for Boys where he eventually will assume charge as acting managing officer.

Dr. H. B. Knowles.

It was announced two weeks ago that Dr. Knowles would take the helm on July 20, but it was disclosed yesterday that he will not do so until Aug. 15. Meanwhile, William T. Harmon, whose removal was ordered after a wave of violence and crime by parolees and escaped inmates, will continue to run the institution. From Aug. 15 to Sept. 1, when his resignation takes effect, Harmon will be on vacation.

Dr. Knowles, who is 56 years old, never has had any experience with a corrective institution, such as the training school. His employment with the state began in 1918 and since that time he has headed or helped to operate the state hospitals for the insane at Alton, Peoria, Dixon, Lincoln, and Anna. It was from Anna that he was moved to his present post.

Dr. Knowles said yesterday that he has no plans for the school; that he merely will get acquainted while Harmon continues in charge.

ORDERS ARREST OF PHYSICIAN IN ABORTION DEATH

The surrender of Dr. Nathaniel H. Schaffner, 1623 Belmont avenue, was promised by his attorneys yesterday after a coroner's jury returned a verdict of death caused by an attempted abortion in the case of a young woman who died in Dr. Schaffner's office July 7. A charge of murder by abortion already is pending against Dr. Schaffner in felony court. The woman was Mrs. Emma Laisure, 27 years old, of 6144 North Hoyne avenue.

When your Stomach is UPSET

Stomach distress from over-fullness should not be aggravated by overdoses of antacids or by drastic, irritating physics or purgatives.

Take soothing Pepto-Bismol! It is not an antacid. It has no laxative action. Pepto-Bismol helps to quiet the upset, to soothe the irritated intestinal walls, to retard intestinal fermentation, gas formation and to relieve simple diarrhea. This soothing remedy is pleasant—you'll like the taste.

In two sizes—at all druggists. Or by the dose at drug store fountains.

Save Our Republic

THE GENTLEMAN FROM OXON HILL MANOR.

Mr. Sumner Welles, the undersecretary of state, made a speech the other day which was advertised as an address to the conquered peoples of Europe as well as to the German people. Mr. Welles was talking of the peace which will follow the war. He was making a first essay in the direction which Mr. Wilson took when he formulated the Fourteen Points. There is to be an end of aggressive armaments. There is to be international armament control. There is to be freedom of access for all nations to raw materials.

The commentators who say that Mr. Welles was speaking for the enlightenment of the conquered peoples may have been doing him an injustice. It is just possible that he was speaking to the American people. It may have occurred to him that 80 per cent of them are against participating in the war because they can see nothing in it for us which will be worth a small part of the cost of winning the war for the British empire.

What effect Mr. Welles' speech may have had abroad we do not know, but surely it cannot have changed many minds in this country. Mr. Welles' aim to abolish aggressive armament may mean something to him, but if he can distinguish between offensive and defensive armament he is about the only man in the world who can. Mr. Welles is for international armament control of some sort, but the Versailles treaty set up a most elaborate machinery for this purpose and the former allies failed to make use of it. Maybe they would do better this time, but to most Americans it doesn't seem worth a million lives and a couple of hundred billion dollars to find out. Mr. Welles is for equal access to the world's markets, but Germany says the same thing, and it doesn't seem necessary to go to war against her to obtain it.

Mr. Welles is not a persuasive pleader for war and we think we know the reason. The argument, if it can be called an argument, which has convinced him that we should assume a more active rôle in the war, is not of a sort to influence the great mass of his countrymen. They do not share Mr. Welles' background.

Mr. Welles went from Groton to Harvard. At both institutions British upper class attitudes are fashionable. They are even more fashionable among the eastern millionaires with whom Mr. Welles consorts. The tipoff to Mr. Welles is his postoffice address. Mr. Welles' seat is Oxon Hill manor, a very good name, as all will agree, for the estate of an amateur Englishman. Mr. Welles can easily think of himself as an offshoot of the British aristocracy, planted in America to run the natives in the interest of the empire.

When we entered the last war, Mr. Welles didn't. He was 25 years old at the time. He had not yet fully disclosed his talents as a diplomat. It was not until many years later that he backed the wrong man in Cuba; and it is still more recently that he persuaded the Pan-American powers to agree upon a course of neutral action which he repudiated as soon as it served Britain's purpose that he do so.

Mr. Welles is still trying, but he hasn't got us in the war yet, and his presence among the war mongers isn't helping their cause.

WHY TAKE THE HORSES ALONG?

A division and a brigade of cavalry have been engaged in extensive maneuvers in the New Mexico desert for the purpose of testing the usefulness of horse soldiers in modern warfare.

The troops engaged are not old fashioned cavalry. They haul their horses into the combat zone in motor vans and when they actually go into battle the riders dismount and fight on foot. The problem in which they were engaged in the maneuvers was the attack and defense of a railroad line.

The defensive forces discovered that the attacking force had outfeinted them and gained a position on the railroad, which they proceeded to destroy—theoretically, of course. The nearest defensive force was 20 miles away. Its horses were already tired out, and could not have reached the railroad in less than four hours. Its commander piled his men into the trucks that were supposed to haul the horses, got to the scene of combat in 30 minutes, and drove off the attackers.

That was a resourceful piece of soldiering, but it doesn't augur well for the future of the horse in modern combat. If the trucks could get the soldiers there eight times as fast as the horses could, why take the horses along in the first place?

The New Mexican experiment seems to clinch the case. Small parties of horsemen may be useful for scouting in heavily wooded or extremely mountainous country, but as far as serious combat use is concerned, they are out. The track vehicle can go almost any place that large parties of horse can go, and it doesn't get winded in mid-afternoon.

CITADEL OF IGNORANCE.

Considering the way local politicians assay thruout the country, it is probably unjust to take a whole community of 105,000 people for a ride just because their mayor and half their city council turn out to be more nit-witted than the average. However, the action of the Peoria mayor and aldermen in falling for the anti-vivisection claptrap does cast a serious reflection on the efficiency of the common school system in Illinois.

Peoria's refusal to continue sending stray dogs to Chicago medical schools for experiments conducted to relieve human suffering is not going to be a serious block in the path of medical research. Neither, fortunately, is it going to harm the people of Peoria. Their physicians will continue to get their training in other and more enlightened communities.

About all the action has accomplished is to put Mayor Woodruff and Peoria in competition with Gov. Talmadge and the state of Georgia as to which locality is the leading citadel of ignorance in the United States. The mayor and his simple minded aldermen can probably clinch the title if they will just change the name of Peoria to Dayton—not after the cash register city in Ohio, but the Tennessee community that won undying notoriety as the scene of the monkey trial.

FOR DEFENSE OR FOR ATTACK?

Unless some gross breach of faith, such as the invasion of Europe or an expedition to Africa, is proposed, the army can work its way out of its snarl without the bill for unlimited service and without exposing the country to any known or imaginable danger. The civilian soldiers now in training either as Guardsmen or drafted men were not all taken at once and, consequently, will not be released at once. When the 12-month period of training begins to expire, there will be a stream of men departing and there can be a stream of men entering. The men who return to their homes are not lost to the service.

The drafted men will not begin leaving the service until November and they do not leave on a single day, as Mr. Roosevelt intimated they would. They go into the reserve by the following schedule: November, 13,806; December, 5,521; January, 73,633; February, 90,238; March, 153,159; April, 123,207; May, 56,896, and June, 79,522.

If the training has been at all successful, the National Guard must be a much improved organization. The drafted men would have learned more if they had had their equipment but probably by the end of a year the army will have done the best it could by them for that period. Politics required them for a political campaign and the army had to get along with that setup.

One claim for the selective service act was to create a reserve. The men returning from training enter it. No doubt the army has plans for the organization of a reserve which is subject to call. The politically manipulated draft act contained what was recognized as an absurd and unjust range of ages, a fault which will be corrected when all these men are in the reserve. The new men entering the army are of the proper age. They enter as a class and if we were to keep this method of military service they will be succeeded by other classes.

People who want to get in this war, not for the defense of America but for the policing of the world, are talking about an immediate peril. People who are thinking of the United States aren't fooled by these cries of alarm but they do not exclude the possibility of a long period of troubled world conditions in which the American defenses must be larger, better, and more alert than they have been before. A long term program of defense is at least a possible requirement. To meet that requirement the unlimited service act is not needed and the process of raising an army can proceed without it.

In the meantime, we may discover what sort of an army best satisfies our defense needs. With a growing reserve, and the proper supply of equipment, the army can work out its problems if the purposes of the government are to square with its promises. If we are to fill transports within the next month or so, all the deceits and blunders of the administration will come to a deadly bloom and inexperienced and ill-equipped American troops will suffer and learn by sad experience, just as the American expeditionary force did in France in the other war. American governments manage to use their cannon fodder remorselessly and the present administration in Washington seems quite prepared to repeat the performance.

THE FIGHT ON INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

The recent appearance of infantile paralysis in Illinois is a reminder that the disease is still in many respects a mysterious one. The method by which it is transmitted is not clearly understood. There is, however, much reason to believe that the contamination of ponds and pools plays some part in the process, and there is also much reason to believe that the danger can be averted by pouring a little copper sulphate in such waters. This procedure has been adopted at the Tribune farms in Du Page county and is recommended for general use by individuals and local governments. The dosage is five grains of copper sulphate to the cubic yard of water in swimming pools and reflecting pools, and one grain of the chemical to the cubic yard of water in pools in which there is aquatic life. The treatment costs little and in the quantities mentioned is harmless. At very small trouble and cost, the danger of permanent disablement to some children may be averted.

Editorial of the Day

FAREWELL, FELLOW TRAVELERS.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

The National Maritime union has concluded its convention in Cleveland with the officers and delegates protesting to the last that they were not communists, altho their resolutions and speeches followed closely the new communist party line adopted for propagation in the United States following Germany's attack on Russia.

The adoption of a resolution advocating civil liberties, accompanied by a remark from the floor that such a program would have prevented the "railroading" of Earl Browder, communist party leader, the enthusiastic reception accorded Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader who supported the communist-inspired strikes at the North American Aviation company and other activities, clearly indicated that the leaders of the union are wholly sympathetic to communist aims and policies.

We do not include in our condemnation of the union its defeat of resolutions proposing to investigate alleged communist control of the union and the investment of union funds in national defense bonds. These were clearly trick resolutions.

Nevertheless, if the delegates had wanted to avoid the stigma of the communist label, they could have done so by resolutions repudiating the communist party and expressing patriotic loyalty to the United States. Instead, they were content, as their president admitted in his closing remarks, to have the epithet of "Red" hurled at them.

The American army has not yet adopted a favorite song for this war, but one possibility definitely eliminated is: "I Hear You Calling Yoo-Hoo."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FAMOUS TREES WE'VE MET.

Washingtonia palm: The pride and joy of Los Angeles. A lofty and uncouth plant, bearing a scraggle of leaves at its summit, about as ornamental as the hind leg of an elephant. We have nicknamed it the ski-pants palm because the trunk, from the top to a few feet above the ground, is covered with a thick mat of dead leaf fibers. The Angelenos appear to worship these trees. We've heard of a householder whose sidewalk was dislocated by the roots of one of these monsters. The city compelled him to spend $125 for repairs, and then prevented him from chopping down Old Ski-Pants.

* * *

Athel tree: Discovered in Barstow, Cal., and adjacent parts of the Mojave desert. It looks like a cloud of loose green threads; its leaves are, literally, filaments. We were told that it was imported from Australia because it would flourish in arid regions; that its twigs had a slightly salty taste, and that nothing would grow under its shade. It's not mentioned in Webster or the Britannica. We may have been given a misspelling.

* * *

Monkey puzzle tree: An evergreen, so-called because its twisted branches and sharp-pointed leaves are said to discourage the climbing habits of our arboreal ancestors. Frequently mentioned in the garden scenery of English novels. We observed a specimen growing on a lawn in San Francisco. Probably can be found also in Chicago parks. A native of Chile.

* * *

Jacaranda: A rare item in dendrology because it bears blue flowers. Native to tropical America. Seen in bloom in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

* * *

Redwood and sequoia: Should be a major objective for every tourist to California. They will turn even a Chicago sewer commissioner into a tree worshiper. The Muir, Tuolumne, Mariposa, etc., groves of Big Trees are the cathedrals of botany.

At one time
Of my life
There was just me
To satisfy and pamper selfishly.
And then he came, with manners soft
And sweet,
To make me realize how incomplete
My life had been without him;
For a year
We felt life held no loveliness more dear,
For were we not sufficient unto each?
But we were unaware
Of love's vast reach!
Today, instead of two, there now are three—
This O-so-tiny-one,
My great strong one—
And me!

Humor Among the Rustics.

A farmer was sitting outside an elevator in a small central Illinois town when an expensive car pulled up to a hurried stop and the driver, in a domineering way, asked, "Is this the Peoria road?" The farmer nodded in the affirmative, and after the motorist drove off he said:

"It's the Peoria road all right, but he's headed in the wrong direction." Monsieur X.

YELLOW SKIN FROM CARROTS.

THE carrot has been called the "King of Vegetables," and most of us can devour this succulent root with gusto and with benefit. Children particularly like them raw, and perhaps this is due in part to the brilliant tint. At any rate, they are composed of 10 to 15 per cent of solid matter, a fair proportion of which is sugar.

What is the chief value of this edible? It contains large quantities of a deeply yellow compound, known as "carotene." When this material is taken into the digestive tract, it is converted into vitamin A.

Should a deficiency of this vitamin exist, night blindness is likely to appear. The patient sees well in the daytime, but at dusk the power of vision grows less or, in some cases, may be completely lost. The condition is encountered frequently in sailors in tropical seas, and is often observed among soldiers after marches in desert lands where the glare is intense. Napoleon's army in Egypt was thus afflicted. During wars in tropical and subtropical countries the disorder may take on an epidemic character.

While excessive light and glare play an important part in the causation of the disease, researches tend to give a predominant rôle to malnutrition, with a deficiency of A and possibly other food factors. It is now believed that the visual purple of the retina really consists of A, combined with a protein.

Carrots contain nearly a thousand units of A per teaspoonful. In this particular, therefore, we have little need to question the supply which our children receive when we see them nibbling slivers of this food.

But sometimes one may get too much [carotenemia]. Many an adult is obliged to visit his physician because the palms of the hands have become saffron-hued. Occasionally this type of discoloration will involve the skin of many parts of the body. The shade is different from that of jaundice, which occurs whenever the bile ducts become plugged and the secretions of the liver enter the circulation. In consequence, the urine is dark, the stools light, and the white portion of the eyes will appear yellow to brownish. None of these symptoms appears after consuming an excess of the plant under discussion.

Too much carotene may be absorbed following the immoderate use of oranges [including the peel], sweet potatoes, and papaya. While some people will transform this substance rather quickly into A [which is colorless], and store it in the liver and elsewhere, others may use the skin as a depot.

Now and then irritation of the epidermis will be brought about by prolonged contact with the raw or cooked vegetable. This phenomenon has been noted among young women employed in canning factories as well as among housewives. A true dermatitis [inflammation of the skin] may involve the hands, forearms, and face. As soon as rubber gloves are worn or handling of the product is avoided the "rash" begins to fade. Two or three weeks, however, may be required before the lesions will heal without scarring. Eruptions of this sort have been observed also from celery and it is supposed that an essential oil contained in the stalk is responsible.

Treatment consists merely in omitting the vegetable from the diet for a few weeks or until all signs of pigmentation have disappeared. The victim may rest assured that his store houses of "A" are full to overflowing. With no reinforcement, he has a reservoir adequate for several months.

TINDER BOXES FOR HOMES.

Chicago, July 22.—Another near tragedy to be marked against Chicago's neglect of its citizens' housing requirements occurred at 1644 South Ada street last week. In the dead of night fire broke out in a shed in the rear and quickly spread to two "tinder boxes" that serve as homes in this area. Two adults and four children were trapped on the second floor of one building when the rear stairway, the only means of exit, was in flames. In the second building a man with a broken limb was pulled out thru a window that let onto a narrow way between the two buildings. Only the quick action of good neighbors and an efficient fire department forestalled a serious tragedy.

Blame for conditions that woo such tragedies can be placed squarely in the lap of Mr. and Mrs. Chicago Smith—citizens. It's true they don't hold title to these buildings—as a matter of fact they have never seen them—nor thousands of dwelling structures just like them that hundreds of thousands of people are living in today.

Citizens once had the city council draw up a code—a code that set up some moderate standards to protect the lives and health of the tenants. Then the citizens went off to play golf and forgot about seeing that the standards were enforced.

One of these standards is that every dwelling of two or more stories, housing two or more families, must have at least two exits from each dwelling unit. That is the simple requirement [not enforced] to give every citizen an even chance to escape.

A great deal of thought is being given to this challenging problem by numerous city officials, several city agencies, and by the Metropolitan Housing council, all of whom are striving to find a real solution. It is the people's job.

STUART H. SINCLAIR,
Director Metropolitan Housing Council.

SILVER STAR MOTHERS, TOO.

Lafayette, Ind., July 20.—Let me compliment Mrs. Margaret Mitchell for her letter, A Gold Star Mother. Myself, I would gladly hang in my window my star if it would help, even in a small way, any future Gold Star Mothers. I would also hang silver stars with the gold one. Our hospitals and asylums are overcrowded with sons of Silver Star Mothers. These boys and many nurses are still living the war over—with shattered lives.

A Gold Star Mother has one comfort: her son is at rest, even tho her heart and home are broken, but imagine the agony of a Silver Star Mother whose son spends days, weeks, months, and years suffering—or one whose mind is forever clouded—result of the World war.

A GOLD STAR MOTHER.

FROM A BILLION BACK TO TWO.

Oak Park, Ill., July 21.—Mr. A. R. White's figures take us back to William the Conqueror, and 1,073,741,824 ancestors, but what puzzles me is this: Just when does the number of ancestors begin to decrease until finally we have only two—Adam and Eve?

A BEWILDERED READER.

THE LOWEST OF THIEVES.

Chicago, July 21.—On Saturday two bicycles, locked and chained together, were stolen from Labach woods near Gompers park, Foster avenue. One belonged to a fatherless boy who needs it badly for his paper route. Picnickers said they saw a young man and a boy hastening out of the woods heading toward Cicero avenue with two bicycles answering the description of the stolen ones. Police responded to telephone call, being given all details by the heartbroken boys.

Automobile thefts have been materially reduced. Is there not some way that the equivalent of chicken thieves can be eradicated from Chicago? In the last few years the use of bicycles has greatly increased; the "bike thief" has taken advantage of this situation to make a few paltry dollars at expense of small boys who probably can never possess more than one bicycle.

I believe the recent legislature passed a bicycle act—but did they include a title act? If not, might it not be advisable to have a certificate of title, with serial number, for bicycles? Then, if a bicycle were stolen at least it could not be sold by racketeers to stores or "fences"—because the would-be buyer would know the seller dealt in what is termed "hot bikes" and should report to police accordingly.

A bicycle is a boy's pride and joy; he uses it for paper routes; traveling to and from school to save carfare; travels miles on it in his daily career, enjoying every step he pedals. One can imagine the hollow feeling a boy would have when, after carefully locking and chaining his bicycle, he finds it stolen during the short time he is absent eating a picnic lunch with schoolmates.

Please see if you can start something to safeguard youngsters from bicycle thieves. BERNICE CONFER.

BALKY AND BULLHEADED.

Fort Custer, Mich., July 21.—Many readers are requesting that men of over 28 be released from the army. It would be a godsend for the noncommissioned officers if all those selectees over 28 were given their discharge papers at once.

Men, 28 and more, are very difficult to train, especially in matters of discipline. They are set in their ways and are a balky, bullheaded bunch of sob sisters who have a bad effect on the morale of the younger soldiers. The draft designers made their big mistake when they did not make the age limits from 18 to 27.

I find that these soreheaded, pouting, sour pusses are too old to be good soldiers and are more of a liability than an asset to the army. They could better serve America by working in defense plants. RONALD V. O'BRIEN,
Staff Sergeant, 10th Infantry.

THE ORIGINAL THERSITES.

Chicago, July 21.—Who is this Thersites to whom you compare Ickes?

OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Thersites was one of the Greeks at the siege of Troy. In Pope's translation of the "Iliad," Thersites' character is depicted as follows:

Thersites only clamour'd in the throng,
Loquacious, loud, and turbulent of tongue;
Awed by no shame, by no respect controll'd,
In scandal busy, in reproaches bold:
With witty malice studious to defame,
Scorn all his joy, and laughter all his aim—
But chief he gloried with licentious style
To lash the great, and monarchs to revile.
. . . .
Spleen to mankind his envious heart possess'd,
And much he hated all, but most the best.

FINDS WHAT "SKOKIE" MEANS.

Chicago, July 21.—Two days ago the name Skokie Village meant nothing to me. Today it stands for two things in my mind: [1] The place where my family and I were sitting in a parked car and a reckless young driver smashed into us at a terrific pace, causing us injuries and damage, and [2] the place where, as a result, I have met the most courteous police officers I have ever seen in the state of Illinois, especially Officer Holmes, who was kind to the injured ladies in our car.

My wish to Skokie Village: Less young, reckless drivers, and more fine police officers like those we met.

JURORS PONDER DEFERENCE DUE SLOT MACHINES

Should a Sheriff's Posse Disturb Their Rest?

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Taylorville, Ill., July 23.—Antecedents, habits, and general cussedness of the one armed bandit, or slot machine, were eyed warily today by a recalled grand jury.

This body, whose members came from behind tavern bars and retail counters in Taylorville, and from adjoining farms, were called upon to decide whether Sheriff Virgil Ezra had done the sporting thing.

The sheriff's frolic consisted of a call on the city jail last Thursday. He fetched along 15 deputies, one sledge hammer, arrested Chief of Police Ed Zemke, knocked down a few jail doors and carted away 108 slot machines which had been seized by State's Attorney Tom Sweeney in a raid of which the sheriff had not been informed beforehand.

While deliberations of the jurors were guarded with grim-lipped silence by Sweeney, it was reported they took an eager interest in the matter and quizzed witnesses with an avid curiosity.

Witnesses Before Jury.

Seen to enter the grand jury room were Zemke, Hayden Ettinger, Constable assigned to slot machine raids by the state's attorney; Lon Reed, chief of police in Pana; Albert Shorago, Pana police force member; Bill Adams, and H. A. Pease, Taylorville policemen.

Zemke was said to have entertained the jurors with a vivid description of the sheriff's visit. This story, oft told, opens with a tip received by Zemke that he better look out for the sheriff. Sweeney got the same tip, it was said, and hurried to the police station.

While the two men conferred on ways and means, there came the tramp of marching feet and Sheriff Ezra appeared with his 15 deputies. These fellows, says Chief Zemke, carried two pistols each.

Five deputies were assigned to guard him, Zemke reports, the other 10 sagged in the corridor under the weight of their armament, and Sheriff Ezra called loudly for the keys which guarded the slot machines.

Inveighs Against Violence.

"Let there be no bloodshed," State's Attorney Sweeney is alleged to have remarked at this point. Then he is said to have read the sheriff a legal treatise on the illegality of slot machines, and hurried away to see a man about a writ.

Sheriff Ezra is reported at this point to have explained that he had a warrant calling for the machines and the arrest of Zemke because the machines had been taken illegally from their owner. They were seized, this complaint held, while they rested defenselessly in a warehouse, with nary a nickel to disgorge.

This out of the way, the sheriff and his lads casually sledged down a couple of doors and took away the machines. They now are said to be in the county jail.

Coroner Serves Papers.

While the jurors heard this tale of adventure, the sheriff lounged comfortably in his down stairs office. He had been deprived of the chore of serving subpenas, this task having been taken over by the coroner.

"Tom Sweeney has wanted to be the big boss ever since he got to be state's attorney," the sheriff commented. "He may indict me and the whole sheriff's force, but where will he go from there?"

Taylorville, if it thought of the matter at all, held to the theory that the whole thing started when the city wanted the sheriff to observe restricted parking laws in courthouse square. In revenge, the sheriff pitched the village band—brass, drums and all—off the courthouse lawn.

Cynical fellows about town pointed out that the sheriff is a Democrat, Sweeney a Republican, and held that persons from whom the machines were seized by Sweeney had not favored the Sweeney candidacy.

Sweeney scoffed at these reports, held firmly to the theorem that he is merely trying to clean up the county, and disclaimed the idea that he was "trying to boss anybody."

RAILROAD FIGHTS ORDER TO PUT IN WATER COOLERS

The four year old effort by trainmen of the Elgin Joliet and Eastern railway to have the bucket-and-dipper combination replaced with modern icewater coolers was back in the courts yesterday. The railway filed an appeal in the Circuit court from an order by the Illinois Commerce commission April 30, directing the railway to install coolers in its 100 cabooses. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen contends the present floating ice, open buckets, and common dippers are unsanitary. The case has already been to the state Supreme court and back. The railway in its appeal yesterday contended the commission lacks jurisdiction in the dispute.

BOWEN, 2 OTHERS ARE NAMED IN MANTENO SUIT

A. L. Bowen, former state director of public welfare, and two former state officials were named defendants yesterday in a suit pending in the federal District court in Chicago to collect $150,000 damages because of the typhoid epidemic at the Manteno state hospital in 1939. Named with Bowen were Mrs. Blanche Fritz, assistant director in his department, and Dr. A. C. Baxter, former director of the state department of public health.

The suit was filed several weeks ago by nine construction workers who alleged that they contracted the disease and suffered permanent injury to their health while employed on the grounds by a private contractor. They alleged that the state officials were wilfully negligent in operation and control of the institution.

Lawyers for the Maryland Casualty company, the only defendant named in the original suit, went before Judge William H. Holly during the day and obtained an order to make the three former officials third party defendants. The company, which insured the three former officials for a total of $45,000, alleged that they agreed to reimburse it in case of loss.

Mother, 25, Charged with Drowning Son in Bathtub

Kansas City, Mo., July 23 (AP).—Mrs. Mildred Fridel, 25 years old, was charged today with first degree murder after Deputy Sheriff J. A. Purdome said she confessed to drowning her three month old son in a bathtub "because I felt sorry for my husband because he had to make the formula" to feed him.

EX-ALIMONY ROW PRISONER IS SHOT; ARREST EX-WIFE

Harry Koralewski, 31 years old, of 2245 Lyndale street, was shot and seriously wounded last night while walking at Rockwell street and Diversey avenue. At St. Elizabeth's hospital he told Policeman Harry Jensby of the Shakespeare avenue station that his divorced wife, Tillie, 20, of 2714 North Mobile avenue, a bakery employé, fired the shot with his .44 caliber revolver and then fled. She was arrested later at her home and taken to the station.

The revolver was found in a vacant lot near the scene. The victim, who is also known as Larry 'Cornell, was released from the county jail's alimony row July 11 when Judge Rudolph Desort freed 15 alimony row prisoners.

PREPARE SPEEDY TRIAL FOR YOUNG PAROLEE SLAYER

A speedy trial was indicated yesterday for Richard Martin Wesolik, 16 year old parolee from the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles, who has confessed slaying Mrs. Margaret Jung, 37. Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady at Woodstock ordered the McHenry county May grand jury recalled July 28. State's Attorney William M. Carroll said he would seek a murder indictment against Wesolik and would bring the case to trial shortly. Mrs. Jung, wife of Wesolik's farmer employer, was beaten to death July 14 at her home a mile south of Woodstock.

Boy, 2, Falls from Fourth Floor to Walk; Scratched

Francis Koga, 2 years old, was chasing an elder brother about the rear porch of the family apartment at 339 West Schiller street last night. Suddenly Francis fell thru an open space in the porch railing to the concrete walk below, striking a wooden railing on the first floor on his way down. The boy was taken to the Children's Memorial hospital, where physicians said his only apparent injuries were scratches and minor abrasions.

SHEFFIELD AVE. POLICE CAPTAIN SUSPENDED IN WAKE OF BOOKIE RAID

Capt. Frank J. Malone of the Sheffield avenue station was suspended from duty yesterday following a raid Saturday on a handbook at 3146 North Ashland avenue. The suspension came as the Chicago Crime commission was taking Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien to task for the prevalence of slot machines and large gambling dens in the area outside the city.

The action against Capt. Malone was considered as Commissioner Allman's unspoken announcement of a continuation of his policies of campaigning against gambling. Malone was the third captain to be punished because of supposed laxity in permitting horse race betting joints to operate.

The Ashland avenue handbook was new and elaborately equipped. It was in full operation Saturday afternoon when police from Allman's office found more than 350 patrons making bets. In court Monday Judge Gibson Gorman fined one man $10 on a charge of being the keeper. The others were discharged.

Capt. Malone, who is 57 years old, was sent to the Sheffield avenue district two months ago.

ELECTION JUDGE GETS ONE YEAR JAIL SENTENCE

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday sentenced Henry Brown, 35 years old, colored, 4839 Forrestville avenue, to a year in the county jail for fraud in the mayoral primary of 1939. Brown was a judge in the 58th precinct of the 4th ward, where 52 extra ballots were cast. In November, 1939, Judge Jarecki sentenced him to three years, the highest sentence ever imposed in an election fraud case. The Appellate court reversed and remanded the case, with the suggestion that a term of one year would be adequate.

WOMAN DIES OF HEART ATTACK.
Mrs. Anna Gryczan, 54 years old, collapsed and died of a heart attack last night in her home at 2237 Medill avenue.

ADMITS SLAYING WIFE AS PRELUDE TO 2 DAY SPREE

A two-day drinking spree ended yesterday for Andrew Radaszewski, 54 years old, when police found the body of his wife, Caroline, in their flat at 2621 Augusta boulevard. Radaszewski confessed to Acting Captain Christopher Hughes of the West North avenue police that he beat her with a flashlight and strangled her to death on Monday when she refused to give him $1,000. Then, he said, he took $3,350 which was sewed to her clothing—the receipts of the sale of real estate—and went on a tour of taverns.

A south side resident for whom Mrs. Radaszewski worked as a domestic notified police of her absence. When they went to her flat, the husband admitted them. He was still drunk, Capt. Hughes said, and he kept mumbling "Money all gone."

Radaszewski was released recently from the Chicago state hospital, where he had been committed for alcoholism.

Four Arrested in Raid on Belmont Ave. Bookie

Four men were arrested yesterday in a raid on a handbook at 1704 Belmont avenue by Lieut. Ollie Hoffman of North Damen avenue station. Louis Johnson, 5618 Lakewood avenue, was booked as keeper.

LOOKS DOG IN EYE AND DISCOVERS WHO'S HIS OWNER

Judge Joseph H. McGarry in Domestic Relations court was baffled for a while yesterday over the ownership of a huge German shepherd dog claimed by two families.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tanczos, 3622 North Troy street, contended that William Schrip, 46, 3724 North Troy street, a cabinet maker, entered her home while his wife, Linna, 46, talked to her, and stole her dog, Major. The Schrips, who were charged with disorderly conduct, contended the animal was their pet, Ralph. However, Mrs. Tanczos said the dog was 5 years old and the Schrips said he was 10.

Whereupon Judge McGarry called in Dr. George A. Mackenzie, a veterinarian for the Illinois Humane society, who said the animal, judging by teeth, eyes, and grayness of the muzzle, was 9 or 10 years old. The dog was awarded to the Schrips.

It breathes through an extra "Nose" for action

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU
At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.
1941

TAKE a good look at this stunning straight-eight pictured here—in one important way it's like no other in the world.

It has two "noses" to breathe through.

One of them is the forward carburetor of Buick's Compound Carburetion† — a thrifty, smaller-size gas-and-air mixer that handles all your normal driving with the greatest of ease and the maximum of thrift.

The other is a second carburetor with a very special mission.

It waits, unused, until you want action.

Maybe to take a hill. Maybe to pass a truck. Maybe to spurt through a sudden opening in traffic.

Whatever the need — you just press down the gas treadle.

The extra "nose" opens. Your engine breathes deeper. And z-i-i-i-p!—you're away in an extra burst of reserve power no other car in the world can provide.

Sounds good? Naturally—but that's only part of it.

Facts are, your engine is more efficient with Compound Carburetion's extra "nose" for action. Owner-experience shows that you actually go as much as 10% to 15% farther per gallon than you did in previous Buicks.

So better go try it. Try out Buick's bigger size, greater room, extra comfort at the same time.

Then ask delivered prices. Instead of being higher you'll find them actually lower than you'll pay anywhere else for anything like equal value.

TEST FCC'S RIGHT TO HOLD QUIZ ON RADIO STATIONS

4 Subpenaed Refuse to Give Testimony.

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—Branding the proceedings illegal, the American Newspapers Publishers' association informed the Federal Communications commission today that four subpenaed newspaper men would refuse to appear as witnesses at the commission's investigation of newspaper ownership of radio stations.

This challenge to the commission's authority was made by Elisha Hanson, ANPA general counsel, at the opening hearing of an inquiry designed to establish a policy for future ownership of stations by newspapers.

The four subpenaed men are Lieutenant Commander James G. Stahlman of the Nashville Banner, a former president of the association, now on active duty with the navy; Edwin S. Friendly, business manager of the New York Sun; Arthur Robb, editor of Editor and Publisher, and William A. Thomson, New York, director of the bureau of advertising of the ANPA.

Refuses to End Quiz.

The commission did not indicate whether it would take steps to compel the men to appear.

As the hearing opened Chairman James L. Fly informed Hanson that the commission had rejected an association request for termination of the investigation.

Denied the right to argue in behalf of his petition, Hanson filed a lengthy statement in which he said that the commission lacked authority to investigate any of the matters outlined by it as within the scope of the inquiry.

Fly said the inquiry would touch on the newspaper business only insofar as it concerned radio.

Fly and Hanson Debate.

The commission's ruling touched off a heated exchange between Fly and Hanson in which words flew so fast that spectators missed some of them. Talking later with reporters Hanson termed the commission's action "high-handed and arbitrary."

Fly read an opening statement in which he said that the question of newspaper ownership of radio stations had been "a topic of interest both in congress and elsewhere for a long time." He added that because of the large number of newspaper applications for frequency modulation stations [43 out of 99], the commission had decided to hold a general inquiry rather than pass on the issue in each application. He said the commission would allow ample time to argue legal questions.

THE PHONE ISN'T OUT OF ORDER BUT ITS USER IS

Detectives sent to learn why a certain phone booth in the Illinois Central station at 12th street went mysteriously "Out of Order" about the same time each afternoon, found yesterday that the answer is Milton Goldblum, 32 years old, 4418 North St. Louis avenue, a newsboy.

They saw Milton take some money from a taxi driver, walk to the booth, ignoring the "Out of Order" sign, and telephone. Listening, they discovered that Milton was laying a bet.

Milton admitted that he places about $80 daily for various race fans around the station, and said he hung the sign on the booth so that he could have it to himself. It was, in a way, his office, he said, and his favorite bookie even called him back in the booth to report results. He will be charged with disorderly conduct.

MRS. L. J. WILBUR DIES; RITES TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Mrs. Nelle Wilbur, the wife of Louis J. Wilbur, a retired executive of Swift & Co., died yesterday in her apartment in the South Shore country club. She was 64 years old, and had been a resident of Chicago for most of her life. Surviving are her husband; a son, Harding, vice president of the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank, and three daughters. Mrs. R. N. Quinn of New Rochelle, N. Y., Mrs. Justin C. Webster of Northbrook, and Mrs. William Penn Budd of Chicago. Services will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 315 West 63d street.

GEO. L. KITTREDGE DIES AT 81; FAMED ENGLISH SCHOLAR

Barnstable, Mass., July 23 (AP).—George Lyman Kittredge, 81 years old, authority on Shakespeare and middle English literature and for 48 years a Harvard university professor, died today. "Kitty" to Harvard men, Kittredge was Gurney professor of English literature when he retired in 1936. A fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, he held honorary degrees from American, Canadian, and English universities. He also was widely known for his writings on English grammar and usage.

Woman Wounded in Back While Trimming Hedge

Mrs. Caroline Stando, 27 years old, was shot in the back last night while trimming the hedge in front of her home at 2821 Hilock avenue. She was taken to Peoples' hospital, where physicians said the wound was not serious. Deering police began searching for a neighbor, Frank Kryowski, 20, of 2823 Short street, when they were told that he had been shooting cats with a .22 caliber rifle.

FIND GUGGENHEIM LEFT ESTATE FAR BELOW A MILLION

New York, July 23 (AP).—Preliminary estimates that the estate of William Guggenheim, industrialist and amateur song writer, would total a million dollars were drastically scaled down today when the will was filed for probate in Surrogate's court. The will disinherited Guggenheim's widow and son and left his estate to four former show girls.

Attorney Pearce H. E. Aul said that altho the higher estimate was correct when the will was drawn in January, 1940, the estate now might be even less than $20,000 after meeting immediate expenses, outstanding debts, and other encumbrances. Formal value was listed at "more than $10,000."

The four women named to share equally in the estate were Mildred Borst, Florence Sullivan, and Mary Alice Rice, all of Manhattan, and Lilyan Andrus of Los Angeles. Miss Borst's attorney, Milton J. Harrison, said the 72 year old philanthropist had been living at a rate of about $50,000 a year and gave every indication of being a man of great wealth.

JOHN L. COYNE, 62, DIES IN HOSPITAL; STORE EXECUTIVE

John L. Coyne, an executive of Mandel Brothers department store for many years, died yesterday in Michael Reese hospital of a heart attack. He was 62 years old and lived at 7000 South Shore drive. Mr. Coyne went to work for Mandel Brothers in 1893 as a delivery boy. He rose to become manager of the adjustment bureau, superintendent of the store, and store manager. Since last April he had served in an executive advisory capacity. He leaves a son, John Vincent, of Van Nuys, Cal. The funeral will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 3000 East 79th street to St. Bride's church. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

KILLED BY AUTO AS HE RUNS FOR A STREET CAR

William Burns, 50 years old, of 3517 North Linder avenue, a truck driver, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by an automobile at Diversey and Elston avenues while running to board a street car. Mathew Skryzdel, 1114 North Wolcott avenue, was the driver.

George Schmitt, 44, of 3544 North Leavitt street, a truck driver, was killed by a car driven by Albert Golk, 33, of 6409 North Oakley avenue. Schmitt was struck at Addison street and Damen avenue.

James S. Cole, 27, of Peoria, died in St. Clara's hospital at Lincoln in Logan county of injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Lincoln on Saturday. He was the second to die as a result of the accident. His niece, Miss Marie Johnson, 18, of 1128 George street, died Monday.

Miss Lorraine Littner, 22, of Custer Park, died in St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet, of injuries suffered earlier in the day when a car in which she was riding struck a viaduct support on route 66, half a mile north of Joliet. The car was driven by Harry R. Vimpenny, 23, of Custer Park.

Stephen J. Damian, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Damian, 2027 North Wood street, died yesterday in Montpelier, Idaho, of injuries suffered on Tuesday in an automobile accident there. Damian, a member of the army air corps, was en route from Minneapolis, Minn., to Hamilton field, Cal., with three other air corps members, who were injured. Their automobile left the highway on a curve.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 525 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 369 were killed in Chicago, where 13,591 were injured in the same period.

MOTHER ADMITS CULT TIE AFTER ALLEGED RAPE

Los Angeles, Cal., July 23 [Special].—Altho steadfast in her insistence that her daughter, Irma, now 19 years old, was raped eight years ago while a pupil in the Mazdaznan religious movement, Mrs. Ida Weber today admitted that she and her family continued to frequent Mazdaznan circles after the alleged rape.

Mrs. Weber made these admissions while under cross-examination at the trial of a suit for $1,000,000 damages brought against the reorganized Mazdaznan Temple association of Associates of God and against Henry Sorge, one of the organization's disciples.

Mrs. Weber had charged under questioning by her daughter's attorneys, that during a meeting of Mazdaznan followers at Norco, Cal., in 1933, the girl was assaulted by Sorge with the aid of the organization's head, the late Dr. Otoman Zar-Adusht Ha'Nish.

BOY OF 12 SLIPS FROM AN INNER TUBE AND DROWNS

Clayton Bougher, 12 years old, of 3804 South Sacramento avenue, drowned yesterday when he slipped from an inner tube in which he was floating in the McKinley park lagoon at 38th street and Bell avenue. The boy and his brothers, Allen, 8; Roger, 9, and Marshall, 10, were wading in the lagoon when they saw a police squad car approach. The other boys left the lagoon, and failed to notice immediately that Clayton had disappeared. Fire department rescue squad 9, under Lieut. Joseph Scavone, worked over the boy for an hour after lifeguards from the nearby park swimming pool recovered the body.

Two Troths of Interest Made Known

BY JUDITH CASS.

TWO engagement announcements head today's social news. Alden K. Morgan of Lake Shore drive is making known that his daughter, Elizabeth Wilbourne, is going to be married to Otto Baptist of New York, and Dr. and Mrs. Hugh McKenna of Lincoln Park West and Mackinac Island, Mich., are announcing that their daughter, Jeanne, is engaged to Lieut. Gerard Markey.

Miss Morgan and Mr. Baptist will be married on Aug. 9. They met a year or two ago in Winnetka, where he used to reside, and their friendship was renewed in South America, where Miss Morgan and Miss Mary Alice Huddle of Winnetka spent several months traveling. Mr. Baptist, whose mother, Mrs. Joris Jan Baptist, lives in Groningen, Holland, was on a business trip to South America when Miss Huddle and Miss Morgan were there.

Miss Morgan attended the Girls' Latin school and Pine Manor.

Miss McKenna, Lieut. Markey to Be Married on Aug. 6.

Miss McKenna and Lieut. Markey will be married on Aug. 6 in the Church of St. Augustine, San Juan, Puerto Rico. She was educated at the Francis W. Parker school and the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Chicago, and at Manhattanville college in New York. Lieut. Markey, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Markey of Beachstone, City Island, N. Y., is a graduate of Iona preparatory school and Fordham university. He is a former member of New York's old 7th regiment and now is in an observation squadron of the army air corps stationed at Losey field, Ponce, Puerto Rico.

Miss Barbara Lawrence Being Married This Afternoon

Miss Barbara Lawrence and Joseph Hughes Newton are to be married at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of St. James' church, the Rev. Duncan H. Browne officiating. The most informal sort of a reception will follow in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Lawrence, with only the families and a few intimate friends present.

Miss Lawrence's only attendant will be her niece and namesake, Barbara Schulz. Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schulz, and the bride's other sister, Mrs. William Harshe and Mr. Harshe, who will usher, will be among the few at the ceremony. Mr. Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newton, will have his brother, Frank, as best man. The other usher will be Robert Carlson.

Mr. Newton and his bride will go away on a brief wedding trip now, and will have a longer one this fall. They will make their home on the near north side.

Mrs. Laurence H. Armour is entertaining at the Onwentsia's weekly buffet supper and dancing party tonight for three Lake Forest debutantes. They are Miss Frances Clow, Miss Annie Lawri Ryerson, and Miss Dudley Winston.

Reception Is Being Given for Carlos Chavez Today.

The Ravina Festival executive committee and the Pan-American council are combining to give a reception in McKinlock court of the Art institute this afternoon for Carlos Chavez, who is conducting at Ravinia Park this week. Receiving will be Percy B. Eckhart, president of the festival association, and Mrs. Eckhart; Dr. Isaac Cox, president of the council, and Mrs. Cox; Daniel Catton Rich, director of the institute, and Mrs. Rich; the consul-general of Mexico, Ricardo Hill, and Mrs. Hill, and the consul, Cosme Hinojosa Jr., and his wife.

Tonight the Eckharts will have with them in their box Mr. and Mrs. Judson Stone and Holman Pettibone. In the Charles H. Morse box will be the Charles H. Swifts, and Mrs. Swift's nephew, Dieter Dux; Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins and their daughter, Francia, and Mrs. Carlos de Linga.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells Farnham Giving Sailing Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells Farnham are giving a party tomorrow night that is certain to be gay and interesting. They have invited a group of friends to assemble at the foot of Jackson boulevard at 6:45 o'clock to spend the evening sailing and enjoying a picnic supper aboard the boat that they have rented for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. James Grierson Shennan [Bette Rich] of St. Charles, have named their son, born on Tuesday at the Passavant hospital, after his father. The infant's grandparents are Mrs. R. Joseph Rich of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Grierson Shennan of Hazleton, Pa.

Young Visitor in Barrington

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Little Miss "Kirkie" Fobes lives in St. Paul, but because she is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Robert W. Buckley, in Barrington, she will be on hand for the 8th annual country house and garden tour of the Garden club of Barrington on Aug. 1. The young animals at the various estates will interest her far more than the houses and gardens, however. This young kid will be seen at the Andrew Dallstreams' farm, which is one of the six places that will be open on Friday of next week from 11 to 5 o'clock.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

1941 Note.

True stories are sometimes the funniest. Jerry Freshman tells of the friend who took a chic looking girl to dine at a fashionable restaurant in New York.

"My, you look sunburned and healthy. Have you been away at the seashore?" he inquired.

"No, I got this sun tan picketing," she answered.

SUMMER RECIPE.

Stir well one cup of deepest azure sky
And dot with fluffy clouds dropped from a spoon;
Fold in a garden and the night wind's sigh
And don't forget to add one round gold moon.
Sip slowly in a hammock 'neath the trees. . . .

A Nod from the Gods.

Among the many turned away from Percy Grainger's recital in Evanston last week were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bushell of Chicago. They stood about the ticket office in Scott hall hoping a brace of tickets might be turned in, then finally departed, shortly before concert time. As they walked along the outer walls of Scott hall they heard a piano being played as only a master could play. They listened and heard parts of two selections. Then the pianist walked toward the door and they had a glimpse of the bushy head of Percy Grainger. They had heard him warming up for his recital.

On Police Horses.

If you see that interesting movie short on the training and duties of police horses being shown in Chicago movie theaters, don't believe that idyllic ending that shows the police horse pensioned after his years of service to the public, and turned out to pasture in his old age. That is not true of Chicago horses. In Chicago, the police horse, when his muzzle begins to grow gray and his usefulness to the police department is over, is sold at auction, generally as a riding horse. Why can't Chicago police horses be pensioned, if New York horses can?

Polvorones.

Chicagoans invited to meet Carlos Chavez at a reception in McKinlock court at the Art institute this afternoon will eat Mexican cakes called "polvorones" with their punch. The word comes from polvo—Spanish for dust, so-called because there is so much shortening in the cookies they pulverize in the mouth. A Polk street Mexican baker made them specially for the Pan-American Council which, with the Ravinia festival committee is giving the patio tea. In Mexico the cakes are eaten at fiesta time, says the baker, Manuel Quintanilla. You eat a polvorone, then take a drink of hot chocolate and the polvorone melts immediately.

Outdoor Concert Tonight.

Siegmund Levarie will be guest conductor at a free outdoor concert to be given by the Illinois WPA Symphony orchestra this evening in Hutchinson court, 57th street and University avenue. Naomi Cook, soprano, will be soloist.

Little Tommy Is Claimed by Two Mothers

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

With high hopes two mothers each claimed Tommy, Chicago's lost little boy, as their son yesterday.

It needed no Solomon decision, however, for Tommy recognized neither. His footprints and the color of his eyes were also deciding factors that this solemn eyed, blond little youngster belonged to some one else, some one who either cruelly abandoned him or who is ill or dead.

Tommy was found by Robert Bean of the Brookfield zoo wandering alone among the exhibits Sunday, July 13. He was waiting for his "daddy's pink twuck" which never appeared. Since that time, Tommy has been a son of science, undergoing thoro mental, physical and racial examinations by scientific experts. They have determined that he is a nice, healthy Greek or Italian boy.

Mrs. Mabel Camper of La Crosse, Wis., thought she was his mother yesterday. She saw an appealing picture of him and contacted THE TRIBUNE. "Last October, his father, Samuel Camper, took our little boy, Sammy Jr., for a walk and I haven't seen either since," she declared. "The picture in the paper looks just like Sammy. He used to pose like that with his fingers in his mouth and then too, Sammy can sound like Tommy when a child says it."

Sammy Camper's father was a suit presser and frequently drove a "twuck." Sammy was just Tommy's age. He was blond. At one time Mr. Camper had struck his wife in the throat and Tommy's last memory of his mother was that "her throat was cut." The picture fitted neatly except that Tommy's eyes are a deep brown and Sammy's, his mother thought, were blue.

To leave nothing unchecked, however, THE TRIBUNE obtained pictures of Mrs. Camper, her husband, and her son. They were given to Tommy yesterday. "I know who that is," he cried excitedly as Miss Minnie Jones, investigator for the Juvenile court, held her breath.

"Who is it, Tommy?" she asked.

"It's a baby boy," he replied gleefully, and pointed to the little boy who could have been his double.

"Is that your daddy and mother?" Miss Jones ventured, showing him a picture of the couple,

"No," he declared emphatically.

Tommy was paraded out again for Mrs. Anna Dotsch of Berwyn, who clutched pictures of a blond little boy in her hand. She stared at Tommy. He could be her boy whom she hadn't seen in a year and a half. The pictures looked like him. Mrs. Dotsch's and Tommy's profiles were similar. The father, who had taken the boy, was a taxicab driver, and in little boy's language a cab could be a "twuck."

There was one final proof, footprints. They didn't match. Tommy still belonged to nobody, Chicago's little lost boy.

Even Canaries Find Life Is Made More Difficult by War

Washington, D. C., July 23 [Special].—For the canary bird, life is becoming more complex because of the war.

Persons who had adjusted themselves to the formerly correct notion that canaries came from Germany, not the Canary Islands, have another adjustment to make.

Most canaries coming into the United States now are from Japan, which shipped about 50,000 during the first half of this year, the department of commerce announced today.

The principal problem in this new trade which it is hoped can be overcome, is the heavy mortality of birds during the long Pacific voyage.

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Small bow tied turban of crisp striped straw material makes the eye catching headline for summer. It's a cool, flattering idea for any dark colored daytime ensemble, particularly with dark sheers. The huge envelope bag exactly matches the good looking hat.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

If you don't like clutter but do want your beauty aids at hand when you need them you'll immediately see the good sense of possessing a little kit that contains five essentials and that's inexpensive and compact. It's the kind of thing the career girl can keep in her desk and the traveler can tuck in her week-end bag.

Housed in the attractive box are five basic treatment items to guard your good looks. Jars are special sizes but generous. First, there is cleansing cream which you'll undoubtedly recognize as an old friend and a famous one. Seems to us it's been on the market since the memory of woman "runneth not to the contrary," and its shining reputation for quality has never been dimmed. It's a rich cream with softening as well as cleansing powers.

Then there is a jar of lubricating cream. When you tote your little beauty kit on week-ends this is the cream you must be sure to use at night, especially if you've spent a day in the wind and sun. Be especially careful to stroke it into the delicate skin around the eyes.

These two creams are ranged on one side of the little box. In the center there is a generous bottle of skin lotion, mild but most refreshing, that will give your skin the super-clean feeling after cleansing with cream.

The remaining two jars contain a makeup base, a filmy cream that is rated among the most perfect of all foundations, and a mask. This last is a new preparation and a peach. It's a pickup that will revive you after a tiring day; because it stimulates ever so gently it leaves the skin with a radiant glow and a velvety finish.

Good Time Is Had by All at Lake View Music Festival

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

With friendliness the keynote, nearly 1,000 parents, their children, and neighbors enjoyed a three hour program given last night in the air conditioned banquet hall of the Lincoln-Belmont YMCA at 3333 North Marshfield avenue. It was the second Lake View Community Council Music and Cherry festival and this year conducted as a north side preliminary to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S 12th annual Chicagoland Music Festival which will be held in Soldiers' field on Saturday night, Aug. 16.

Everybody had a good time, from the moment the master of ceremonies, Leo Lerner, editor of the Lincoln-Belmont Booster, started the program with a TPA massed chorus number to the choosing of the cherry queen.

Patricia Dickey, 14 year old student in the Greeley branch of the Lake View High school, was chosen. Miss Patricia is blonde and her hobby is swimming and diving off the rocks in Lake Michigan. She won over seven other contestants.

Brief talks were given during the evening by Edith Mason, opera star, who was a special guest of the affair, and by Harold Giroux, president of the community council, who said that next summer the festival will be held outdoors in the new Lane Technical Athletic stadium. Every available seat was taken last night and it is believed that 10,000 persons will turn out for the 1942 production.

Harry V. Starr, secretary treasurer of the council, and Miss Ruth V. Peterson, choral director, were co-chairmen of the affair which is the first of three Chicago sectional festivals being held in conjunction with the Chicagoland event.

John Fleming, department store manager, was chairman of the cherry queen judging committee which included Walter W. Weiss, Charles Lang, Mary Donoghue, Alvin Ellison, Margaret Owen, Gladys Wolter, Dorothy Peyton, Theron W. Merryman, Allen Hoban, Herman Caplan, Hebert Klee, and George Seebacher.

"A Debt Is Paid"

By Olga L. Rosmanith

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

When Kathleen Murray, New York secretary, inherits an income and a home on Lake Willow, in California, she resigns her job and goes there to live. She meets Hugo Lang, whose play is being produced in the local summer theater, and soon finds herself falling in love with him. A rich girl, Carol Keyes, is backing the production and insists that she and her current infatuation, Maurice Reed, play the lead rôles in spite of their mediocre ability. Ellen Mount, Hugo's foster mother, and Jeanie Payson, daughter of the Willow lake hotel keeper, have minor rôles. Kathleen brings Toby Allerton from New York—at her expense—to improve the cast. The theme of the drama is murder, and it holds the audience tensely, but Kathleen has an uncomfortable presentiment when Wilkie Stokes, another member of the colony, discusses the fascination of killing. Hugo tells Kathleen he loves her, but will not marry her until he makes some money. Kathleen feels that his foster mother doesn't like her.

INSTALMENT X.

MISSING DAUGHTER.

Kathleen followed Toby indoors and went up the shallow staircase humming to herself. How could it be possible for human life to be so perfect? She had everything—everything. Going into her airy bedroom with its two immense plate glass windows overlooking the lake, she heard a distant mutter of thunder. She leaned over one of the sills and looked out.

A roll of heavy gray clouds with an ominous inky darkness under their bellies was moving on Willowdale, but it was still clear blue overhead. Lightning flashed there as she looked, followed after a long pause by another growl of thunder. Kathleen liked thunderstorms. Leaving the window to bathe and dress she formulated a hope that the storm would come this way.

The storm did come over slowly, darkening the summer twilight. It was quite dark by 9 o'clock. Kathleen, Toby and Hugo sat out on the veranda discussing the plot of a new play which had popped almost complete into Hugo's head. It had been inspired by Toby's mature and useful ability as an actor.

"Think," suggested Hugo, "of a boy of 16 inheriting a vast estate and his frail life standing between unscrupulous greed and a mountain of money."

He produced some vivid arresting characters like rabbits out of a hat.

Toby was practical. "If those birds were after me in life I would certainly know it."

"But the boy is not you—"

"Any boy in those circumstances would be suspicious—"

Hugo's brow was corrugated and his fingers were playing havoc with his hair. Kathleen knew the signs. He was in his world of illusion and he had forgotten her.

"Quite so, professor. You shall be suspicious. But that will complicate the plot. You shall suspect the wrong people—"

Lightning plucked the landscape from darkness, silvering the trees and painting the lake a vivid violet. The thunder was immediate and shattering.

"Yoo-hoo—" called a girl's voice in the following breathless silence.

Hugo went over to the rail of the veranda. "Hello there—who is it?"

"O Hugo, I want you. It's me! Jeanie!"

Kathleen joined Hugo at the rail and looked over. Jeanie was down there on the grass the lakes-edge outside the circle of light cast by the villa windows into the darkness.

"Come up here, Jeanie," Kathleen invited.

"No. I want to talk to Hugo alone."

Kathleen felt the beat of her heart. Maybe she was being possessive, but this moody girl could be the limit.

"We're discussing something important now. Can't you leave it till tomorrow?"

Jeanie advanced into the light and her cheeks shone with the tears on them.

"This is terribly important. Please, Hugo, come." Without looking at Kathleen she added—" unless you, too, have got to be selfish."

Kathleen felt a heavy drop of rain splash on her head.

"Why can't you come and talk up here? There's a storm coming."

Hugo put his hand over hers on the veranda rail and squeezed it. "I think I'll go, dear. She seems to be in real trouble."

"Then take my car. You haven't got yours with you."

"Please don't," begged Jeanie. "We don't need it where we're going—"

Hugo touched Kathleen's cheek with his finger and ran down the steps.

"Will you be coming back?" she called after him.

"No, I think not. I'll be over early tomorrow."

Kathleen watched them disappear into the gloom along the lake path. The lightning showed them walking rapidly by the water side on the short cut to the hotel for the quivering fragment of a minute. Then a curtain of darkness fell and the thunder rattled. Kathleen was not wondering why Hugo should be necessary to Jeanie to straighten out her troubles. She was vexed with the girl for her cavalier behavior. Sweet and obliging as she was, she could change into this imperious stranger almost giving orders, so pressing were her demands.

The rain began to drum on the leaves and drive into the veranda. "Come on, Toby," said Kathleen, "let's go indoors."

She forgot her vexation in wondering whether Hugo would reach shelter without getting too much of a wetting. Probably they were already under the heavy trees on the drive up to the hotel. Maybe that's where the trouble is, she thought. Some stranger getting drunk or trying to leave without paying her mother.

Kathleen was sleepy with her long hike and the strong air up on the mountain. She sent Toby off to bed and went to bed herself at half past 10 without any premonition that the picture the lightning flash had shown her of Jeanie hurrying along the lake path with Hugo had been the last time she would see the girl alive.

It was still dark when Susan woke her, altho the sky had the wan paling look of the early hours of the morning.

"I hate to wake you, Miss Kathleen, but Mrs. Payson's on the telephone. She won't leave off ringing till she's spoken to you."

Kathleen sat up and pushed the hair out of her eyes. She felt drugged and confused with the suddenness of the wakening from her deep sleep.

"What on earth does she want, Susan?"

"It's about Jeanie. Jeanie hasn't gone home."

Kathleen turned back the covers and slid out of bed, mentally ordering a bedside telephone. Susan held her wrap and shoes.

"Why does she think I can tell her where Jeanie is?"

"She's tried everywhere else," Susan told her as they went downstairs. Kathleen went into the little book room, sat down at her desk and took up the telephone.

"I'm sorry to wake you, Miss Murray," said Mrs. Payson's deep rather masculine voice. "But have you seen Jeanie tonight?"

"Yes, I did see her earlier. A little after 9, I think. She came here to speak to Hugo—"

"O, thank God, somebody's seen her. Did she say where she was going after that?"

"No. She'd been crying and she said it was important for Hugo to go with her. So he went."

"Did he come back?"

"No. We were both tired and it was rather late."

"Crying, you said?"

"Yes. But I don't know what about. Listen, Mrs. Payson, why don't you send somebody up to Mr. Lang's cabin? And ask him to come down to you. He'll be able to tell you all you want to know."

"Hugo isn't there, Miss Murray. He was still not there 10 minutes ago. I've been up and down to look every half hour all night."

Kathleen's skin went cold as if she were doused with icy water.

"Good gracious, what time is it?"

"Four o'clock."

Kathleen sought wildly for a solution. "Something must have happened to them. They could be struck by lightning or run down by a car—or—or anything. Have you called the police?"

Mrs. Payson did not answer at once. Kathleen felt the implication of this hesitating silence. She was right. The woman said finally—"No. I thought it might be something the police had best know nothing about."

Kathleen boiled up with impetuous anger. "Then if you don't, I will. If they're hurt and helpless somewhere, they ought to be rescued at once. Will you? Or shall I?"

"I'll do it then, Miss Murray. Perhaps you're right."

"And let me know the minute you have news, please."

"Yes, I'll do that."

Borrower of Cosmetics Is Unhygienic

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

We have a letter from a young business woman, speaking for an office group:

"Dear Miss Donnelly: There is a girl in our office who always is asking to borrow some cosmetic item. Sometimes it is a comb. At others she'll ask to use a towel, altho she, along with the rest of us, is supplied with her own. Face powder is something she seems to consider common office property. She asked to borrow my lipstick the other day, and to avoid having to give it to her, I skipped out of sight until she had persuaded some one else to let her have hers."

There was more to the letter, but the gist of it is the cosmetic borrowing habit which has no place in today's well grounded habits of hygiene. Our correspondent wanted to know how to handle the borrower.

Well, if a straight talk with her on hygiene care of one's personal belongings would have no effect, perhaps the office victims might club together and provide the borrower with an inexpensive kit with orders that she keep it in her desk drawer for her own use.

Personally, we don't think the occasion calls for delicate handling. It's too well known today how bacteria are carried from mouth to mouth on borrowed lipsticks; how dandruff and other scalp disorders may be transmitted thru others' use of a comb.

We say, let the borrower's face go shiny, let her lips and cheeks remain untinted, and let her hair go uncombed if it means risking anything by lending her any such item, and risk it is.

Two Loves and Quandary Keep Youth Worried

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

"I have two love problems to face. The first one is this: In the firm for which I work there is a nice girl with whom I have fallen in love, but I haven't been introduced to her yet and I don't know how to meet her. We see each other every day, but all we do is just look at each other. How can I meet her, is problem No. 1.

"No. 2. I like another girl very much, but I have so much competition that when I'm with her it makes me feel blue. I am extremely jealous of all the other fellows. Can you help me?" SID.

Are you sure, Sid, you're not casting sheep's eyes at your No. 1 problem, hoping she'll give you the undivided attention denied by by your No. 2 problem? Better make up your mind about that first. However, it does seem to us, Sid, that you aren't due for success in any department of love when you back down on competition that easily. Faint-hearted, aren't you? And faint heart, as the old adage runs, never won fair lady. Instead of getting all tied up in jealousy knots and melancholy doldrums, why not step on it and work the other fellows out of place in No. 2's affections? That's the way the winners operate. They won't admit competition, much less resign themselves to it without a struggle.

All of which leads up to the new girl toward whom you're turning. She may offer you competition, too. So you'd better be prepared. Most girls have admirers other than the latest one to appear on the scene.

About meeting girl No. 1, it would seem that when working for the same organization an introduction would be a simple matter. But here, again, you've got to step on it and go after what you want. Make it your business to cultivate some one who can introduce you. Don't be a weak sister, mooning around wishing that things would come easy.

It's a shame that liver has been so long abused by improper cooking that it is commonly disliked. Carefully cooked liver has a delicate flavor and is so tender that you don't need to use your knife in cutting it. But the common "boarding house" variety of liver is dark brown, shriveled and tough, with both flavor and food value ruined in the preparation.

Liver is one of our most valuable foods, and can be so easily prepared to be palatable that there's really little excuse for a platter of unappealing, overcooked meat.

Calf liver is the most delicate in flavor, but no more nutritious than beef, pork, or lamb liver, than which it's more expensive. The best way to prepare calf liver is by broiling. Beef liver, being less tender, takes braising, while pork and lamb livers may be broiled, braised, or fried.

Pour boiling water over lamb or pork liver before cooking it, and drain at once. Do not scald calf or beef liver.

TO BROIL LIVER.

This is the best cookery method for all liver except beef. Have the liver sliced a half to three-fourths inch thick. Scald lamb or pork liver, but not calf liver. Dip in melted butter or bacon fat, lay on the broiler rack, and broil at moderate temperature just long enough for the meat to change color, about three minutes to the side. Salt and pepper the liver and serve it with broiled bacon, French fried onions, or both.

Cooking the liver under a hot broiling unit, or leaving it in the oven too long, will ruin it. Liver should be cooked at almost the last minute, just before dinner is to be served.

BRAISED LIVER.

Use this method for beef, lamb, or pork liver. Scald pork or lamb liver first. Dip pieces of liver in flour and brown in a little hot fat. Season with salt and pepper, reduce the heat to low, and cover the skillet. Cook until tender, about 20 minutes. Avoid high heat or you'll get tough meat every time.

Diced vegetables and a small amount of water or tomato juice may be added to the browned liver and the combination may be baked half an hour at 300 degrees, in a covered casserole.

Any kind of liver may be made into patties. Simmer the liver in hot water for about 2 minutes, which will make grinding easy. Grind meat, season with salt and pepper, and form into patties. Wrap them in bacon, brush over with bacon fat or butter, and broil until lightly browned, turning once. Remember, the broiling heat should be low.

Broiled liver, liver patties, and liver loaf [made from ground liver] are especially good for children.

Universal day—Get a new slant on things today. Break the routine.

August—Those who are in a four year this year ought to make plans to enjoy the month of August. It should be a very social month, bringing in old friends and giving you opportunity to make new friends. Stress your own personality and try to express something you feel either in your contacts with friends or thru correspondence, telephone, or personally. Be gay and charming, express yourself freely, but don't gossip or waste words. Make everything you say and do add some pleasure to yourself and others. If you make yourself happy you usually can pass on some of your enthusiasm to others and lift them a little, too. Entertain and accept invitations.

Adolescents Need Freedom for Activity

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

It is always my intention not to violate a confidence in my correspondence, so I avoid using in this column, without the writer's permission, letters which seem to be of a personal nature. Occasionally, however, a number of letters will reach my desk which naturally form themselves into a group. They present so much the same problem that to quote one is to quote all. In order to help the daughters who are in this special dilemma, I want to use one letter to describe it.

"Dear Mrs. Bevans:

"Please send me help in regard to understanding adolescent girls.

"Your recent article certainly fit my husband. My daughter and I are having a trying time with him, as he persists in being extremely strict with her and disapproves all her friends. She is not allowed to go out after supper or to the movies or roller skating with a boy. Her father says she is too young. My girl is 15 and is a big help around the house, as we have other children.

"If I let her do something she sets her heart on, my husband says I am too easy and I will be to blame if our daughter ever makes a 'misstep.' But I think she should have some freedom and not be tied down completely. I have tried to make her father see things my way, but it is impossible. And his word is law. She now threatens to run away, and I am at my wit's end. Could you advise me?"

Fathers such as this one do not mean to be unkind. They honestly feel that in this way they are protecting their daughters from a special sort of unpleasant, or even tragic, experience. They feel that if they can keep their girls close at home until they are of marriageable age, and even then watch over them, they will be "safe."

Such is not necessarily the case, nor it is wise. The more natural and eventually desirable way is for young boys and girls to have each other's companionship. But that does not mean that a daughter [or a son] should be turned loose, ignorant and inexperienced. On the contrary, parents should, as a matter of course, know who their daughters' friends are, become acquainted with them, and make them welcome in the girl's home.

Another safeguard for a girl [and a boy, too] is that they shall, over a period of years, and little by little, be given some knowledge of the world as it is, and of the people who are in it.

And surely, for the sake of their understanding of the whole of life and of themselves, they should from childhood up be given gradually that knowledge which we call comprehensively, for lack of a better term, "sex education."

Baby Hawk Surprise Visitor to Offices of Loop Attorneys

At lunch time yesterday the law firm of John V. Ryan and John T. Lanigan, 105 West Monroe street, had an unexpected visitor. A brown and gray bird with a speckled breast, about the size of a small pigeon, flew in the 13th story window and settled on the sill. Uncertain of its identity, the partners attached a string to the visitor's leg to keep him there until his name was known, and Florence Samp gave him some water. He was identified as a baby hawk. The Anti-Cruelty society called for him in the afternoon.

Miss Angele Centilivre and Waldo H. Logan Wed

Waldo H. Logan, aviation enthusiast and explorer, was married yesterday to Miss Angele Centilivre in the home of Mr. Logan's mother, Mrs. Josephine Logan, 1150 Lake Shore drive. The bride, daughter of Louis Alfonse Centilivre of Fort Wayne, Ind., came here six years ago and has lived at 181 Lake Shore drive. She is 30 years old and Logan 43. It was his third marriage. His latest exploration took him deep sea diving in the West Indies. The couple are departing for New York City on their honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Logan's home at 1250 North State street.

Fashionable Sunback Frocks

MISS' ACTIVE SPORTS FROCKS.

This year the sunback dresses are something out of the ordinary in fashion appeal, and the two models in our patterns today are illustrations of this new charm. Notice the interesting necklines, the functionally designed shoulder straps, and graceful and comfortable skirts, and the capacious pockets. Spanking white sharkskin or piqué is an excellent choice, but you may choose colors if you like. Both patterns provide blouses to convert the frocks into jumper dresses.

Style No. 2902 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19.
Style No. 2841 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.
Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Shrewd play is at times nothing more than the ability to choose the lesser of two evils. This sounds easy, but considering that many a declarer has tossed away his contract simply because he overlooked this point, appearances must be deceptive.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond king. Declarer ducked, hoping West would continue with diamonds. West, however, did not "fall." Quite well aware that declarer was probably attempting a Bath coup, West refused to be a victim. Instead, he made the perfectly normal and logical shift to a low spade, the very move declarer should have anticipated. East won with the ace and returned his original fourth best spade. Declarer was now helpless. The defenders were establishing three spade tricks before their heart ace was removed, and these, in addition to the diamond trick originally surrendered, were sufficient to defeat the contract.

Declarer had feared something harmless, and had overlooked a real menace. With four diamonds to the ace-jack in his own hand and three in dummy's, there was no threat in the diamond situation. The first trick should have been snatched without hesitation and the heart suit immediately attacked. If East took the lead and had another diamond to lead thru declarer, that would mean that West's diamond suit could be no longer than four cards and, in fact, since the jack still would be twice guarded, it could not be trapped by one lead thru. Even if declarer had held three low diamonds with the ace, he should not have ducked. Surely the fortunate possession of the jack should not have been his undoing. It required no great imagination to see that, upon ducking, a spade shift would be imminent and, probably, fatal.

This Is Sally's Party Day at Cub Ball Park

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We're off to Wrigley field this afternoon, boys and girls, and I'm sure that all of the youngsters who have been invited to this baseball party are happy that the big day has finally arrived. One hundred boys and girls will see the Chicago Cubs play the Boston Braves, and if a cheering section means anything the Cubs should certainly do well this afternoon!

I hope that all my guests will be prompt, because we don't want to miss a minute of the game. And don't forget your invitations whatever you do.

Before I start out to meet the youngsters who've won invitations to today's party, I'm going to select 50 boys and 50 girls who will be my guests on next Thursday, July 31. Letters have been pouring in and every single note will be read carefully. If you send yours off in plenty of time it should be on my desk this morning. If you're really enthusiastic about seeing "Oliver Twist" in play form, and didn't forget those three little bits of information I always request, maybe you'll see your name listed with the winners in next SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE.

Chicago Aluminum Harvest Is 80,000 Pounds in Two Days

Chicago garnered 80,000 pounds of aluminum during the first two days of collection, the local Commission on National Defense said yesterday. The city's goal is 500,000 pounds by Saturday night.

Growing slowly in the Congress street plaza is the central dump, guarded by three naval reservists, which is enlarged several times daily by individual contributions or truckloads. Other bins and dumps are all over the city, in police, fire, and filling stations.

Several hundred members of the Cloak and Dressmakers' union paraded thru the western end of the loop at noon yesterday, each carrying a piece of aluminum which was tossed onto a pile at Monroe and Franklin streets.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, vice chairman of the commission, said he was pleased with the results of the drive to date and expected better results when organization is perfected.

London Bus Girls Given 'Green Light' on Odd Garb

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 23.—As a result of negotiations between the transport board and the trade unions, London's bus girls now may break most of the sartorial rules heretofore imposed upon them. They can go stockingless, roll their coat sleeves to their elbows, discard their caps, wear tennis socks, and discard the uniform skirts in favor of lighter private skirts if they blend with their uniforms. But they must not wear sandals or brightly colored high neck jumpers.

1,800 Rural Schools Face Closing Under New Law

Springfield, Ill., July 23 (AP).—The Illinois Education association estimated today that 1,800 small rural school districts with average daily attendance of less than seven pupils will be eliminated because of a new law signed by Gov. Dwight Green. The legislation consolidates small districts which operate uneconomically because of their small attendances.

Gov. Green Leaves Tonight for His Vacation in Maine

Springfield, Ill., July 23 (AP).—Gov. Dwight Green will spend his vacation for the next two and a half weeks at Ogunquit, Me. The governor, delayed for a day by work on legislative bills, plans to leave Springfield by plane tomorrow for Chicago and take a plane from there for the east. Mrs. Green and daughters Nancy and Gloria left early this week for the Maine resort, which is on the coast about 80 miles north of Boston.

N. U. Plans Course in Public Personnel Administration

Northwestern university took cognizance of the expanding government burocracy yesterday by announcing that a specialized course in public personnel administration will be offered next fall on the downtown campus. Dr. S. A. Hamrin, director of the university college, said the course is designed to meet the increasing need for trained executives in government departments.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

Said a beaming Chicago homemaker recently, "Mr. Rector, every time I use Wilson's Tender Made Ham, whether I slice and serve it cold, just as it comes from the package, or heat it first, believe me, I appreciate that with this ham there's no wasteful oven shrinkage." Have you considered the thrift advantage of Tender Made Ham? Then delight your family with this rich-flavored, money-saving ham this week-end. Remember only Wilson & Co. makes it. It's the ham you cut with a fork.

Hams for Any Size Family

Yes, even small families can now have baked ham. For Wilson's Tender Made Ham, boneless, cooked in its own natural juices, comes in family size tins, whole, half, and quarter hams. Ready to serve or just heat and eat. No bone or waste. My favorite baked ham recipe on each tin.

For You

PREADJUDICATION OF TAX VETOED BY GOV. GREEN

Sets Record by Killing 73 New Measures.

Springfield, Ill., July 23 [Special].—The tax preadjudication bill, designed to eliminate delays in the collection of Chicago and Cook county taxes, was one of the bills to fall under Gov. Dwight Green's vetoes which today had reached 73, a record.

The previous record for vetoes after a single legislative session was 69 vetoes by the late Gov. Henry Horner in 1937.

The preadjudication bill, approved by the legislature on June 27, was drawn in an attempt to meet Supreme court objections to a similar measure declared unconstitutional two years ago.

Seek Ruling Before Billing.

Its aim was to provide a preadjudication in the County court of all tax levy ordinances before the tax rate was spread. It thus would require courts to decide what tax levies were illegal before tax bills are mailed. Under present laws court rulings on tax levies are not obtained until after the bills are payable and only those paying under protest share in resulting refunds.

The governor's veto was based on an opinion by Attorney General George F. Barrett which quoted Supreme court decisions holding any tax adjudication program must not be special or local in character and must provide for adequate notice to taxpayers and give them adequat opportunity to object to validity of tax levies before they are adjudicated.

Four of the bills vetoed today would have allowed counties or other local governmental units to levy increased taxes for special purposes, and the governor filed with them messages asserting he opposed new or increased taxation unless it was approved by a vote of the taxpayers affected.

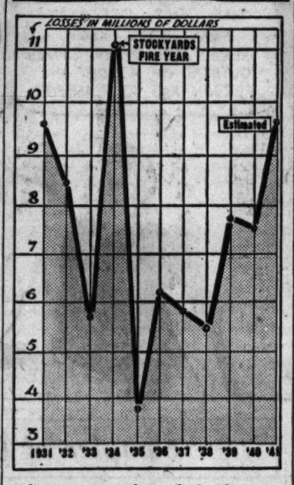
Another measure vetoed was the Garman-Dillavou bill which would exempt from criminal liability youths under 14 years of age, instead of 10 years as at present.

Tonight Gov. Green vetoed the Sprague bill which would have empowered out-of-state insurance companies to write casualty insurance thru their life insurance divisions. Barrett ruled it was discriminatory. The measure would have permitted a company which has been licensed to do a life and casualty business in Illinois for the last 10 years to continue. The state had extended this privilege for the last three years. New legislation was required to continue the privilege.

Allowed to become law without the governor's signature was a bill by Senator Harold G. Ward [D., Chicsago] amending an act for establishment of city airports which permits leasing of airport property and construction of terminals to be paid for by bonds to be retired from a sinking fund.

Fire Losses



A representation of the increase in fire losses in Chicago in recent years which has resulted in an order for investigation of all extra alarm fires during the last two months.

After fire yesterday had gutted a three story building at 4242 Cottage Grove avenue, housing the I. M. Iralson & Sons Cleaning and Dyeing company, Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan ordered a thoro investigation of all extra alarm fires during the last two months. A 3-11 alarm was sounded to bring extra equipment to fight the south side blaze.

Commissioner Corrigan said that there were 16 extra alarm fires in June and almost as many so far this month. "Our investigation shows that some of these fires were due to incendiarism, but quite a number were due to carelessness," he said.

"If our fire losses continue at the rate they have been going for the last six months the total for the year will exceed those of any year except one in the last decade."

The fire losses last year totaled $7,600,000. The highest loss for any year in the last 10 was $11,065,437 in 1934, when fire destroyed a large section of the stockyards.

GREEN APPOINTS THREE TO POLICE MERIT COUNCIL

Three Chicagoland residents were named by Gov. Green yesterday to the newly created state police merit council, which will make a survey of the highway police force and offer recommendations to Leo E. Carr, superintendent.

Those appointed are Prof. Ernest Puttkammer, professor of criminal law at the University of Chicago; Leonarde Keeler, Chicago authority on scientific crime detection, and Lawrence J. Benson of Libertyville, assistant to the vice president in charge of the Milwaukee railroad's police-fire-safety system.

Gov. Green said the council's survey might result in reorganization of the whole department.

RENEW EFFORTS TO REACH $679,500 USO DRIVE GOAL

Chicago's volunteer workers for the United Service organizations' campaign renewed their efforts as they neared the city's $679,500 goal yesterday.

Two business groups exceeded their quotas, the lumber unit and the drugs and chemical unit, according to Herbert J. Lorber, chairman of the commerce and industry division of the campaign. With these units passing their quotas, 11 business classifications have gone over the top.

The drugs and chemical firms have contributed $13,730. Their goal was $13,000. The lumber unit has raised $3,184 with a goal of $3,000. The communities of Argo, Summit, Bedford Park, Justice, and Willow Springs, seeking $700 as their joint objective, have more than doubled their quota by raising $1,764.

Estimates New Tax Law Will Save $100,000 a Year

County Treasurer John Toman estimated yesterday that a saving to Cook county taxpayers of about $100,000 a year will result from a new state law changing the first tax penalty from June 1 to May 1, effective next year. The saving, Toman said, will be in reduced interest charges on tax anticipation warrants of the various governments. The warrants can be redeemed a month earlier than previously because of earlier tax collections, thus saving one month's interest charges, Toman explained.

DODGERS END RIDDLE'S STRING AT 11; BEAT REDS

ZALE KNOCKS OUT HARRIS IN 1:44 OF FIRST ROUND

TONY SCORES ON RIGHT TO JAW; MARTIN WINS

Pete Lello Drops Georgie Toy.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Tony Zale, who had not boxed since he knocked out Al Hostak in defense of his middleweight championship two months ago, dropped Ossie Harris of Pittsburgh, for the count in the first round of an overweight bout in the Chicago Stadium outdoor arena last night. The match was scheduled for 10 rounds. It was Zale's sixth straight triumph.

The 3,799 spectators, who paid a net gate of $6,948—$1,000 less than Promoter Bill Rand needed to break even—were left stunned when a terrific right to the jaw dropped Harris to the floor unconscious less than two minutes after the encounter was started. Referee Johnny Behr completed his count in 1:44.

Zale weighed 161 pounds and Harris was a quarter pound heavier. Ossie, whose natural fighting weight is 157 pounds, was forced to come in over the title limit to protect Tony's championship.

Ossie Is a Disappointment.

The fact that the crowd received Zale's quick knockout in silence was due to its disappointment in Harris. Fans who had seen the Pennsylvania Negro defeat Nate Bolden in an earlier Chicago appearance were confident he would extend the champion. Because he didn't was no criticism of Harris. He never knew what hit him. After landing a light left to the body and two ordinary blows to the face, Ossie ran into that soporific right.

Tony [Cianciola] Martin, Wisconsin state middleweight title holder, pounded out a victory over Ernie Vigh of Newburgh, N. Y., in a 10 round semi-windup. Vigh, who had entered the encounter with a record of 37 knockouts in 56 contests, failed to unleash the power in his fists until the last round.

Then he scored with a volley of lefts and rights to the jaw which had Martin on the verge of a knockout.

Lello Knocks Out Toy.

Pete Lello, 1936 Chicagoland Golden Gloves lightweight champion, knocked out Georgie Toy, former Cleveland Golden Gloves sectional winner, in the second round of a preliminary set for 10 rounds. By his conquest Lello earned a match with Lenny Mancini in the next Stadium presentation, Aug. 6. Toy was ahead on points until he caught a right to the jaw which sent him to the canvas in a sitting position for the count.

Jackie Cooper, south side welterweight, hammered out a decision over Freddy Bey, also of Pittsburgh, in a six round event which followed the windup.

ILLINI BOARD TO CONSIDER SPORTS CHIEF TOMORROW

Champaign, Ill., July 23 (AP).—The newly appointed athletic board of the University of Illinois will hold its first meeting Friday to discuss nominations for an acting athletic director. The seven man board also is expected to change the by-laws to permit removing the athletic director from membership on the board.

The vacancy developed when the board of trustees last week extended Athletic Director Wendell S. Wilson's contract for one year, but gave him a year's leave of absence, at which time his connection with the institution will be terminated.

EQUIFOX PROVES WORTHY SON IN EQUIPOISE MILE

Scores by a Half Length Over Technician.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Arlington Park honored the memory of Equipoise yesterday in a manner more fitting than the officials had anticipated. For the first annual running of the $5,000 Equipoise mile was won by Equifox, a son of the mighty campaigner which set a world record for that distance over the Arlington course in 1932.

After running last down the back stretch, Equifox launched one of his typical charges on the turn. Sweeping past several of his rivals, he reached a contending position at the head of the stretch. Then he came on home with the speed and courage of a true son of Equipoise, wearing down and outgaming the other contenders until he crossed the finish line half a length in advance of Technician. Dog House was third, a length and a half farther back.

Tops Several Brilliant Races.

This performance climaxed a series of brilliant efforts in the last few weeks. After winning two allowance events at Lincoln Fields, Equifox followed up with a victory in the Lincoln handicap and the fans began taking notice of him. In winning the Arlington handicap last Saturday, he set a world record for a mile and three-sixteenths on a grass course. Meanwhile, he had been finishing close up in the Grassland and the Stars and Stripes. He was beaten only a head in the latter, conceding four pounds to the winner, Steel Heels.

Over a slow track, Equifox's time for the mile was 1:38 1-5. His mutuel payoff was $13.20, $6.40, and $5.20.

It became increasingly uplikely yesterday that Blue Pair, which had always been considered a doubtful Classic starter, would get to the post in the big race Saturday. Trainer Willie Crump not only withdrew him from the Equipoise mile, but also said that the colt was being bothered by a recurrence of the ankle ailment that troubled him in the spring. He said that it would have been folly to send Blue Pair out under yesterday's track conditions and he implied that he would give the horse no major assignment in the near future.

Shelhamer to Ride Whirlaway.

That left Our Boots and Attention as Whirlaway's major rivals for the Classic, with Bushwacker as an outsider worthy of some respect. There remained also the possibility of one or two long shots such as To a Tee or Daily Trouble going to the post.

Trainer Ben Jones announced yesterday that he had decided to give Al Shelhamer the mount on Whirlaway in the Classic. It had been reported previously that George Woolf was to get it. In fact, Woolf had made arrangements to fly Chicago yesterday from Hollywood Park.

Shelhamer, who has had considerable riding experience in Maryland and California, satisfied Jones with his job of handling Some Chance in the Arlington Futurity a week ago Saturday, when the Calumet entry finished one-two-three. Shelhamer brought Some Chance in second to Sun Again.

Our Boots, Attention Ready.

Both Our Boots and Attention have demonstrated in recent races that they are in the best form of their careers. Neither could have been given a more favorable opportunity to tackle the champion. Attention, which has been improving steadily, showed staying power and weight carrying ability in beating a field of older horses at Empire City last Saturday. He was conceding weight to every horse in the field in this run of a mile and an eighth.

Our Boots came out of his last two engagements in excellent condition and has continued to train satisfactorily. He won the $25,000 Yankee handicap at Suffolk Downs and was barely beaten by Swing and Sway in the $10,000 Empire City handicap while conceding five pounds to his rival.

VOTE ROCKETS TO 1,990,882 IN ALL-STAR POLL

Harmon Retains Lead; Mucha Second.

The vote in the nation-wide football poll yesterday soared to 1,990,882 as midwestern players clung to their lofty positions in the contest to determine the College All-American eleven which will start against the Chicago Bears, world's professional champions, in Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 28. More than 6,575,000 votes were polled in the 1940 contest and that mark may be surpassed by the battle of ballots that ends at midnight next Tuesday.

Votes from all sections of the United States continued to flood the contest department of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which is conducting the poll with the coöperation of 264 newspapers and radio stations in 44 states and the District of Columbia. From the cool summer resorts of Minnesota to the sweltering metropolitan centers in the east, south and middlewest amazing totals were recorded for the nation's headliners and the favorites of small college gridirons.

Harmon Still Out Front.

Michigan's Tom Harmon, hailed as the greatest ball carrier in the Western conference since the days of Red Grange, continued to receive enthusiastic support. Harmon, who established a new conference scoring record of 33 touchdowns during his three years of competition at Michigan, leads the poll with a total of 443,196 votes. Harmon's closest rival is Rudy Mucha, University of Washington center, who is receiving the bulk of his 438,186 votes from the Roseland district on Chicago's far south side, where he prepped at Fenger High school.

Tom Gallagher, Notre Dame tackle, and Pete Kelly, Irish guard, former stars in the Chicago Catholic High school league, also are among the choices of Chicagoans. Four other members of Notre Dame's 1940 squad —Bob Saggau, Milt Piepul, Johnny O'Brien, and John Gubanich—are listed on the ballots distributed by leaders of the Gallagher and Kelly campaign.

Foran Displaces Drahos.

Nick Drahos of Cornell, who has occupied first place among the tackles since last Friday, slipped to second when more than 100,000 votes sent Nick Foran of St. Benedict's to the top. Foran has a total of 345,675 to Drahos' 338,217. Foran is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 230 pounds.

Fans continued to form long lines at the ticket offices following announcement of the sellout in the $3.30 sections. Thousands of seats still are available at $2.20 and $1.10, and can be obtained at the Tribune Public Service offices located in the Tribune Tower lobby and 1 South Dearborn street.

There are only six days left to name your All-American team. Send your selections now to the All-Star Game Editor, Chicago Tribune.

WAKEFIELD FANS THREE TIMES IN LEAGUE DEBUT

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 23 (AP).—Ed Albosta, leading pitcher of the Piedmont league, turned back Dick Wakefield, $45,000 prize rookie of Detroit who had been sent here for seasoning, four times in one game tonight.

Hurling for Durham, Albosta defeated Winston-Salem, 4 to 0. The first time up Wakefield fanned, the second time up he was safe on an error by Stan Rojek, Durham shortstop, and the third time he struck out. With the bases filled when the outfielder came to the plate the fourth time, he struck out again.

REMAIN TIED WITH CARDS FOR LEAGUE LEAD

McCormick Beaned in 5-4 Defeat.

Cincinnati, O., July 23 (AP).—The longest winning streak of a major league pitcher this season ended tonight when Elmer Riddle, Cincinnati right hander, failed in his quest for a 12th straight triumph. His string of successes was stopped by the Brooklyn Dodgers, who also used their 5 to 4 victory to remain tied for the National league lead with the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat the Giants this afternoon to take possession of the top rung for a few hours.

The Reds gave Riddle a four run lead by battering Kirby Higbe for eight hits, but singles by Billy Herman, Dixie Walker and Ducky Medwick in the sixth, together with a wild throw by Bill Werber on Pete Reiser's bouncer, gave the Dodgers two runs. They added three more in the eighth off Riddle.

Reiser Starts Winning Rally.

Reiser led off in the winning inning with a double and scored on Harry Lavagetto's single. Walker singled, advanced on Medwick's foul fly, and with Lavagetto scored on Jimmy Wasdell's double to center.

Frank McCormick, Cincinnati first baseman, was hit on the head by Higbe in the fifth inning. McCormick was carried from the field on a stretcher.

At Christ hospital X-rays showed no fracture, but a possible mild concussion, Dr. Reed Shank, Reds' physician, reported. He added that McCormick might be able to play by Friday. Tonight's game was the 549th consecutive one for McCormick, who was voted the league's most valuable player last year.

A crowd of 29,503, hoping to see the young right hander increase his unbeaten string, watched the contest.

St. Louis, Mo., July 23 (AP).—The New York Giants rallied for two runs off Lon Warneke after two were out in the ninth inning to tie the score at 4 to 4 today, but the Cardinals won out in the 12th inning, 5 to 4, when Estel Crabtree singled home Frank Crespi.

Ernie White, the fifth Cardinal pitcher, received credit for the victory and Carl Hubbell was charged with the loss to break his seven game winning streak. Score:

Kuncl Defeats Mathieson in City Golf Meet

Harold Mathieson of Woodridge, three times a champion, was upset yesterday in the second round of the 37th annual Chicago amateur golf tournament by Bob Kuncl of St. Andrews, 3 and 2. However, Mathieson's fate was not shared by three other former champions, Charles [Chick] Evans of Edgewater, Gene Budd of Longwood and Hymie Juddleson of Harlem.

Evans defeated John Dobro of Burnham Woods, 1 up. The veteran who is seeking his fourth city title, was 3 up at the turn with a 33, 1 under par. His first nine card included eight pars.

Long Putt Saves Budd.

Budd, the 1939 winner, rallied to beat Dewey La Banco of Pipe o' Peace, 1 up in 19 holes. The Longwood entrant squared the match by birdieing the 18th green with an 18 foot putt after being 1 down at the turn. He won the 19th with a par 4 while La Banco three putted for a bogey 5.

Three up at the turn with a 37, three over par, Juddleson went five more holes to oust Vic Arvia of the home club, 5 and 4.

Kasper Brothers Win.

The Kasper brothers from Longwood also advanced. Chester, who fought his way to the 1940 finals where he was beaten by Champion Earl Wilde, defeated H. W. Hane of Columbus, 4 and 3, while Harry Kasper defeated J. J. Duer, also of Columbus, 6 and 5.

Second round championship flight results:

Harry Kasper, Longwood, beat J. J. Duer, Columbus, 6 and 5.
Jack Nix, Jackson Park, beat Joe Glob, Pipe o' Peace, 3 and 2.
J. Blanton, Jackson Park, beat Earl Gocke, Jackson Park, 2 and 1.
Hymie Juddleson, Harlem, beat Vic Arvia, Jackson Park, 5 and 4.

Medalist Will Play Olympia Club Champion

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The match which Eleanor Dudley of Ridge and Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge have been on the way to arranging in the 12th annual tournament of the Chicago Women's District Golf association neared decision yesterday with the completion of the second round of match play over Olympia Fields' No. 1 course.

Before a meeting in tomorrow's semi-finals can be set, however, Eleanor and Virginia have other more urgent chores to attend to this morning. Miss Dudley, the tournament medalist, who has won such valuable events as the Western Junior and Intercollegiate but has yet to attain the CWDGA crown, must face Gladys Sines, Olympia Fields champion. Miss Sines gained the quarter-final bracket with a 1 up decision over Mrs. A. G. HurstHurst of Longwood.

Can Win Trophy Permanently.

Miss Ingram will have even more incentive in staying in the ball game today as she meets Mrs. L. A. Mincer of Longwood. The Sunset Ridge star has held the championship twice before and can take permanent possession of the trophy with a third victory. She scored a 10 and 8 triumph against Mrs. George Henneberry of Barrington Hills yesterday, while Miss Dudley was having almost as easy a time of it in winning, 8 and 6, from Mrs. Lois McPhee of River Forest. Both Eleanor and Virginia were around the par 37 turn of the No. 1 course in 40. Yesterday's results:

SECOND ROUND.

Eleanor Dudley, Ridge, beat Mrs. Lois McPhee, River Forest, 8 and 6.
Gladys Sines, Olympia Fields, beat Mrs. A. G. Hurst, Longwood, 1 up.
Virginia Ingram, Sunset Ridge, beat Mrs. George Henneberry, Barrington Hills, 10 and 8.
Mrs. L. A. Mincer, Longwood, beat Mrs. E. P. Mayo, Barrington Hills, 3 and 2.
Virginia Nilles, North Shore, beat Mrs. W. D. Goodman, Ravisloe, 6 and 4.
Mrs. O. C. Bell, Edgewood Valley, beat Mrs. Joseph Kuehnle, Lincolnshire, 2 up.
Mary Wilder, Skokie, beat Mrs. H. E. Foreman, Lake Shore, 3 and 1.
Mrs. Lawrence Selz, Northmoor, beat Mrs. Melvin Jones, Olympia Fields, 1 up, 19 holes.

THIRD ROUND PAIRINGS.

Dudley vs. Sines.
Ingram vs. Mincer.
Nilles vs. Bell.

FIRST FLIGHT—SECOND ROUND.

Mrs. W. W. Harmening, Mohawk, beat Mrs. H. L. Leahy, Lincolnshire, 5 and 4.
Mrs. E. Hand, Illinois, beat Mrs. Rush Hussey, Sunset Valley, 4 and 2.
Mrs. R. C. D'Autremont, River Forest, beat Mrs. J. D. Connell, Olympia Fields, 4 and 2.
Mrs. L. S. Motley, Ridge, beat Mrs. B. Goldstein, Lake Shore, 5 and 4.

QUARTER-FINAL PAIRINGS.

Harmening vs. Hand, D'Autremont vs. Motley.

SECOND FLIGHT—SECOND ROUND.

Mrs. J. S. Royal, Kildeer, beat Miss Margaret Muench, North Shore, 4 and 2.
Mrs. Philip L. Edwards, Illinois, beat Mrs. W. R. Titzel, Longwood, 6 and 4.
Mrs. C. H. Lee, Ridge, beat Mrs. Arthur Purnell, Westmoreland, 5 and 3.
Mrs. Berry Conner, Edgewood Valley, beat Mrs. J. O. Mess, Winnetka, 1 up.

QUARTER-FINAL PAIRINGS.

Royal vs. Edwards, Lee vs. Conner.

CONSOLATION FIRST ROUND.

Jane Brown, La Grange, beat Mrs. George C. Davis, Oak Park, 2 and 1.
Mrs. Betty Johnson, Illinois, won by default from Mrs. H. H. Moore, Navajo Fields.
Mrs. Harry Sherman, Northmoor, beat Mrs. Connell Clifford, Edgewood Valley, 2 up.
Mrs. F. P. Hammond, Olympia Fields, beat Mrs. L. E. Carey, Olympia Fields, 4 and 3.
Mrs. H. S. Sines, Olympia Fields, won by default from Mrs. Fred Krauss, Tam O'Shanter.
Mrs. Paul Schollenberg, Edgewater, won by default from Mrs. E. L. Schaub, Kildeer.
Mrs. C. W. Beilfuss, Midlothian, won by default from Mrs. John Brenza, Olympia Fields.
Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, Knollwood, beat Mrs. Robert Murray, Illinois, 2 up.

QUARTER-FINAL PAIRINGS.

West All-Stars Bank on Paige and Lady Luck

Members and followers of the West squad which will face the East Sunday afternoon in Comiskey park in the ninth annual Negro intersectional All-Star baseball games are relying on several good luck omens, as well as a lineup including Satchel Paige and other greats, to carry them to victory.

Twice before in the series, which now stands at four victories for each section, Manager Jim Taylor of the Chicago American Giants, who will pilot the West, has been at the helm and on each occasion the West won. Also on this year's squad, which comprises the pick of the clubs in the Negro American league, against stars from the Negro National league, are Outfielders Neil Robinson of the Memphis Red Sox and Dan Wilson of the St. Louis Stars. Their respective home runs in the 1938 and 1939 games won for the West.

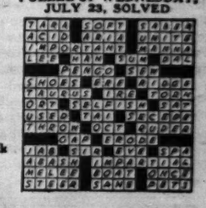
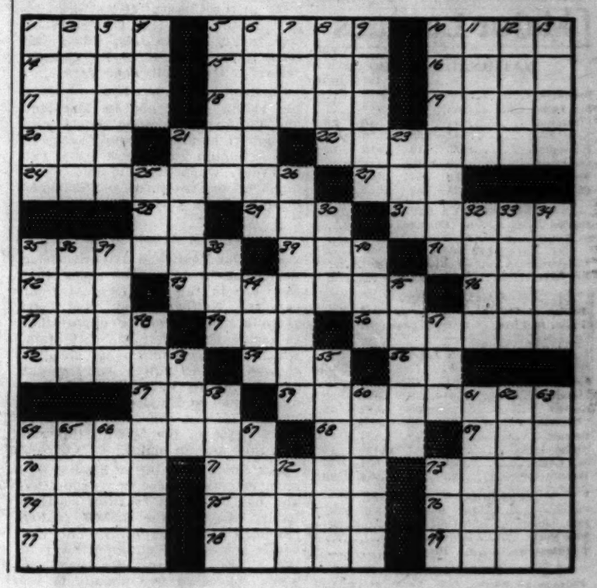
PUZZLE OF WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, SOLVED





Here's why Chicago goes for the BEER for a
"GOOD HEAD"

To the beer-wise, a good head always means a good beer. That's why you'll like the cheering, tangy goodness of clear, sparkling Tavern Pale. There's a mellow friendship in every drop . . . the promise of complete enjoyment from start to finish. So, pour yourself a glass of pure Tavern Pale, today . . . it's the beer for a good head, every time.

Here's the proof of that GOOD HEAD!

Under identical conditions, Tavern Pale was tested against 10 well-advertised beers. A number of glasses of each were allowed to stand the same elapsed time after pouring. Then each was checked. Tavern Pale showed 67% greater "head" than the average of all other beers tested. Test conducted under the strict supervision of Altschuler, Melvoin and Glasser, Certified Public Accountants, Chicago, Illinois.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs, who on Tuesday afternoon were terrific 16 hit performers, were melted down more than 50 per cent yesterday by one Richard Errickson, member of Casey Stengel's Boston pitching staff. The sixth place Chicagoans compiled only seven hits and in the meantime the Braves, who are lodged in seventh place, but have ambitions to get up in the baseball world, manipulated their bats in such fancy fashion that they snared the second of the series, 6 to 1, in Wrigley field.

The earnestness with which the enemy wielded its bats proved distressing for Vance Page's second starting venture of the season. For four innings the Braves limited themselves to two hits, which scored the first run in the second, but from then on were exceedingly rough. They blew Page completely out of the picture with a four run fifth, and subsequently damaged Larry French with five hits, altho scoring only once off the left handed veteran.

Waner's a Bad Man, as Usual.

An old fellow named Paul Waner was involved in the Braves' attack, and he did what he was in the habit of doing to the Cubs in his palmy days as a Pirate. Paul noticed a couple of his new mates on the bases in the busy fifth, so he singled and drove them home. Later he singled again to precipitate the run manufactured during French's two inning régime. This jousting brought in Paul Erickson as a Cub finisher, and he granted the Braves nothing during his two inning workout.

Page started the grief laden fifth by fanning Gene Moore, but this feat proved misleading. Ray Berres slapped a double into left and moved to third when Errickson slipped a slow single past Bob Sturgeon. Buddy Hassett drew a base loading pass and while Waner was waiting to make a base hit Clyde McCullough was guilty of a passed ball, Berres scoring and the others advancing. Then Waner made his hit, a single to right, sending R. Errickson and Hassett home. Waner scored later on singles by Max West and Eddie Miller, the latter hit bringing French to Page's rescue.

Hack Drives In Stringer.

Not having seen second base during the first four innings, the Cubs decided to do some exploring in the fifth. Lou Stringer singled to center with one gone and Sturgeon contributed a one base safety to right. French stood at the plate long enough to see a third strike float past, but Stan Hack dumped a two bagger in left to send Stringer to the plate. The two men on base expired when Charley Gilbert lofted to Moore. The Braves recaptured this run in the seventh when Waner, West, and Alabama Rowell frisked French for singles.

Sox Collect 17 Hits; Beat Red Sox, 10-4

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 23.—The White Sox this afternoon indulged Thornton Lee in a rare luxury for the able lefty, a flood of 17 base hits, which gave Thornton his 11th victory of the season and his first over the Red Sox. Lee himself contributed a single and a double to the refreshing bat fiesta, the score of which was 10 to 4.

So easy was Lee's enterprise that he was enabled to relinquish without great anxiety the largest hit total he has pitched this year—an even dozen.

All Hit But Kennedy.

Every Chicago batsman except Bob Kennedy made at least one hit. Taft Wright made a double, three singles, and walked once. Myril Hoag made four straight singles, and Ben Chapman made a double and a single and batted in four runs. Luke Appling made two singles. Appling, Joe Kuhel, Wright, and Hoag each scored two runs.

Tex Hughson was the losing pitcher and was knocked out in the fourth. He's the same gent who held the White Sox to three singles in the first inning and one in the ninth to slap down the Chicagoans, 2 to 1, in Comiskey park on July 16.

The Chicago Sox bounced back to the .500 mark after a night's tenancy under that level, even as they did when the Red Sox dunked them under .500 last week in Chicago. They will start tomorrow's final here a game and a half behind the third place Red Sox. By the way, it was the White Sox's fifth victory in 15 games with the Red Sox this season.

Chapman Gets Busy.

Ben Chapman drove in the first of his four run total in the first inning with the bases filled. Appling walked, Kuhel singled and when both advanced on an error, Wright was purposely passed. Chapman singled after Hoag popped out. Tom Turner's single, Lee's double, and Appling's single gave the Chicago Sox another one in the second.

The Red Sox got back two in the third. Lou Finney and Joe Cronin singled and Jimmy Foxx walked after Ted Williams had flied out. Then Jim Tabor and Bobby Doerr singled.

The White Sox continued to be robust at the plate in the fourth when they added three more runs after two were out. Knickerbocker's single and walks to Appling and Kuhel were followed by Wright's two run single, which finished Hughson. Hoag singled off Charley Wagner for the third run.

They Hit Ryba, Too.

Mike Ryba had two Chicagoans out in the sixth when things started happening. Wright doubled, Hoag singled and Taft raced home while the Red Sox were trying to retire Hoag between first and second, and made it on Doerr's wild throw to the plate. Hoag then came in on Chapman's double.

Ted Williams doubled in the seventh for his 100th hit of the year and scored on Jim Tabor's double. The latter came home on Doerr's single.

The White Sox got back these two runs in the eighth on singles by Wright and Hoag, an infield out, a balk and a fly.

Bill Dietrich to Pitch Today in Boston Final

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 23.—Bill Dietrich, child of repeated misfortunes, will resume his baseball career here tomorrow when he pitches the final of the White Sox-Red Sox series. Bill was injured in each of two different accidents in the night game with Detroit on July 2 and tomorrow will be making his first appearance since then. Bill will be opposed by Mickey Harris, who has won three while losing nine.

Manager Jimmy Dykes, never distinguished as an admirer of the umpiring of his fellow Philadelphian, John Quinn, was in fine voice today. Quinn was behind the plate, in easy earshot of Dykes' dugout perch. Jim didn't lapse into bulldozing words.

Make Hair Grow while the sun shines

"It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is more rapid," says Dr. Arnold Lorand; Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff will disappear, abnormal hairfall will stop, and new hair will actually be visible on the thin and bald spots. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the expert in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you. Come in today.

ONE CALIFORNIAN UPSETS ANOTHER IN STATE TENNIS

Budge Patty, Seeded 6th, Loses to Slack.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles, the 1939 national boys tennis champion, was upset yesterday in the second round of the Illinois State men's singles tournament on the Beverly Hills Tennis club courts. Patty, who was seeded No. 6, went down before a fellow Californian, Ellis Slack of Long Beach, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3.

Consequently, Patty can now confine his activities to the junior section in which he is co-favored with two Chicagoans, Gardner Larned and Jimmy Evert.

Catherine Malcolm of Glendale, Cal., Virginia Hollinger of Dayton, O., and Helen Fulton of Evanston, who are seeded 1-2-3 respectively in the women's singles, advanced to the semi-finals with easy straight set victories.

Miss Malcolm defeated Mrs. Morey Lewis of Evanston, 6-3, 6-2; Miss Hollinger eliminated Marion Woolhiser, promising junior star from Winnetka, 6-1, 6-1, and Mrs. Fulton outsteadied Alice McDonald of Chicago, 6-3, 6-2. Summaries:

ROAD AND TROUT AT BAIE COMEAU INTRIGUE VISITOR

Fishing's Grand and So's the Traveling.

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BAIE COMEAU, Quebec, July 23.—Yesterday afternoon we invaded the brook trout country above this little town on the St. Lawrence river to get acquainted with some unsophisticated fish and see where man is fighting against the forest to obtain black spruce logs for a paper mill.

We left Baie Comeau late in the afternoon with Pat Huard, one of the best French-Canadian woodsmen in these parts and also one of the most amusing, good-natured guides we ever have met. First we traveled by car over the winding rock ballasted road which extends northward into the bush from this town. This scenic highway, the spearhead of the attack against the forest, took us past woods camps, and the beautiful waterfalls into the heart of the forested granite highlands.

It's Quite a Road.

After an hour and fifty minutes of driving over this remarkable road, a triumph of modern engineering, we found ourselves on the side of a high hill where scores of workmen were blasting big masses of rock and laying the foundation of the road which gradually is reaching up the Pascal river to facilitate logging operations. Picking up our trout equipment we dropped down a steep hill, walked a couple of hundred yards over a rough corduroy road and then we stepped out on the shore of Boisvert lake. Pat, the genial French guide, pointed to Boisvert [about a quarter of a mile long] and said in broken English: "She has good trout, but we make portage to Pascal." So we got into the canoe, hurried across Boisvert and portaged [a four minute walk] into by the far the most beautiful lake we ever have seen.

Ah, Such Scenery.

Pascal, a body of water about a mile long and three fourths of a mile wide with an irregular shore line, is barricaded against the world by high heavily timbered hills. In most places the dark gray granite drops so sharply to the water's edge that there is no beach.

And as far as we could see [from the end of the portage] there was a solid bank of dark spruce trees and the light green birches sweeping all around this untouched lake. Not a riffle disturbed the dark water so the green of the forest was mirrored in the smooth water.

It didn't make much difference what you tossed at the trout. They weren't particular—a Montreal, plain coachman, or anything went. All were medium in size, but in that cold water even a 10 incher was lots of fun. From one spot near some lily pads we landed five without ever moving the canoe. They liked a dry fly and the walloped a wet fly, too. We kept just six for supper and put the others back into the lake, altho it would have been easy to fill a couple of creels with these brilliantly colored fish from lovely Pascal.

Finger Prints.

The dining table once unmarred
Is scratched with many years of wear
But I remember very well
The day I found the first one there.
My heart was broken—so it seemed—
The table was my joy and pride
I dusted it with careful hands
For I had just become a bride.
As time went on my feelings changed
For baby fingers added more
Sometimes they'd bang away with toys
And then proceed to laugh and roar.
As they grew up their friends would come
And so all kinds of games they'd play
What mattered then a scratch or two
As long as they were home—and gay?
The dining table once unmarred
Was very beautiful to see,
And yet with all the scratches on
It means far more to me.

Mucha or Apolskis.

A wonderful thrill is the All-Star game,
When each All-American star
Is selected by votes of all the fans,
They come from near and far.

But the folks out here in Roseland
Really don't know what to do,
We want to vote for Mucha
And for Ray Apolskis, too.

Now Rudy comes from Fenger
And so does our pal Ray,
And both of them play center
In the All-American way.

Now if Ray was only a tackle,
Or Rudy a quarterback,
The Stars would have the perfect team
For any Pros' attack.

But both of them play center
And we don't know what to do,
We want to vote for Mucha
And vote for Apolskis, too.

NEW HARVESTER WAGE INCREASE OFFERED 55,000

Boost Estimated at $5,500,000 Yearly.

International Harvester company announced yesterday that a wage increase of 5 cents an hour had been made available to all 55,000 persons employed by the company in the United States on an hourly or piece work basis. The company said that appropriate salary adjustments also are being made for clerical and salaried employés. An identical increase in wages was made effective last April 14.

Company officials regarded it certain that the offer would be accepted by all of several unions recognized as bargaining agents in the various plants. At nonunion plants the increase became effective last Monday.

The increase will total $5,500,000 annually for the 55,000 hourly and piece work employés, of whom about 20,000 are in Chicago, it was said.

Agencies Ask Increases.

"The wage increase offer was made in response to requests from many plant bargaining agencies," the company's statement said, "and to maintain International Harvester's customary position as compared with wages paid in comparable industries and by comparable companies."

Grant Oakes, chairman of the CIO Farm Equipment Workers' union, one of the bargaining agents, commented that "our plant committees are accepting the increase with the understanding that negotiations will continue on their request for a further wage adjustment."

LEWIS INVITES AVERY

John L. Lewis, president of the CIO United Mine Workers of America, yesterday called upon Sewell Avery, chairman of the United States Gypsum company, Chicago, to join with him personally in working out a solution to a strike called at the company's plants. Avery would make no public comment on the suggestion.

Lewis made his request by letter, asserting: "Your responsibility and mine to our organizations, to the public and to the national defense program, no longer permits us to avoid devoting our immediate attention to the strike problem."

The letter said 17 of the gypsum and wallboard company's plants, including one at East Chicago, Ind., were involved. UMW headquarters said 3,000 employés are on strike and that 60 per cent of the company's production is for the arms program.

As he forwarded the letter, Lewis telegraphed the union that the strike "must be won." The union seeks an hourly wage increase of 10 cents and a common national contract.

OTHER LABOR NEWS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AFL strikers walked off government projects in Key West, Fla., and Grand Prairie, Tex., yesterday while other AFL unions signed an agreement barring work stoppages on preparedness program projects in the St. Louis, Mo., area.

About 1,000 AFL unionists, seeking a wage increase from 40 to 62½ cents an hour, walked off several Key West projects while marines patroled the areas with rifles and fixed bayonets.

Work was halted on a housing project near the North American Aviation plant at Grand Prairie in a dispute over the use of WPA labor.

The defense mediation board in Washington, D. C., announced last night that the CIO United Automobile Workers had accepted a plan for settlement of a strike at Air Associates, Inc., Bendix, N. J. Union workers struck on July 14 claiming 24 employés had been laid off for union activity. The board proposed that all employés return immediately and that disputed issues be referred to an arbitrator.

Harvey Range Factory Is Closed by CIO Strike

The kitchen range plant of George M. Clark & Co., on 156th street in Harvey, was closed yesterday by a strike of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee [CIO]. Strike leaders said all 625 workers walked out. The company's contract with the union was said to have expired July 16. Strikers are demanding a closed shop and longer paid vacations.

BIG INSURANCE GAINS TOLD BY M. J. CLEARY OF N. W. MUTUAL LIFE

M. J. Cleary, president of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, Milwaukee, told the board of trustees at their annual meeting yesterday the company has almost 4 billion dollars worth of insurance in force. Policies numbered 1,077,441 covering $3,984,613,178 of insurance on June 30.

Cleary said the company had 17,095 more policies in force than a year ago and 8,892 more than at the start of this year. Dollar volume had increased $57,504,531 in the last year and $35,880,446 since Jan. 1.

Admitted assets of the company totaled $1,396,631,083, Cleary said. Income for the first six months was $113,060,799, including $68,625,102 in premiums and $27,885,413 in interest and rents. Disbursements totaled $74,723,753 and included taxes of $2,792,270. The company paid death claims of $22,670,349 and dividends to policyholders totaling $16,880,351. He said payments to policyholders and beneficiaries were at the rate of almost 2½ million dollars a week every week during the first half of 1941.

Little Business Expects Ruin, Survey Shows

Frederick A. Virkus.

Two-thirds of Illinois' small industrial plants will go out of business soon unless they obtain rearmament contracts or get materials for normal production, a tabulation by the Illinois Small Business Men's association disclosed yesterday.

Of the 100 firms queried, 64 said they face shutdowns. Seventy-three have sought subcontracts or indirect rearmament orders. Yet only 22, or less than one-third of those who have applied for the subcontracts, have received them. Many of these have received only small orders, some so small that they are the equivalent to 1 per cent of the plant's capacity.

2,000 to Be Quizzed.

Frederick A. Virkus, president of the association, said the complete tabulation of the survey, in which about 2,000 questionnaires already have been mailed out, promises to bear out the preliminary returns. The next 150 questionnaires returned showed virtually the same percentages in a preliminary examination.

Virkus said the survey is disclosing that small industrial plant officials are anxious to obtain arms orders and that they are perplexed because they can't obtain them when administration officials speak of the "desperate need" for utilizing every machine, every skilled mechanic, and every qualified management.

"Scarcity of raw materials is not the answer when these materials are not desired for civilian production," Virkus commented.

Twelve Not Adaptable.

In the opinion of their officials, only 12 of these 100 plants are not adaptable to rearmament production of one kind or another. Thirteen were found three-fourths adaptable, 22 half adaptable, 19 a quarter adaptable, and 8 a tenth adaptable.

The 12 plants not adaptable to armament production naturally did not seek armament orders. Only 15 of those wholly or partially adaptable to rearmament work have not sought rearmament subconstracts or indirect orders.

Of the firms expecting to go out of business unless they get rearmament orders or materials for normal production, nearly all feel their operations will be suspended by the end of the year unless something is done.

Urges Quick Action.

In commenting on the survey, Virkus asked the question of whether or not these "desperately needed" skills and machines can be utilized "before it is too late to save this 64 per cent of small business" facing ruin. If these companies are forced out of business now, he added, "it will be difficult if not impossible for these establishments to start up again after this is over."

Virkus called for utilization of the small industries' machines and man power "by eliminating the red tape, lack of coördination and confusion" and by taking "this biggest of all organization jobs in America out of the hands of burocrats and placing it, without a political boss or co-director, in the hands of any one of a hundred men who have demonstrated their genius in industrial production."

The idea of the survey, started by the Illinois association, has spread until surveys now are in progress in 42 states, Virkus said. It will be at least a month before the Illinois survey is completed.

LARGER INCREASE IN STEEL PLANT CAPACITY ASKED

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—The Office of Production Management was reliably reported tonight to have told the steel industry advisory committee that it was exploring the possibility of expanding steel capacity by as much as 15,000,000 tons annually. An informant said, however, that no decision had been reached.

OPM previously had requested the industry to submit proposals for an expansion of up to 10,000,000 tons a year. Estimates of next year's production have run as high as 90,000,000 tons.

The committee, holding its first meeting, was said to have been told that there was a pressing need for increased production of steel for railroad cars and ships.

During the day, Director William S. Knudsen told reporters that OPM had authorized an expansion of pig iron production by 6,500,000 tons annually, most of it to be financed by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Asserts U. S. and British Plane Output Tops German

New York, July 23 [Special].—The magazine American Machinist estimates that the United States and Great Britain are producing 32 per cent more airplanes a month than Germany, and that Russia was running close to the German production mark. It estimates world production of planes at around 8,000 a month, as follows: Germany, 2,500; Russia, 2,000; Britain, 1,800; United States, 1,500; and Japan, 300.

UNION CARBIDE EARNINGS RISE IN 2D QUARTER

Illinois Bell Profit Also Is Larger.

The Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, New York, reported yesterday that net income for the second quarter was $10,796,498, equal, after provision for increased taxes, to $1.16 a share. This compared with profit of $9,503,469, equal to $1.02 a share, in the June quarter of 1940.

The Illinois Bell Telephone company reported net income for the first six months of this year was $6,607,767 compared with $7,013,440 in the first half of 1940. Operating revenues increased over last year, totaling $51,185,970 against $47,993,456 in the 1940 period. Operating expenses totaled $35,447,416 compared with $32,069,518.

The company said that its $8,080,712 tax provision for the first six months was probably understated in view of the proposed increase in federal taxes.

Steel Maker Earns More.

Reflecting soaring operations in the steel industry, the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, Pittsburgh, reported a profit of $3,937,720 for the second quarter, equal after preferred dividend requirements to $5.05 a share on the common stock. This compared with a net profit of $2,141,645, or $1.93 a share, in the second quarter of last year.

For the six months ended June 30, net profit was $8,098,227, equal to $10.48 a share, compared with $3,276,256, or $2.12 a share in the first half of 1940. For six months this year no provision was made for excess profit tax, but provision is now being made in anticipation for the second revenue act of 1941.

The Lindsay Light and Chemical company, Chicago, reported for the six months ended June 30 net profit of $73,143, equal after preferred stock requirements to $1.07 a share on the common stock. This compared with $57,376, or 71 cents a common share, in the first half of 1940.

National Biscuit Profit Up.

The National Biscuit company in the second quarter had a profit of $2,494,937, or 33 cents a share, compared with $2,411,613, or 31 cents a share, in the second quarter of 1940. Provision was made for federal taxes at the proposed increased rates.

The Continental Baking company for the 26 weeks ended June 28 had a profit of $1,253,934, or $3.13 a preferred share, compared with $1,324,900, or $3.30 a preferred share, in the like 1940 period.

The White Motor company for the six months ended June 30 had net profit of $791,355, equal after federal income and excess profits taxes to $1.26 a share, compared with $743,529, equal to $1.19 a share, in the corresponding 1940 period.

AWARD PENNSY TAX NOTES AFTER BID IS CHANGED

Harrisburg, Pa., July 23 (AP).—Pennsylvania sold $135,000,000 of tax anticipation notes to the Mellon Securities corporation today after the syndicate reduced its original rate of interest by a fraction because state fiscal authorities said it was too high.

The issue was sold in two groups, one of $90,000,000 for 21 months and another of $45,000,000 for 10 months, at premiums of $935,131 and $361,315, respectively.

The state will pay .90 per cent on the $90,000,000 bloc and .5 on the $45,000,000 notes. The Mellon syndicate of 60 banking houses was the only bidder.

MERGER OF NATION'S LARGEST BROKERAGE HOUSES CONSIDERED

New York, July 23 [Special].—A merger of Merrill Lynch, E. A. Pierce & Cassatt and Fenner & Beane, the two largest brokerage firms in the country, is under discussion, it became known today. Merrill Lynch has 52 offices, 34 general partners, and 10 special partners, and Fenner & Beane has 53 offices, 17 general partners, and 11 special partners.

Between them the firms do more business on the New York Stock exchange than any other organization, in addition to carrying on much trading in commodities. At one time Fenner & Beane conducted more trading on the cotton exchange than any other house. Recently Merrill Lynch began selling securities and Fenner & Beane undertook secondary distributions.

Merrill Lynch has been noted for the number of Wall street houses that it has absorbed. Its predecessors may be traced back to Gwathmey & Co., which began business in Richmond, Va., more than 100 years ago.

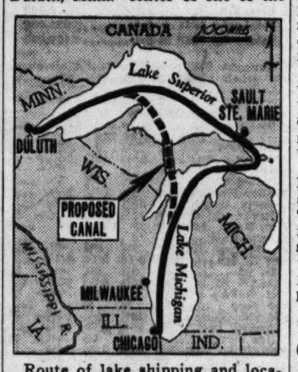
CANAL LINKING LAKES PRESSED

Chicago-Duluth Run Would Be Cut 360 Miles.

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—A Michigan delegation told army engineers today construction of a 30 mile canal to link Au Train on Lake Superior with Little Bay De Noc on Lake Michigan at an estimated cost of $260,000,000 was essential to the national preparedness program.

The canal would reduce the distance by water between Chicago and Duluth, Minn.—center of one of the world's largest iron ore fields—an estimated 360 miles, said State Senator Joseph A. La Framboise of Gladstone, chairman of a six man legislative delegation. The group conferred with Maj. Gen. Julian L. Schley, chief of army engineers.



Route of lake shipping and location of proposed canal.

Such a canal would reduce the time and cost of shipping essential defense materials," said J. C. Gannon of Marquette, chairman of the national defense council for upper Michigan and a member of the delegation.

Shipping between Duluth and lower lake ports now must go thru the Soo canal locks at Sault Ste. Marie.

BIG REFINANCING PLAN UNDER WAY FOR PEOPLES GAS

Arrangements for the refinancing of $37,000,000 of Peoples Gas Light and Coke company bonds, with an indicated annual saving of $315,000 in interest charges, are expected to be completed in a few days.

The company will replace its $22,000,000 of 4 per cent series D bonds with a new 3¼ per cent issue and $15,000,000 of series B 4 per cent bonds with new 3 per cent bonds. Both outstanding issues carry 1961 maturities. The B series is callable at 104 and the D series at 103.

The new bonds will be sold privately to insurance companies with no public offering involved. The indicated saving in annual interest charges would be equivalent to 46 cents a share on the company's outstanding stock.

SOY BEANS MAY REPLACE CASEIN FOR INDUSTRY

Washington, D. C., July 23 [Special].—The department of agriculture announced today that it is exploring the possibility of increasing commercial production of soybean protein to make up for growing shortages of casein, a necessity for certain armament industries and housing.

The adhesive qualities of the soybean protein are said to be equal to those of casein, a milk derivative which is becoming progressively more limited in the increased demand for edible milk.

New Steps Taken to Ease Oil Crisis; Seek Coal Price Curb

Washington, D. C., July 23 [Special].—The government program to combat the threatened eastern shortages in fuels and gasoline was widened in three different quarters here today.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, petroleum coödinator, and representatives of large oil companies agreed on reallocation of tanker ships so that Latin American countries would not have their imports of gasoline cut unduly as a result of plans to fight shortages here.

Ask Maximum Coal Prices.

Asserting that some soft coal producers are taking advantage of the campaign urging summer buying of coal and its substitution for crude oil, Luther Harr, bituminous coal consumers' counsel, asked the interior department to set maximum prices immediately at approximately 10 per cent above existing minimum prices in the nation's 22 producing districts.

The department of commerce, in the third of the day's moves, acted to conserve gasoline by issuing to all of its subdivisions 10 specific suggestions for operating and keeping up the departmental automobiles.

Large oil companies engaged in the Latin-American trade, such as Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Texas corporation, Gulf, Atlantic Refining, and Consolidated, sent representatives to the Ickes meeting on the Latin-American problem. Also present were Ralph H. Davies, deputy petroleum coördinator, and representatives of the state department and Maritime commission.

Reallocate Tanker Space.

"Reallocation of tanker space as between companies and changes in movements were decided upon," Davies said later, "all to the end that no Latin-American country will be asked to make a greater sacrifice than we are making in this country."

Explaining his move to check soft coal prices, Dr. Harr said his agency is acting in an attempt to hold prices "within reason." He said consumers are reporting excessive soft coal prices in many markets, and that increases of 5 to 75 cents per ton over minimum prices are reported at some mines, with future deliveries quoted even higher.

BIDS ON 16 TANKERS FOR GREAT LAKES USE ASKED BY U. S. BOARD

Washington, D. C., July 23.—Bids were invited by the Maritime commission today for construction of 16 tankers for operation in the Great Lakes. They will be of approximately 1,830 tons, or less than one-fifth that of standard ocean going tankers. Bids will be opened Aug. 11.

CANADIAN NAT. RAILWAYS HEAD RESIGNS OFFICE

MONTREAL, Que., July 23 (AP).—The directors of the Canadian National railways announced today the resignation of S. J. Hungerford as president of the system.

R. C. Vaughan, vice president in charge of purchases, stores, and steamships, was appointed to succeed him as president and H. J. Symington will succeed Hungerford as president of Trans-Canada Air Lines, from which he also resigned. Hungerford becomes chairman of the board of Canadian National railways.

Vaughan started his railway career as a messenger boy with the Canadian Pacific Railway company at the age of 14. Symington was solicitor for the Grand Trunk Pacific railway from 1906 to 1909.

Hungerford's railway career began in 1886, at the age of 14.

LAKE SHIP TOPS ORE CARGO RECORD 4TH TIME THIS SEASON

Cleveland, O., July 23 (AP).—Carrying 16,172 gross tons of iron ore the flagship Harry Coulby of the Interlake Steamship company fleet today was en route from Two Harbors, Minn., to South Chicago with a new all-time record Great Lakes cargo, operators of the vessel reported.

The load exceeded by 59 tons the previous record set by the Coulby two weeks ago.

This is the fourth time this season and the eighth time in two years that the vessel has shattered iron ore carrying records. On June 12 the Coulby set a new high for any type of commodity.

Interlake Steamship company is operated by Pickands, Mather & Co. of Cleveland.

N. Y. Exchange Board Votes Rules Changes

New York, July 23 [Special]. — Governors of the New York Stock exchange voted today to abolish the committee system, cut the board of governors from 32 to 25 members and change the method of electing a nominating committee. The proposed changes will be submitted to the membership tomorrow in the form of amendments of the constitution. They will take effect Sept. 30 if approved by a majority of members by Aug. 6.

All present standing committees would be abolished. The number of these committees was cut from 17 to 7 in 1937.

The arbitration committee is to be replaced by a board of 15 nongovernors, to serve as a panel when mediation is needed between members or between members and the public.

Duties to Be Divided.

Duties of all other committees are to be divided between the paid staff and the governors, the latter caring for all matters of policy. The president of the exchange is to be empowered to appoint special committees.

Members of the board whose business duties normally take them to the floor will handle the work now being done by the committee on floor procedure. Similarly others will do other committee work using powers delegated by the board of governors rather than powers direct from the exchange membership as is the case for present standing committees.

Plan Gradual Reduction.

The board of governors now includes 21 who may be residents of New York, six from other cities, three public representatives, the president and the chairman of the board. The proposed board of 25 would include 14 who may be New Yorkers, seven out-of-towners, two public representatives, the president and chairman. The board is to be cut thru election of seven instead of nine governors in each of the next three years.

The nominating committee, cut from seven to five, is to nominate not only the new board but its successor committee in April of each year.

14 CLOSED STATE BANKS PAY MORE IN JUNE QUARTER

Fourteen of the 113 closed state banks in Cook county that are still in receivership made new repayments totaling $660,291 to their depositors during the June quarter, State Auditor Arthur C. Lueder reported yesterday.

For seven of the banks the new disbursement was the final one, Lueder said. These seven are the Adams State bank, Brighton Park State, Devon Trust and Savings, Lincoln State, Marshall Square State, and the state banks of Franklin Park and River Grove. A total of 22 of the closed state banks in the county have now made their final disbursements, and 51 have sold their remaining assets at public auction.

The 113 still in receivership had total receipts of $2,048,878 during the quarter just ended, and disbursed a total of $2,151,122. A book loss of $3,504,036 in converting assets into cash was reported.

State Employment Service Fills 23,773 Jobs in June

The Illinois state employment service filled 23,773 jobs in June compared with 13,476 jobs filled in the same month last year, or an increase of 76 per cent.

RAILROAD WAGE TALKS OPEN IN CHICAGO TODAY

Demands Put at 900 Millions a Year.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Representatives of railroad workers and managements will open negotiations in the Morrison hotel at 10 o'clock this morning on union demands for wage increases and counter-proposals by the railroads for revision of certain working rules. The railroads estimate that the wage increases sought would add about $900,000,000 annually to operating costs.

First on the schedule will be a meeting of the management representatives with the five operating unions having about 350,000 members. Tomorrow the rail representatives will meet with 14 nonoperating unions, with about 800,000 members. Thereafter, the managements will confer with the two union groups on alternate days.

The opposing groups will face each other across a long table in the hotel's main ballroom. Sitting in on the sessions, which will run from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., will be some 700 union general chairmen.

Three Groups Represent Roads.

The railroad management side of the table will include three committees representing the western, eastern and southeastern roads.

Fred Gurley, vice president of the Santa Fe, is chairman of the western committee; William Smith, vice president of the Boston and Maine, is chairman of the eastern committee, and John J. Parrish, assistant vice president of the Chesapeake and Ohio, is chairman of the southeastern committee. Gurley also is chairman of the management's executive committee—composed of the chairmen of the three committees—having direct charge of the negotiations.

For the brotherhoods, the representatives are expected to include A. Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Carl Goff, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; H. W. Frazer, president, Order of Railway Conductors, and T. C. Cashen, president, Switchmen's Union of North America. D. B. Robertson, president of the firemen, is expected later.

Harrison, Jewell Among Leaders.

Key men in the leadership of the 14 nonoperating unions will include Bert M. Jewell, president, railway employés department, American Federation of Labor, and George M. Harrison, president, Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station employés.

Two unions are not taking part in the negotiations—the American Train Dispatchers association and the Order of Sleeping Car Conductors. The former usually acts alone and the latter is composed largely of Pullman employés.

The operating brotherhoods are asking a 30 per cent wage increase, with a minimum money increase of $1.80 on a minimum day. The nonoperating unions want increases of 30 cents an hour and a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour. They base their demands on the rise in cost of living and cite rising rail earnings as justification.

Other union demands which are

STOCKS END ALL EVEN IN SMALLER TRADING VOLUME

Steels Give Up Most of Early Advances.

New York, July 23 (AP).—Stocks wound up today's market with narrow advances and declines about evenly divided.

Rails and a few rubber shares, oils, and industrial specialties emerged with gains. Steels were ahead for a time, but most of their gains were surrendered before the close. Motors were on the soft side thruout.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite dipped .1 of a point to 44. Dealings dropped off to 625,480 shares from 1,350,630 Tuesday, which was the second largest since Nov. 12. Of 761 issues traded, 289 rose, 247 were lower, and 223 closed unchanged.

Business and foreign news was such as to broaden the optimism that has taken root in Wall street boardrooms since securities started their climb early this month. But, excepting the rails and a scattering of industrials, sentiment had little effect on buying power. A forecast of further expansion in carloadings tended to support the carriers.

CHICAGO LIST MIXED.

Trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday totaled 16,000 shares, half as many as were traded Tuesday. Of the 88 issues traded, 25 advanced, 37 declined, and 26 closed unchanged.

Commonwealth Edison, which closed unchanged at 26⅝, was the volume leader, with 1,550 shares traded. New 1941 highs were established by Utah Radio, at 1½; Leath & Co., at 4½; Standard Oil of Indiana, 33¾, and Wieboldt Stores common, 8½.

LISTED STOCKS PAYING MORE TO OWNERS IN 1941

A new record for dividend paying common stocks listed on the New York Stock exchange is expected to be set this year, the current issue of Exchange reported yesterday. It showed that listed stocks paying dividends this year numbered 567 by July 1. The total for all 1940 was 577.

Dividend payments on 543 listed common stocks in the first six months this year approximated $956,705,000, an increase of 8.2 per cent over the corresponding period of 1940, when 495 common issues paid $884,524,000.

Dividends on listed preferred stocks totaled $169,567,000 in the first half, a rise of 12 per cent from the $151,400,000 in the corresponding period a year ago.

Marshall Field & Co. declared the usual quarterly dividends of $1.50 on its two classes of 6 per cent preferred stock.

ELECTRIC POWER OUTPUT A NEW ALL TIME RECORD

Output of 3,162,586,000 kilowatt hours of electricity last week established a new all-time record for the second consecutive week, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Latest production compares with an output of 3,141,158,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week and 2,681,071,000 in the comparable period last year.

The Commonwealth Edison group of companies in the Chicago area generated 142,848,000 kilowatt hours, up 11.6 per cent from a year ago. The total compares with 143,239,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week and 127,988,000 in the corresponding 1940 week.

LONG IDLE STEEL MAKING CAPACITY PUT TO USE AGAIN

Eastern Company Rebuilds Abandoned Furnace.

The constantly growing demand for more and more steel for armaments and industrial purposes is causing the nation's steel makers to bring equipment that once was considered obsolete back into production, company reports disclosed yesterday. Meantime many steel producers are rushing expansion programs that are expected to make vast increases in steel output possible.

An eastern company reported yesterday it had lighted a blast furnace that had been idle 12 years. When it found how critical the demand for pig iron had become, it started rebuilding the virtually abandoned furnace.

Rebuilt in Six Months.

The work of rebuilding and modernizing the old blast furnace was completed in six months—approximately one half the time it takes to rebuild a furnace of this type under normal conditions. Now that it is back in operation, it is expected to produce approximately 160,000 tons of pig iron within the next year.

Officials of Inland Steel company, Chicago, announced that it had entered into a tentative contract with Arthur G. McKee company, Cleveland, O., to construct a sixth blast furnace at its Indiana Harbor works.

Provides Big Increase.

"Ingot capacity at Homestead and at the nearby Duquesne, Pa., plant of Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation will be lifted by 1,800,000 tons yearly," Iron Age, steel trade magazine, reported. "The increase will be made possible thru the construction of 12 open hearth furnaces of 200 tons capacity each and of two electric furnaces with an annual output of 100,000 tons."

"Steel plant schedules for the week show that ingot production for the country as a whole is at 99½ per cent, a gain of a full point over last week's level of 98½. Activity in the Chicago district raised production to 101 per cent."

People and Events

Frederic W. Ecker.

The Automotive Trade Association Managers, composed of local, state and national association executives, will hold its annual meeting today and tomorrow in the Drake hotel. W. A. Williamson is president.

Frederic W. Ecker, vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company has been elected a director of Steinway & Sons.

The investment outlook for common stocks of public utility operating companies is discussed in a booklet issued by the banking firm of Lazard Frères & Co.

G. Allan MacNamara, general freight agent of the Canadian Pacific railway, and Paul J. O'Brien of Chicago have been elected to membership on the Chicago Board of Trade.

APPROVAL OF SEC TO ACQUIRE GARY UTILITY SOUGHT

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission was asked yesterday to approve a plan under which Northern Indiana Public Service company would acquire the assets of Gary Heat, Light, and Water company. The latter's parent, Gary Electric and Gas company would be dissolved. All of the companies are in the Midland United company system.

Northern Indiana plans to buy the common stock of Gary Heat from Gary Electric for $7,042,000 and 370,000 shares of Northern Indiana common stock. Gary Electric would use the cash toward the redemption of $7,042,000 of 5 per cent first lien collateral bonds, series A, due July 1, 1944.

Gary Electric proposes to buy the 120,000 shares of its common stock held by the public at $6.50 a share, then distribute its assets, including common stock of Northern Indiana, to its stockholders. Trustees of Midland Utilities company hold 360,000 of Gary Electric common shares. Northern Indiana proposed to borrow $5,000,000 for use in connection with the purchase of the Gary Heat stock.

BUYING BY MILLS RALLIES WHEAT FROM EARLY DIP

Futures Finish with Small Net Price Gains.

Buying by mills lifted the wheat market yesterday after early price weakness attributed to a sharp break in cotton. Futures rallied more than 2 cents from the day's low point to close ⅝ to 1⅝ cents net higher on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Final trades in the expiring July delivery were at 1¾ cents under September price of $1.36¾. This compared with a discount of 2½ cents at the close on Tuesday.

Soy Beans Swing Widely.

Soy beans for July delivery fluctuated within a range of about 5 cents a bushel but closed unchanged at $1.53½. The deferred futures closed 3 to 3½ cents lower on realizing sales and extremely favorable crop reports.

Corn futures finished unchanged to ⅛ cent higher while oats gained ⅝ to 1⅛ cents.

A much better demand prevailed for cash wheat in the local market with mills and elevators readily absorbing the relatively small offerings of free wheat. There are no restrictions on the shipment of free grain to Chicago, brokers point out.

Storage Crisis Eased.

Release of leased space for approximately 750,000 bushels of grain in Chicago elevators by Washington officials of the Commodity Credit corporation, gave temporary relief to the grain storage problem here, elevator operators reported.

W. H. McDonald of Rosenbaum Brothers, a member of the government grain storage committee, said the release of the space originally reserved for CCC corn will permit unloading of more than 600 cars of wheat now on track.

Limited railroad embargoes prohibiting shipments of grain for storage into St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Superior, and Itasca, Wis., were scheduled to go into effect tomorrow, the Associated Press reported. All wheat rail shipments for storage in the St. Louis area were embargoed yesterday.

G. H. Grieger Wins Award for Neatest Dairy Farm

The dairy farm of Gust H. Grieger, near Valparaiso, Ind., has been chosen by the Pure Milk association as the neatest of any owned by the association's 12,000 members. The 262 acre farm scored 99.58 per cent in the association's eighth annual contest. As a reward Mr. and Mrs. Grieger will be given a seven day winter vacation.

DEVOE & RAYNOLDS.

Does Devoe & Raynolds operate any of its own stores thru which it sells its products? While visiting in Massachusetts recently I saw several stores with this company's name. I had always thought it was engaged merely in manufacturing. How have the company's earnings responded to increased building activity?—P. V.

Answer: Devoe & Raynolds Company, Inc., New York, operates more than 50 retail stores, mainly in the east and middle west. However, most of the company's output of paints, varnishes, enamels, dry colors, paint brushes, and insecticides is sold to independent dealers.

After declining in the last fiscal year, earnings of the company made a sharp recovery in the first half of the current fiscal year. Net income in the six months ended last May 31 was $310,768, equal after preferred dividends to $1.83 a common share, compared with a net loss of $112,786 in the corresponding period a year ago.

Earnings in the last five fiscal years ended Nov. 30 follow:

	Net income.	Earned per com.	†Div'nds per com.
1936	$707,210	$4.49	$2.00
1937	809,683	4.05	3.25

1939	397,256	2.08	....
1940	249,920	1.16	.25

*Loss. †Calendar year.

Devoe & Raynolds consistently has met the regular dividend requirements on its preferred stock. On the common stock, dividends were paid steadily from 1894 thru 1916, when they were interrupted by the war, and were resumed in 1919. Payments again were omitted in 1933 and in 1939 because of poor earnings in the preceding years.

The company has outstanding $1,-800,000 in funded debt, 8,940 shares of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, and 152,540 shares of class A an B common stock of no par value.

COPPER RANGE.

What has been the copper output of the Copper Range company?—L. B.

Answer: Copper Range company, with its mine office at Painesdale, Mich., produced 18,889,160 pounds of copper in 1940, against 18,109,409 pounds in 1939, and 18,010,937 pounds in 1938. Output fell to a depression low of 12,167,130 pounds in 1933 and compared with 19,999,564 pounds in 1930.

RAILROAD WAGE TALKS OPEN IN CHICAGO TODAY

Increases Sought Placed at 900 Million a Year.

expected to be aired during the negotiations include requests from the nonoperating unions for vacations with pay and from the engineers and firemen to put more of their members on Diesel-electric locomotives.

The railroads in reply say it is not known how long the present upturn in traffic will continue, but it is practically certain that after the present emergency is over revenues again will decline. They contrast the $900,000,000 they are asked to pay with the $510,082,694 the farmers paid the railroads in 1940 for hauling 3,219,591 cars of agricultural products.

Say Rules Are Outmoded.

The railroads' notice that they intend to revise working rules is also of great importance. Railroad executives contend that many of the rules are outmoded, improvements and change in railroad practice having altered situations which existed at the time they were written many years ago.

Many of these rules make possible the so-called "feather bed rules" under which employés often are paid a full day's wage or more for work they did not perform or for trivial amounts of work.

Long Conference Expected.

The present negotiations are expected to be protracted. Should they fail, the services of the National Mediation board may be requested by either party. Should that board be unable to mediate successfully the next step would be for the President to appoint a fact finding commission whose finding would carry the weight of public opinion in enforcing it. Neither party, however, is legally required to abide by the decision of a fact finding commission.

Chicago has been the scene in the last few years of several negotiations between railroad workers and managements—the last in 1938, when the roads sought unsuccessfully to put a wage cut into effect.

JEWEL TO BUILD WAREHOUSE FOR STORE DIVISION

Jewel Tea company will build a one story warehouse at the northwest corner of Kedzie avenue and 51st street, which may cost half a million dollars, it was learned yesterday. It will be used by Jewel Food stores, a division of the company. Holabird & Root will be architects of the building.

The site comprises nine acres fronting 600 feet on 51st street, extending west to Spaulding avenue, and 635 feet on Kedzie, north to the Grand Trunk Western railroad. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Jewel operates 133 stores in Chicago and suburbs. Its general offices and plant are in Barrington. It has a warehouse and city offices at 3617 South Ashland avenue.

Mathieson Alkali to Build Large Magnesium Plant

New York, July 23 [Special].—The Mathieson Alkali Works announced today that it will build the second largest magnesium metal plant in the United States at Lake Charles, La., at a cost of $16,000,000. It is to be completed in one year. The construction will be financed with federal funds, with plans subject to approval by the Defense Plant corporation. An annual production of 15,000 to 20,000 tons of magnesium is expected.

Illinois Central Reports Profits, Against '40 Loss

The Illinois Central railroad yesterday reported June net income of $789,917, compared with a net loss of $757,204 in the 1940 month. Net income for the first six months was $5,315,323, against a net loss of $1,903,667 a year earlier.

HOGS REGAIN 10 CENTS OF RECENT DOWNTURN; CATTLE TRADE MIXED

The hog market recovered yesterday after three days of declining prices with gains of about 10 cents a hundred pounds. Smaller receipts and a steadier wholesale trade for fresh pork stimulated buying of hogs. Top loads reached $11.90, up 5 cents.

Prices for the entire day averaged $11 a hundredweight which was 10 cents above the Tuesday level.

After an early spurt to the highest levels in several months steers and yearlings lost all of the day's gains. Other classes of cattle sold steady to weak.

Reductions of 10 to 15 cents occurred in slaughter lambs.

AWARD AIRPLANE ENGINE CONTRACT OF 17 MILLIONS

The war department yesterday announced the award of a $16,945,430 airplane engine contract to the Aviation Manufacturing company, Lycoming division, at Williamsport, Pa.

Contracts totaling $62,306,517 for equipment and ordnance supplies included these Chicago awards: Guiberson Diesel Engine company, engines to cost $4,264,515. Chicago Flexible Shaft company, $573,844 for fuzes, and the Hannifin Manufacturing company, $1,885,000 for recoil mechanisms.

The government's Defense Plant corporation approved projects totaling $34,750,000 for facilities to repair naval vessels and make airplane parts. The largest was $11,606,078 for machinery and equipment for the manufacture of airplane parts at the Moran City and Vandalia, O., plants of the Areo Products division of General Motors corporation.

OPACS Boosts Allocations for Farm Machine Firms

Washington, D. C., July 23 (AP).—The Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply issued an order today increasing the quantity of materials to be made available to manufacturers of farm machinery during the next three months. It provided that deliveries should not be more than 20 per cent above the quantity of materials used in the corresponding three months of 1939 or 1940, whichever was higher.

Sale by Order of Court

Public notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a Decree of partition made and entered by the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, on July 23, 1940, in the cause entitled IDA YEDOR, plaintiff, v. CHICAGO CITY BANK AND TRUST COMPANY, a corporation, individually and as Trustee under Trust Agreement No. 1090, Arthur G. Rathje, George O. Carlson, Howard C. Kingsbery, Victor E. Yuterberg, Robert Anderson, W. W. Beymer, Charles Palmer, Frank J. Burke and A. Henry Goldstein, and "Unknown Owners of the premises" defendants, case No. 398-14116, which decree was subsequently affirmed by the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois on April 8, 1941, in case No. 25068, and in further pursuance of a Decree of Sale under Partition, made and entered by the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, in the aforementioned cause on July 16, 1941, I, JOHN F. O'TOOLE, Master in Chancery of the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, will on MONDAY, AUGUST 4, 1941, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon Daylight Saving Time (Twelve o'clock noon Central Standard Time), at the Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Cook County, Room 437 County Building, in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois, sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, for cash, all and singular the following described premises and real estate in said Decree mentioned, situated in the County of Cook and State of Illinois, to-wit:
Lots seven [7], eight [8], nine [9] and ten [10] in Block two (2) in Richardson's Subdivision of the Northeast quarter of the Northeast quarter of Section thirty-six [36], Township thirty-eight [38] North, Range fourteen [14] East of the Third Principal Meridian.
Said premises consist of a three [3] story brick building located at the southeast corner of 79th Street and Crandon Avenue. The building is approximately fourteen [14] years old and in excellent physical condition both in its interior and exterior. The premises contain five [5] stores and thirty-three [33] apartments [6 ea. 2s 3½s and 4 2½s], on a lot 108.38x125 feet. The present income is $19,344.00 per year. 1940 taxes, $2,835.12.
Commissioners appointed by the Superior Court of Cook County have conservatively appraised this property at $90,617.00, and have so reported to the Court. Said premises will be sold, as aforesaid, provided there is a bid of at least two-thirds (⅔) of the valuation put upon the same, as shown by the said Report of the Commissioners heretofore appointed by the Court to make partition thereof. At least ten per cent (10%) of the sale price shall be paid in cash, certified or cashier's check at the sale, and the balance within thirty (30) days from the date of the approval of the sale.
Dated at Chicago, Illinois

An unprecedented demand for new and late model used cars has brought into our stock an unusually fine selection of cars in the lower priced brackets. These, under normal conditions, would have been driven for several years by their former owners but fear of the possibilities of the Defense Program has caused them to trade sooner. It's your opportunity. There are many others besides those listed.
